

How do you go about implementing risk management in your non-profit?

01

Assess your risks. The first step is to identify which areas of your operation pose the most significant risks. Next, you'll need to gather data from various sources, including your staff, clients, and vendors.

03

Implement risk management controls. Once you have a plan, it's time to implement it. This will involve implementing various controls to mitigate risks. Some standard risk management controls include insurance, security measures, training programs, and policies and procedures.

02

Create a risk management plan. Once you've identified the most significant risk areas, you can develop a plan to address them. A risk management plan should incorporate short- and long-term mitigation measures.

04

Monitor and adjust. Risk management is an ongoing process. As such, you monitor your risks regularly, and changing your plan as needed is essential.
