Managing Financial Resources

Pasquale De Marco

Managing Financial Resources:

Managing Financial Resources Michael Broadbent, John M. Cullen, 2014-05-15 Managing Financial Resources aims to explain the principles involved in the management of financial resources. It aims to provide practicing non financial managers with an understanding of the terms and techniques of accountancy so they may communicate more easily with and understand financial reports issued by their more accounting aware colleagues. The book concentrates on one type of financial information management accountancy but draws together concepts from systems analysis, organizational behavior, marketing and other distinct disciplines to reflect the rich variety which is involved in the management of any limited resource within large organizations. Key topics discussed include published accounting statements, management decision making, planning and control, short and long term decision making in organizations, pricing decisions and performance measurement and transfer pricing issues within divisionalized organizations. Each chapter includes problems and discussion topics ranging from open ended case studies to problems with particular numerical answers. Suggested answers are offered at the back of the book. Finance & Financial Management Andreas Keller, 2011-09 Seminar paper from the year 2003 in the subject Economics Finance grade 1.2 University of Strathclyde language English abstract Managing Financial Resources

Financial Resources Harold G. Thomas, 2001 What principles should be adopted when allocating financial resources within higher education institutions? How do internal and external factors influence resource allocation systems and what impact do these systems have on institutional and individual behaviour? How best should expenditure be monitored in universities and colleges? This book provides a practical guide from both departmental and central perspectives to the management of financial resources in institutions of higher education. Following a review of the impact of a changing external environment a three stage approach to the allocation of resources is outlined namely understanding sources of income, application of strategic considerations and distribution to departments and faculties. Concepts of devolution and formula based systems of allocation are considered in the context of the culture and structure of institutions their impact on staff and the way in which institutional and individual behaviour patterns are affected A concluding chapter summarizes themes relating to the management of change and highlights managerial implications
