included and discussed Mannerism and Anti-mannerism in Italian Painting Walter Friedlaender, Walter F. Friedlaender, 1990 Here are presented two essays by one of the pioneers in the modern exploration of 16th century Italian art The first on the Kunstwissenschaft v XLVII the second on the style translated and published in a 1957 edition of which this is a reprint with inclusion of a 1964 foreword The Late Mannerists in Athenian Vase-painting Thomas Mannack, 2001 The Late Mannerists were Athenian vase painters working in the fifth century BC They specialized in shapes used during the symposium and had a particular flair for story telling Their unusual style of painting combines elements of the Late Archaic period with characteristics of the Classical period This is a richly illustrated study of the workshop Macaulay and the Enlightenment Nathaniel Wolloch, 2022 A new intellectual biography of Thomas Babington Macaulay showing how nineteenth century British liberal culture retained and transformed the ideas of the Enlightenment in a rapidly changing world Macaulay and the Enlightenment sheds new light on both familiar and unfamiliar aspects of the life and ideas of this most famous of nineteenth century British historians Thomas Babington Macaulay 1800 1859 was a prominent representative of mainstream British liberalism in the first half of the nineteenth century He was also a Member of Parliament and government minister and famously spent several years as a member of the governing council in India where he promoted legal and educational reforms One of the book's key contributions is the investigation of Enlightenment influences on the more well known aspects of Macaulay's thought history politics social and economic issues religion revolution and colonialism The book also offers new revelations about Macaulay's attitude towards women and provides insight into his views on art nature and animals In this study Macaulay emerges as a more subversive at times even radical figure than previously assumed The book thus emphasizes the transformation of Enlightenment ideas into early nineteenth century liberalism Publisher description The Expressionist Turn in Art History Kimberly A. Smith, 2017-07-05 During the period in which Expressionist artists were active in central Europe art historians were producing texts which also began to be characterized evocatively as expressionist yet the notion of an expressionist art history has yet to be fully explored in historiographic studies of the discipline This anthology offers a cross section of noteworthy art history texts that have been described as expressionist along with critical commentaries by an international group of scholars Written between 1912 and 1933 the primary sources have been selected from the published scholarship of both recognized and less familiar figures in the field's Germanic tradition Wilhelm Worringer Fritz Burger Ernst Heidrich Max Dvor Heinrich Wölfflin and Carl Einstein Translated here for the first time these examples of an expressionist turn in art history along with their secondary analyses and the book's introduction offer a productive lens through which to re-examine the practice and theory of art history in the early twentieth century Architecture and Ugliness Wouter Van Acker, Thomas Mical, 2020-01-09 Whatever ugliness is it remains a problematic category in architectural aesthetics alternately vilified and appropriated used either to shock or to invert conventions of architecture This book presents sixteen new scholarly essays which rethink ugliness in recent architecture from Brutalism to eclectic postmodern architectural productions and together offer a diverse reappraisal of the history and theory of postmodern architecture and design The essays address both broad theoretical questions on ugliness and postmodern aesthetics as well as more specific analyses of significant architectural examples dating from the last decades of the twentieth century The book attends to the diverse relations between the aesthetic register of ugliness and closely connected aesthetic concepts such as the monstrous the ordinary disgust the excessive the grotesque the interesting the impure and the sublime This volume does not simply document the history of a postmodern anti aesthetic through case studies Instead it aims to shed light on aesthetic problems that have been largely overlooked in the agenda of architectural theory This book answers in detail the questions How did postmodern architects appropriate troublesome contradictions bound to the raw ugliness of the real How have the ugly and the antiaesthetic been a productive force in postmodern architecture How can ugliness be of value to architecture And how can architecture make good use of ugliness music together with a vital questioning of the way in which such a history can be told or put together for our present purposes. Written by a distinguished team of experts in the field, the chapters not only address traditional areas of knowledge such as opera and church music but also look at the way this extremely diverse and dynamic musical world has been categorised in the past and how its products are viewed from various cultural points of view. While this history does not depart entirely from the traditional study of musical works and their composers, there is a strong emphasis on the institutions, cultures and politics of the age together with an interrogation of the ways in which music related to contemporary arts, sciences and beliefs.

Writing Borderless Histories of Art Claire Farago, 2025-06-30

Writing Borderless Histories of Art is an aspirational historical and critical project that offers a fundamental rethinking of the relationship of humans to the rest of nature. Social justice, Indigeneity, abuses of power and the environmental crisis are the burning issues of today. A transcultural approach calls for abandoning structures of domination that are built into the academic disciplines regardless of the scale or extent of interpretation. Drawing upon writings from a wide range of fields, Claire Farago argues that Art History can play a role in advancing the public's interconnectedness with the planetary life support system that so urgently needs to be restored. Studying the discourse on art at the intersection of global capitalism, environmental degradation and human subjection over four centuries, Writing Borderless Histories of Art advocates ontologies that do not distinguish between the sentience of humans and other animals and go beyond the dualistic metaphysics of the nature/culture divide. While this book is addressed to a wide audience, its multilayered approach also reaches out to art historians for whom chronology, canons and style are structures fundamental to the organization and operation of the discipline. The book is neither a history of ideas nor a search for the origins of art history but a recognition of the structures that drive its narratives.
