The Manhattan Transcripts Bernard Tschumi, 1981 Through a set of theoretical drawings developed between 1976 and 1981 Bernard Tschumi argues that the disjunction between spaces and their use objects and events being and meaning is no accident today But when this disjunction becomes an architectural confrontation a new relation of pleasure and violence inevitably occurs They found the Transcripts by accident a lifetime s worth of urban pleasures pleasures that they had no intention of giving up So when she threatened to run and tell the authorities they had no alternative but to stop her And that s when the second accident occurred the accident of murder They had to get out of the Park quick And the only thing which could help them was Architecture beautiful trusting Architecture that they had used before but never so cruelly or so selfishly The Manhattan transcripts Bernard Tschumi, 1994 The Manhattan Transcripts Bernard

Tschumi, 1994-04-29 Through a set of theoretical drawings developed between 1976 and 1981 Bernard Tschumi argues that the disjunction between spaces and their use objects and events being and meaning is no accident today But when this disjunction becomes an architectural confrontation a new relation of pleasure and violence inevitably occurs They found the Transcripts by accident a lifetime s worth of urban pleasures pleasures that they had no intention of giving up So when she threatened to run and tell the authorities they had no alternative but to stop her And that s when the second accident occurred the accident of murder They had to get out of the Park quick And the only thing which could help them was Architecture beautiful trusting Architecture that they had used before but never so cruelly or so selfishly Design and Analysis Bernard Leupen, 1997 A Musicology for Landscape David Nicholas Buck, 2017-05-12 Drawing conceptually and directly on music notation this book investigates landscape architecture s inherent temporality It argues that the rich history of notating time in music provides a critical model for this under researched and under theorised aspect of landscape architecture while also ennobling sound in the sensory appreciation of landscape A Musicology for Landscape makes available to a wider landscape architecture and urban design audience the works of three influential composers Morton Feldman Gy rgy Ligeti and Michael Finnissy presenting a critical evaluation of their work within music as well as a means in which it might be used in design research Each of the musical scores is juxtaposed with design representations by Kevin Appleyard Bernard Tschumi and William Kent before the author examines four landscape spaces through the development of new landscape architectural notations In doing so this work offers valuable insights into the methods used by landscape architects for the benefit of musicians and by bringing together musical composition and landscape architecture through notation it affords a focused and sensitive exploration of temporality and sound in both fields Theoretical Meltdown Luigi Prestinenza Puglisi, 2009-02-17 If the 20th century can be characterised by theories and manifestoes which emanated across every sphere of life from politics to the fine arts the beginning of the 21st century can be distinguished by its very break from theory This effective theoretical meltdown has manifested itself in a period of uncertainty which can be perceived in the way

disciplines coalesce with each other and blur their parameters fine art becoming indistinct from advertising imagery architecture incorporating communication techniques and sculpture dealing with living spaces while architecture reshapes fragments of the natural environment The issue topically calls the contemporary situation in architecture to account Features writings by and interviews with some of the most remarkable protagonists of the debate Ole Bouman Ricardo Diller Elizabeth Scofidio Neil Leach Bernard Tschumi and Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown Acts as a barometer to architectural design inviting 10 international critics to highlight the most relevant current work Rem Koolhaas as Scriptwriter Helena Huber-Doudová, 2023-10-30 This book is the first survey of a new field in architecture theory script writing Rem Koolhaas as Scriptwriter explores the intersection of architecture film and text using the example of the working method of scriptwriter Rem Koolhaas and the Office for Metropolitan Architecture OMA This book argues that Koolhaas formulates his approach to architecture on the basis of the written sketch or script and questions its transformations into built environment in the oeuvre of OMA Divided into two parts the first part is a theoretical outline that explores the notion of scriptwriting in film It provides in depth insights into the definition and historical evolution of the script as a blueprint Hollywood script avant garde script storyboard the relation to auteur theory and the difference between the script and scenario It surveys the first original script for the Exodus of the Voluntary Prisoners of Architecture The second part offers a unique perspective on the urban development of West Berlin in which Koolhaas created a metropolitan script or blueprint that spans the period 1971 1989 from his first visit to Berlin to the fall of the Berlin Wall This book will be of interest to researchers and students of architectural theory urban history and film studies The Last Fortress of Metaphysics Francesco Vitale, 2018-02-01 Examines the relationship of Derrida's writings on architecture to his methodology of deconstruction and to deconstructivism in architecture Between 1984 and 1994 Jacques Derrida wrote and spoke a great deal about architecture both in his academic work and in connection with a number of particular building projects around the world He engaged significantly with the work of architects such as Bernard Tschumi Peter Eisenman and Daniel Libeskind Derrida conceived of architecture as an example of the kind of multidimensional writing that he had theorized in Of Grammatology identifying a rich common ground between architecture and philosophy in relation to ideas about political community and the concept of dwelling In this book Francesco Vitale analyzes Derrida's writings and demonstrates how Derrida's work on this topic provides a richer understanding of his approach to deconstruction highlighting the connections and differences between philosophical deconstruction and architectural deconstructivism Although there has been some discussion of the intersection of deconstruction and architecture in the past mostly among architects and architectural critics Vitale's work is distinguished by the fact that it is written by a true philosopher who has a much more acute sense than has usually been the case of the philosophical underpinnings of Derrida's exchanges with Tschumi Eisenman and others Vitale is throughout concise precise insightful and often brilliant Geoffrey Bennington author of Interrupting Derrida Architectural Drawings as Investigating Devices Marianna Charitonidou, 2023-07-10 Architectural Drawings as Investigating Devices explores how the changing modes of representation in architecture and urbanism relate to the transformation of how the addressees of architecture and urbanism are conceived. The book diagnoses the dominant epistemological debates in architecture and urbanism during the 20th and 21st centuries. It traces their transformations paying special attention to Le Corbusier and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe's preference for perspective representation to the diagrams of Team 10 architects to the critiques of functionalism and the upgrade of the artefactual value of architectural drawings in Aldo Rossi, John Hejduk, Peter Eisenman and Oswald Mathias Ungers and finally to the reinvention of architectural programme through the event in Bernard Tschumi and the Office for Metropolitan Architecture (OMA). Particular emphasis is placed on the spirit of truth and clarity in modernist architecture, the relationship between the individual and the community in post-war era architecture, the decodification of design process as syntactic analogy and the paradigm of autonomy in the 1970s and 1980s architecture, the concern about the dynamic character of urban conditions and the potentialities hidden in architectural programme in the post-autonomy era. This book is based on extensive archival research in Canada, the USA and Europe and will be of interest to architects, artists, researchers and students in architecture, architectural history, theory, cultural theory, philosophy and aesthetics.

Urban Design Ecologies Brian McGrath, 2013-01-14 The discipline of urban design is undergoing a rapid expansion and realignment. It is experiencing a shift from a profession dominated by architects and planners directed at urban development to a more expansive set of practices engaging new forms of social and environmental ecologies as cities worldwide adapt to economic restructuring, mass migrations and climate change. Bringing together classic and new texts from the last 40 years, this AD Reader focuses attention on the critical tools needed to understand how cities have been designed and constructed and then changed over time. This enables new ways of envisioning how cities must be conceived and adapted in the future to the dual conditions of rapid urbanisation and economic restructuring coupled with unpredictable environmental conditions due to climate change. With its emphasis on both urban design and the ecological, this book brings together key articles that point the way forward for reconciling the often conflicting concerns of urbanism and environmentalism. Twenty-three texts are organised into four distinct sections covering metropolitan architecture, the sprawling megalopolis, the megacity and the recently emerging metacity. These are broadly chronological and highlight the recent thinking behind some of the key urban developments ranging from the art of traditional city making covered by European architects and historians in the late 20th century to contemporary Tokyo described by Atelier Bow Wow. Features original texts from Reyner Banham, Rem Koolhaas, Aldo Rossi, Colin Rowe, David Grahame Shane, Bernard Tschumi, Oswald Mathias Ungers and Robert Venturi. Denise Scott Brown and Steven Izenour. Contains newly commissioned texts from Mary Cadenasso, Sharon Haar and Victoria Marshall. Carlos Leite Steward, TA Pickett and Albert Pope. Includes new translations of important essays by Vittorio Gregotti and Paola Vigan. Topics range from the European historic city to the Las Vegas Strip and the megacity of São Paulo, taking in the global sustainable city Barry Le Va Michael Maizels, 2015-10-01 Of the conceptual artists who began their careers in the 1960s and 1970s Bruce Nauman Chris Burden Vito Acconci and Mel Bochner among them Barry Le Va may be the most elusive As this first study of his work reveals his rigorously planned art was instigated to mask its creator's intentions and methods presenting itself as an aftermath of modernism's claim to permanency and civil society's preferred mode of monumentalism For Michael Maizels Le Va's work constitutes a particularly productive subject of inquiry because it clearly articulates the interconnection between the avant garde's distrust of autonomous art objects two decades of social unrest the emergence of information theory and lingering notions of scientific objectivity Barry Le Va The Aesthetic Aftermath explores how Le Va used such materials as shattered glass spent bullets sound recordings scattered flour and meat cleavers embedded in a floor to challenge the interlocking assumptions behind blind faith in lasting beauty just government and perfectible knowledge Taking inspiration from popular crime novels as well as contemporary art theory Le Va charged his viewers to attempt like detectives at a crime scene to decipher an order underlying the apparent chaos Le Va's installations were designed to erode not simply the presumed autonomy of the art object but also the economic and political authority of the art establishment In his concluding chapter Maizels looks at the more fixed work of the past two decades in which Le Va turned to architectural themes and cast concrete to probe the limits of dynamism and the idea of permanence Montage and the Metropolis

Martino Stierli, 2018-01-01 Montage has been hailed as one of the key structural principles of modernity yet its importance to the history of modern thought about cities and their architecture has never been adequately explored In this groundbreaking new work Martino Stierli charts the history of montage in late 19th century urban and architectural contexts its application by the early 20th century avant gardes and its eventual appropriation in the postmodern period With chapters focusing on photomontage the film theories of Sergei Eisenstein Mies van der Rohe's spatial experiments and Rem Koolhaas's use of literary montage in his seminal manifesto Delirious New York 1978 Stierli demonstrates the centrality of montage in modern explorations of space and in conceiving and representing the contemporary city Beautifully illustrated this interdisciplinary book looks at architecture photography film literature and visual culture featuring works by artists and architects including Mies Koolhaas Paul Citroen George Grosz Hannah Höch El Lissitzky and Le Corbusier Anti-architecture and

Deconstruction Nikos Angelos Salingaros, 2004 The Emperor Has No Clothes is an old adage but in the sad case of Deconstructivism it is absolutely appropriate as Deconstructivism is really nothing more than Modernism in a new guise Modernists notably the Bauhausler aimed for the clean slate jettisoning everything that went before Yet at times they claimed links with antecedents to give a spurious historical ancestry to their aims and creations These questionable links and precedents are now being claimed for the works of Deconstructivists by sympathetic architects and their supporters

Visioning Technologies Graham Cairns, 2016-12-08 Visioning Technologies brings together a collection of texts from leading theorists to examine how architecture has been and is reframed and restructured by the visual and theoretical frameworks introduced by different technologies of sight understood to include orthographic projection perspective drawing telescopic devices photography film and computer visualization amongst others Each chapter deals with its own area and historical period of expertise organized sequentially to mark out and analyse the historical evolution of how architecture has been transformed by technologically induced shifts in human perception from the 15th century until today This book underlines the way in which architectural forms and design processes have developed historically in conjunction with the systems of sight we manufacture technologically and suggests this continues today Paradoxically it is premised on the argument that these technological systems tend in their initial formulations to obtain ever greater realism in our visualizations of the physical world

Future Cities Nick Dunn, Paul Cureton, 2020-12-10 What might our cities look like in ten twenty or fifty years How may future cities face global challenges Imagining the city of the future has long been an inspiration for many architects artists and designers This book examines how cities of the future have been visualised what these projects sought to communicate and what the implications may be for us now It provides a visual history of the future and explores the relationships between different visualisation techniques and ideologies for cities Thinking about what futures are who they are for why they are desirable and how and when they are to be brought into being is central to this book Through visualisation we are able to experiment in ways that would be impractical and potentially hazardous in the real world and this book therefore aims to contribute toward a better understanding of the power and agency of visualisations for future cities In this lavishly illustrated text the authors apply several critical lenses to consider the subject in different ways technological futures social futures and global futures providing a comprehensive survey and analysis of visions for future cities and engaging creatively with how we perceive tomorrow's world and future studies more widely

Deconstruction Jonathan D. Culler, 2003 It could be argued that deconstruction has to a considerable extent been formed by critical accounts of it This collection reprints a cross section of these important works charting the ways in which deconstruction is conceptualized and demonstrating the impact it has had on a wide range of traditions The essential pieces in this set include writings by Jacques Derrida Jonathan Culler Paul de Man Barbara Johnson and a wide range of key thinkers in areas as diverse as psychoanalysis law gender studies and architecture The major themes covered include Vol 1 Part I What is Deconstruction Part II Philosophy Vol 2 Part III Literary Criticism Part IV Feminism and Queer Theory Vol 3 Part V Psychoanalysis Part VI Religion Theology Part VII Architecture Vol 4 Part VIII Politics Part IX Ethics

Architecture's Desire K. Michael Hays, 2009-10-02 Theorizes an architectural ethos of extreme self reflection and finality from a Lacanian perspective While it is widely recognized that the advanced architecture of the 1970s left a legacy of experimentation and theoretical speculation as intense as any in architecture's history there has been no general theory of that ethos Now in Architecture's Desire K Michael Hays writes an account of the late avant garde as an architecture systematically twisting back on itself pondering its own historical status and deliberately exploring architecture's representational possibilities right up to their absolute limits In close readings of the brooding melancholy silence of Aldo Rossi the radically reductive decompositions and archaeologies of Peter Eisenman the carnivalesque excesses of John Hejduk and the cinegrammatic delirium of Bernard Tschumi Hays narrates the story of architecture confronting its own boundaries with objects of ever more reflexivity difficulty and intransigence The late avant garde is the last architecture with philosophical aspirations an architecture that could think philosophical problems through architecture rather than merely illustrate them It takes architecture as the object of its own reflection which in turn produces an unrelenting desire Using the tools of critical theory together with the structure of Lacan's triad imaginary symbolic real Hays constructs a theory of architectural desire that is historically specific and yet sets the terms and the challenges of all subsequent architectural practice including today's

The Monster Leviathan Aaron Betsky, 2024-01-09 Visionary proposals for a mythic and strange architecture or anarchitecture through which we can imagine other and better worlds Lurking under the surface of our modern world lies an unseen architecture or anarchitecture It is a possible architecture an analogous architecture an architecture of anarchy which haunts in the form of monsters that are humans and machines and cities all at once or takes the form of explosions veils queer playful spaces or visions from artwork and video games In The Monster Leviathan Aaron Betsky traces anarchitecture through texts design and art of the twentieth and early twenty first century and suggests that these ephemeral evocations are concrete proposals in and of themselves Neither working models nor suggestions for new forms they are scenes just believable enough to convince us they exist or just fantastical enough to open our eyes The Monster Leviathan gives students and lovers of architecture as well as those hoping to construct a better more sustainable and socially just future a set of tools through which they can imagine that such other worlds are possible As Betsky eloquently articulates anarchitecture already exists and does not exist at all It is the myth of building and all we have to do is find it
