Bates,2000   Managing Technology Change A.W. Bates,2000   Academic Units in a Complex, Changing World Deanna de Zilwa,2010-09-17 As clocks struck midnight on the 31st December 2009 announcing the dawn of a new decade amidst the jubilation of a new beginning we paused momentarily to re ect on the decade that had just past It was a dif cult era for many people and organisations Many were affected by war terrorism famine re and tsunamis First world citizens enjoyed opportunities to relax in a technologically driven n vana People on streets trains and planes from London Tokyo to New York sported the white ear buds of iPhones as de rigueur adornments The pace and intensity of our lives now seems to run at warp speed we rush from appointment to appoi ment swigging vitamin enhanced mineral water obsessing about uctuations in our body mass index and the Dow Jones index in equal measure Yet as individuals we can choose to accept or reject some of these changes Those with suf cient ma rial resources can cocoon themselves in high security fortress homes or relocate to safer more tranquil environs or even redesign themselves with the aid of Botox and a skilled plastic surgeon Yet some organisations do not have the luxury of volition they cannot choose whether to accept or reject the affects of environmental changes A type of organisation that has found itself situated in environments that are increasingly complex and turbulent are academic units departments schools and faculties in many publicly funded universities around the globe   Educational Media and Technology Yearbook 2006 Robert Maribe Branch,Michael Orey,V. J. McClendon,2006-03-30 The 2006 volume of the 31 year old Educational Media and Technology Yearbook series continues the legacy of its predecessors It highlights the major trends of the previous year noting both renewed interest in multicultural perspectives and the ever growing interest in online learning It discusses advances in the school and library media worlds which continue to reel from budget cuts and hiring freezes It profiles two outstanding individuals Michael Molenda Associate Professor Instructional Systems Technology Indiana University Bloomington and Ron Oliver Foundation Professor of Interactive Multimedia Edith Cowan University Perth Western Australia It also identifies instructional technology related organizations and graduate programs in North America The book concludes with a mediagraphy of journals books ERIC documents journal articles and nonprint resources As a repository of so much valuable data and information it is quite simply a volume no self respecting media and technology professional should be without
