Surviving at work: Recruiting, managing staff, Managing customers, Managing suppliers, Managing your Chinese partner, Dealing with infrastructure and the political system, Managing your boss. 2. Surviving at home: Finding somewhere to live, Getting settled quickly, Domestic comfort, Health, Family concerns, Using local services. 3. Surviving socially: Making friends, Exploring your locality, Understanding Chinese culture. Basically a manual of advice, hints and tips for expatriates based on other people's practical experience. An Executive Survival Guide will complement the technical information in the Business Guides series. Building on the strengths of the previous editions, the book provides a guide to market entry, managing operations and marketing in this unique social and cultural environment by including factors that lead to business success, 14 new or revised case studies including windfarms, fine wines and new consultancy businesses. Discussion of marketing issues notably products, pricing, distribution, advertising and promotion. Dos and don'ts when choosing business partners and negotiating. Guides to further resources in local cultures to help businesses tailor their strategies to local conditions. Offering a fresh look at the evolving marketplaces and their interactions.
