Modern City Nelson P. Lewis, 2004-11 The Modern City and Its Government William Parr Capes, 1922 The Planning of the Modern City Nelson Peter Lewis, 1916 Towards a Competitive, Sustainable Modern City Peter K. Kresl, 2020-11-27

This original book examines the experiences cities and urban areas have had with two principal concerns that confront them today sustainability and competitiveness Featuring a wide ranging set of contributions from top researchers this book discusses and analyzes the issues that different cities face such as social cohesion tolerance and cultural diversity and how this will determine their developmental trajectories through the coming decade Towards a Competitive Sustainable Modern City will be an invaluable read for scholars and professors in urban economics and urban studies more broadly particularly those who are focusing on the importance of sustainability in both areas Municipal Services and Employees in the Modern City Michèle Dagenais, Irene Maver, 2016-04-15 Municipal Services and Employees in the Modern City considers the roles played by local institutions and particular processes that shaped the urban fabric It rediscovers from models and maps the constituent dynamics of cities since the beginning of the nineteenth century and demonstrates how patterns evolved in the way services and locations were organized how urban transformation was underpinned by structural development and how the municipal workforce became an integral part of the agencies of change Municipal Services and Employees in the Modern City suggests that municipal experiences are central to the development of urban studies Its focus of analysis ranges across Europe and the Americas from high ranking bureaucrats to firefighters engineers to accountants and town clerks to public servants Each essay provides detailed information on how change was formulated or resisted within the administrative apparatus offering insight into a sector of the white collar class and the degree of commitment to public values often at times of social and political upheaval They explore the course of relationships between local and central government and the shifting bounds of municipal interventionism over a broad period whilst incorporating a social history approach to interpret the day to day responsibilities and routine of administration Future Challenges in Evaluating and Managing Sustainable Development in the Built Environment Peter S. Brandon, Patrizia Lombardi, Geoffrey Q. Shen, 2017-04-05 Future Challenges in Sustainable Development within the Built Environment stimulates and reinterprets the demands of Responsible and Sustainable Development in the Built Environment for future action and development It examines the methods of evaluation the use of technology the creation of new models and the role of human factors for examining and developing the subject over the next twenty years Managing Inequality Karen R. Miller, 2017 In Managing Inequality Karen R Miller examines the formulation uses and growing political importance of northern racial liberalism in Detroit between the two World Wars In the wake of the Civil War many white northern leaders supported race neutral laws and anti discrimination statutes These positions helped amplify the distinctions they drew between their political economic system which they saw as forward thinking in its promotion of free market capitalism and the now vanquished southern system which had been built on slavery But this interest in legal race neutrality should not be mistaken for an effort to integrate northern African Americans into the state or society on an equal footing with whites During the Great Migration which brought tens of thousands of African Americans into Northern cities after World War I white northern leaders faced new challenges from both white and African American activists and were pushed to manage race relations in a more formalized and proactive manner The result was northern racial liberalism the idea that all Americans regardless of race should be politically equal but that the state cannot and indeed should not enforce racial equality by interfering with existing social or economic relations Miller argues that racial inequality was built into the liberal state at its inception rather than produced by antagonists of liberalism Managing Inequality shows that our current racial system where race neutral language coincides with extreme racial inequalities that appear natural rather than political has a history that is deeply embedded in contemporary governmental systems and political economies Home Journal ,1904 The Modern City and Its Problems Frederic C. Exploring the Archaeology of the Modern City in Nineteenth-century Australia Tim Murray, Penny Crook, 2019-11-05 This book presents research into the urban archaeology of 19th century Australia It focuses on the detailed archaeology of 20 cesspits in The Rocks area of Sydney and the Commonwealth Block site in Melbourne It also includes discussions of a significant site in Sydney First Government House The book is anchored around a detailed comparison of contents of 20 cesspits created during the 19th century and examines patterns of similarity and dissimilarity presenting analyses that work towards an integration of historical and archaeological data and perspectives The book also outlines a transnational framework of comparison that assists in the larger context related to building a truly global archaeology of the modern city This framework is directly related a multi scalar approach to urban archaeology Historical archaeologists have been advocating the need to explore the archaeology of the modern city using several different scales or frames of reference The most popular and most basic of these has been the household However it has also been acknowledged that interpreting the archaeology of households beyond the notion that every household and associated archaeological assemblage is unique requires archaeologists and historians to compare and contrast and to establish patterns These comparisons frequently occur at the level of the area or district in the same city where archaeologists seek to derive patterns that might be explained as being the result of status class ethnicity or ideology Other less frequent comparisons occur at larger scales for example between cities or countries acknowledging that the archaeology of the modern western city is also the archaeology of modern global forces of production consumption trade immigration and ideology formation This book makes a contribution to that general literature
