MANICURIST (NAIL SPECIALTY LICENSE) National Learning Corporation, 2019 Manicurist National Learning Corporation, 1995 101 Businesses You Can Start with Less Than One Thousand Dollars Heather L. Shepherd, 2007 This is a collection of businesses selected especially for retirees who are interested in augmenting their income These businesses can be started with minimum training and investment and are all capable of producing extra income Most can easily be operated by one person and eventually be sold for an additional profit Many of these businesses can actually be started with less than one hundred dollars and some can really be started with next to nothing Some can even be operated from home

The Top 100 Ferguson, 2008-11 Vocational Careers Sourcebook Kathleen M. Savage, Karen Hill, 1992 Provides information on the salary and employment outlook for 135 careers which do not require a college degree The Managed Hand Miliann Kang, 2010-06-02 Two women virtual strangers sit hand in hand across a narrow table both intent on the same thing achieving the perfect manicure Encounters like this occur thousands of times across the United States in nail salons increasingly owned and operated by Asian immigrants This study looks closely for the first time at these intimate encounters focusing on New York City where such nail salons have become ubiquitous Drawing from rich and compelling interviews Miliann Kang takes us inside the nail industry asking such questions as Why have nail salons become so popular Why do so many Asian women and Korean women in particular provide these services Kang discovers multiple motivations for the manicure from the pampering of white middle class women to the artistic self expression of working class African American women to the mass consumption of body related services Contrary to notions of beauty service establishments as spaces for building community among women The Managed Hand finds that while tentative and fragile solidarities can emerge across the manicure table they generally give way to even more powerful divisions of race class and immigration Caught in the Middle Pyong Gap Min, 1996-11-30 In this unflinching exploration of one of the most politically charged topics of our time Pyong Gap Min investigates the racial dynamics that exist between Korean merchants the African American community and white society in general Focusing on hostility toward Korean merchants in New York and Los Angeles Min explains how the middleman economic role Koreans often occupy between low income minority customers on the one hand and large corporate suppliers on the other leads to conflicts with other groups Further Min shows how ethnic conflicts strengthen ties within Korean communities as Koreans organize to protect themselves and their businesses Min scrutinizes the targeting of Korean businesses during the 1992 Los Angeles riots and the 1990 African American boycotts of Korean stores in Brooklyn He explores Korean merchants relationships with each other as well as with Latin American employees Jewish suppliers and landlords and government agencies In each case his nuanced analysis reveals how Korean communities respond to general scapegoating through collective action political mobilization and other strategies Fluent in Korean Min draws from previously unutilized sources including Korean American newspapers and in depth interviews with immigrants His findings belie the media's sensationalistic coverage of African American Korean conflicts Instead Caught in the Middle yields a sophisticated and clear sighted understanding of the lives and challenges of immigrant merchants in America
