Mandate In Moroland The American Government Of Muslim Filipinos 18991920:

The War of 1898 and U.S. Interventions, 1898-1934 Benjamin R. Beede, 1994-05-01 A fascinating encyclopedic survey of the Spanish Cuban American War the Philippine War and the small wars between 1899 and the end of the occupation of Haiti in 1934 The name changes themselves are instructive The usage of Spanish American War ignores the fact that the war in Cuba had been la In Asian Waters Eric Tagliacozzo, 2024-10-29 A sweeping account of how the sea routes of Asia have transformed a vast expanse of the globe over the past five hundred years powerfully shaping the modern world In the centuries leading up to our own the volume of traffic across Asian sea routes an area stretching from East Africa and the Middle East to Japan grew dramatically eventually making them the busiest in the world The result was a massive circulation of people commodities religion culture technology and ideas In this book Eric Tagliacozzo chronicles how the seas and oceans of Asia have shaped the history of the largest continent for the past half millennium leaving an indelible mark on the modern world in the process Paying special attention to migration trade the environment and cities In Asian Waters examines the long history of contact between China and East Africa the spread of Hinduism and Buddhism across the Bay of Bengal and the intertwined histories of Islam and Christianity in the Philippines The book illustrates how India became central to the spice trade how the Indian Ocean became a British lake between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries and how lighthouses and sea mapping played important roles in imperialism The volume ends by asking what may happen if China comes to rule the waves of Asia as Britain once did A novel account showing how Asian history can be seen as a whole when seen from the water In Asian Waters presents a voyage into a past that is still alive in the present Prairie Imperialists Katharine Bjork, 2019-01-11 The Spanish American War marked the emergence of the United States as an imperial power It was when the United States first landed troops overseas and established governments of occupation in the Philippines Cuba and other formerly Spanish colonies But such actions to extend U S sovereignty abroad argues Katharine Bjork had a precedent in earlier relations with Native nations at home In Prairie Imperialists Bjork traces the arc of American expansion by showing how the Army s conquests of what its soldiers called Indian Country generated a repertoire of actions and understandings that structured encounters with the racial others of America s new island territories following the War of 1898 Prairie Imperialists follows the colonial careers of three Army officers from the domestic frontier to overseas posts in Cuba and the Philippines The men profiled Hugh Lenox Scott Robert Lee Bullard and John J Pershing internalized ways of behaving in Indian Country that shaped their approach to later colonial appointments abroad Scott s ethnographic knowledge and experience with Native Americans were valorized as an asset for colonial service Bullard and Pershing who had commanded African American troops were regarded as particularly suited for roles in the pacification and administration of colonial peoples overseas After returning to the mainland these three men played prominent roles in the Punitive Expedition President Woodrow Wilson sent across the southern border in 1916 during which Mexico figured as the next iteration of Indian Country With rich biographical detail and ambitious historical scope Prairie Imperialists makes fundamental connections between American colonialism and the racial dimensions of domestic political and social life during peacetime and while at war Ultimately Bjork contends the concept of Indian Country has served as the guiding force of American imperial expansion and nation building for the past two and a half centuries and endures to this day Popular Movements and Democratization in the Islamic World Masatoshi Kisaichi, 2007-01-24 Ever since the terrorist incident of September 11th a general understanding seems to have arisen among people that the challenges posed by Islam have now acquired human and global dimensions Popular Movements and Democratization in the Islamic World contains case studies of people's movements in diverse areas and periods and it seeks to develop a comparative view of Islam and democracy that goes beyond the usual stereotype of Islam being incompatible with democracy Unravelling the complexities that have arisen between Islam and democracy is the principal task of Islamic scholars and this book will undoubtedly prove a starting point for all such endeavours While primarily intended for students and scholars this timely and important text will prove of interest even to general readers with interests in Islamic studies Pacific Passage Warren I. Cohen, 1996 A study of relations between America and East Asia on the eve of the twenty first century Nationalist Passions Stuart J. Kaufman, 2015-11-06 Nationalist and ethnic conflict can take many forms from genocidal violence and civil war to protest movements and peaceful squabbles in democracies Nationalist Passions poses a stark challenge to extreme rationalist understandings of political conflict Stuart J Kaufman elaborates a compelling theory of ethnic politics to explain why ethnic violence erupts in some contexts and how peace is maintained in others At the core of Kaufman's theory is an assertion that conflicts are initiated due to popular symbolic predispositions biases of all kinds and perceptions of threat Kaufman puts his theory to the test in a range of conflicts He examines some highly violent episodes among them the Muslim rebellion in the southern Philippines beginning in the 1970s the civil war in southern Sudan that began in the 1980s and the Rwanda genocide of 1994 Kaufman also analyzes other situations in which leaders attempted to tame the violence that nationalist passions can generate In India Mahatma Gandhi mobilized an overtly nonviolent movement but failed in his efforts to prevent the rise of Muslim Hindu communal violence In South Africa Nelson Mandela and F W de Klerk ended apartheid but not without terrible cost more than fifteen thousand people died while the negotiations were under way In Tanzania however Julius Nyerere led one of the few ethnically diverse countries in the world with almost no ethnic violence Nationalist Passions is essential reading for policymakers international aid workers and all others who seek to find the best possible outcomes for future internal and interstate clashes Philippine-American Military History, 1902-1942 Richard B. Meixsel, 2015-10-02 Military obligations rested lightly upon the Filipino people for much of the period that America occupied the Philippines but Filipinos could enlist in the United States Army and Navy attend the service academies at West Point and Annapolis or join military organizations restricted to duty in the islands such as the Philippine Scouts Philippine Constabulary Philippine National Guard and the navy's insular force In the 1930s the Philippine government established its own armed forces Throughout much of this time the U S army also kept a substantial portion of its troop strength in the Philippines This annotated bibliography of nearly 700 titles highlights the extent and variety of the Philippine American military experience from the conquest of the islands by the United States in 1902 to the defeat of Philippine and American forces by the Japanese in 1942 The bibliography includes memoirs and biographies of Filipino and American officers and enlisted men from MacArthur to Ferdinand Marcos unit histories army post and navy base histories medals and insignia books and the most extensive list of prisoner of war memoirs yet published Annotations address controversies such as the widely disparate estimates of American deaths on the Bataan Death March and include previously unpublished information such as casualty figures for American and Philippine forces in 1941 1942 Guardians of Empire David Killingray, 2017-03-01 For imperialists the concept of guardian is specifically to the armed forces that kept watch on the frontiers and in the heartlands of imperial territories Large parts of Asia and Africa and the islands of the Pacific and the Caribbean were imperial possessions This book discusses how military requirements and North Indian military culture shaped the cantonments and considers the problems posed by venereal diseases and alcohol and the sanitary strategies pursued to combat them The trans border Pathan tribes remained an insistent problem in Indian defence between 1849 and 1947 The book examines the process by which the Dutch elite recruited military allies and the contribution of Indonesian soldiers to the actual fighting The idea of naval guardianship as expressed in the campaign against the South Pacific labour trade is examined The book reveals the extent of military influence of the Schutztruppen on the political developments in the German protectorates in German South West Africa and German East Africa The U S Army charged with defending the Pacific possessions of the Philippines and Hawaii encountered a predicament similar to that of the mythological Cerberus The regimentation of military families linked access to women with reliable service and enabled the King's African Rifles to inspire a high level of discipline in its African soldiers askaris The book explains the political and military pressures which drove successive French governments to widen the scope of French military operations in Algeria between 1954 and 1958 It also explores gender issues and African colonial armies Making Modern Muslims Robert W. Hefner, 2008-10-01 When students from a Muslim boarding school were convicted for the 2002 terrorist bombings in Bali Islamic schools in Southeast Asia became the focus of intense international scrutiny Some analysts have warned that these schools are being turned into platforms for violent jihadism Making Modern Muslims is the first book to look comparatively at Islamic education and politics in Southeast Asia Based on a two year research project by leading scholars of Southeast Asian Islam the book examines Islamic schooling in Malaysia Indonesia Thailand Cambodia and the southern Philippines The studies demonstrate that the great majority of schools have nothing to do with violence but are undergoing changes that have far reaching implications for democracy gender relations pluralism and citizenship Making Modern Muslims offers an important reassessment of Muslim culture and politics in Southeast Asia and provides insights into the changing nature of state society relations from the late colonial period to the present. It allows us to better appreciate the astonishing dynamism of Islamization in Southeast Asia and the struggle for Muslim hearts and minds taking place today. Timely and readable, this volume will be of great interest to teachers and specialists of Islam and Southeast Asia as well as the general reader seeking to understand the great transformations at work in the Muslim world. McKenna. Philippine Security in the Age of Terror, Rommel Banlaoi, 2009-10-13. As the twelfth most populous nation, the Philippines' diverse religious and ethnic population makes it an ideal example of the changing tenet of what is deemed national security post 9/11. Issues previously considered social or public are now viewed as security issues. Food production is now analyzed in the context of food security and environmental. Islam, Law and the State in the Philippines, Tim Lindsey, Kerstin Steiner, 2025-05-06. This book investigates the development of Islam in the Philippines from a legal perspective, investigating Islam through the lens of the institutions of Islamic law. Drawing on original fieldwork including in Mindanao, this comprehensive book covers a wide range of topics including Islamic leadership and authority, mufti, darul ifta and fatawa, Islamic judges and dispute resolution in Islamic courts and alternative forms of dispute resolution, legislative codification of Islamic law, especially in private law, marriage and divorce, Islamic banking and finance, and madrasahs and Islamic education. The book also offers a comprehensive, detailed and timely socio-legal analysis of controversies relating to Islam and the long-running conflict in the Southern Philippines as Moro communities struggle with the challenges of transition to the long-awaited Bangsamoro Autonomous Region of Muslim Mindanao. This is contextualised against the wider history and politics of the southern Philippines from pre-colonial times to 2024. The authors offer a detailed and nuanced analysis based on primary documents as well as an account of the existing literature in the field. The book greatly enhances understandings of the social, political and historical context of current developments in Islam in the Philippines. It will be of interest to researchers studying Islam and the administration of Islamic law, Malay Muslim communities in Southeast Asia and the history and politics of the Philippines. Ethnic Boundary-Making at the Margins of Conflict in The Philippines, Anabelle Ragsag, 2020-01-03. This book makes a significant interdisciplinary contribution to existing scholarship on ethnicity, conflict, nation-making, colonial history and religious minorities in the Philippines, which has been confronted with innumerable issues relating to their ethnic and religious minority populations. Using Sarangani Bay as a research site, the book zooms in on the lives of the Muslim Sinamas and the Christianized indigenous B'laans as they navigate the effects of the ongoing turmoil in the Bangsamoro region in Muslim Mindanao, a multi-faceted conflict involving numerous armed groups as well as clans, criminal gangs and political elites. This work considers the factors affecting the Muslim Moro people who have long been struggling for their right to self-determination. The conflict in the Moro areas has evolved over the past five decades from an ethnonationalist struggle between an aggrieved minority and a thorny issue for the central government a highly fragmented conflict with multiple overlapping causes of violence The book provides a framework for understanding the ethnic separatism in the case of the southern part of the country framed by the concept of ethnic boundaries Providing an excellent blend of theory and empirical evidence the author confronts how ethno religious divisions adversely impact the quality of life and unpacks how these divisions challenge multiculturalist policies Weaving together multiple branches of the social sciences this book is of interest to policymakers researchers and students interested in international relations and political science Asian studies ethnic studies Philippines history sociology and anthropology

American and Muslim Worlds before 1900 John Ghazvinian, Arthur Mitchell Fraas, 2020-02-06 American and Muslim Worlds before 1900 challenges the prevailing assumption that when we talk about American and Muslim worlds we are talking about two conflicting entities that came into contact with each other in the 20th century Instead this book shows there is a long and deep seam of history between the two which provides an important context for contemporary events and is also important in its own right Some of the earliest American Muslims were the African slaves working in the plantations of the Carolinas and Latin America Thomas Jefferson a slaveholder himself was frequently called an infidel and suspected of hidden Muslim sympathies by his opponents Whether it was the sale of American commodities in Central Asia Ottoman consuls in Washington orientalist themes in American fiction the uprisings of enslaved Muslims in Brazil or the travels of American missionaries in the Middle East there was no shortage of opportunities for Muslims and inhabitants of the Americas to meet interact and shape one another from an early period Human Insecurities in Southeast Asia Paul J.

Carnegie, Victor T. King, Zawawi Ibrahim, 2016-08-30 This book is a collection of work by scholars currently pursuing research on human security and insecurities in Southeast Asia It deals with a set of insecurities that is not readily understood or measurable As such it conceptually locates the threats and impediments to human security within relationships of risk uncertainty safety and trust At the same time it presents a wide variety of investigations and approaches from both localized and regional perspectives By focusing on the human and relational dimensions of insecurities in Southeast Asia it highlights the ways in which vulnerable and precarious circumstances human insecurities are part of daily life for large numbers of people in Southeast Asia and are mainly beyond their immediate control Many of the situations people experience in Southeast Asia represent the real outcomes of a range of largely unacknowledged socio cultural economic transformations interlinked by local national regional and global forces factors and interests Woven from experience and observations of life at various sites in Southeast Asia the contributions in this volume give an internal and critical perspective to a complex and manifold issue They draw attention to a variety of the less than obvious threats to human security and show how perplexing those threats can be All of which underscores the significance of multidisciplinary approaches in rethinking and responding to the complex array of conditioning factors and interests underlying human insecurities in Southeast Asia External Research List, 1968 Asia, East Asia United States Department of State.
