

SPUTNIK 1

Sputnik 1 is the name of the Soviet satellite launched in 1957. It was the first artificial satellite ever launched, and was seen by a great many by the Soviets. Sputnik 1 was launched in the Cold War. It increased tensions, and fears of a Soviet attack and eventual Soviet domination. It also increased America's efforts to improve its space program.

SPACE RACE

The term Space Race refers to the efforts and improvements in space technologies on both the U.S. and Soviet sides. By launching Sputnik 1, the Soviets, both sides sought to establish each other in the race to space. The Soviets would accomplish launching the first satellite into space, Sputnik 1.

APOLLO 11

Apollo 11 was the space mission conducted by the United States, effectively putting the first man on the moon. Launched on July 16, 1969, it was the first time man was on the moon. It also, however, brought about détente, or peaceful times between the Soviets and U.S. in terms of their relations.

WORD MAP: THE SPACE AND ARMS RACE

NUCLEAR WEAPONS

Nuclear weapons function off of nuclear reactions, and are considered weapons of mass destruction. The U.S. dropped two nuclear atom bombs on Japan in 1945, and both the U.S. and Soviet Union aimed to stockpile and create as many devastating weapons as possible. This also, however, led to the realization of mutually assured destruction.

ARMS RACE

The Arms Race refers to the efforts by both the Soviet Union and United States to increase, and advance, their arms. In particular, it was a race of nuclear weaponry that defined the Cold War. The race of increasing arms led to even further tensions, and fear, of nuclear attacks and threats between the two nations.

ICBMS

"ICBMs" is the acronym used to describe intercontinental ballistic missiles. It describes their ability to travel between one continent and another. These types of weapons helped increase fear, as well as pushed to both the Soviets and Americans to increase their defenses and weaponry.

Mans Future In Space:

The History of Man's Future Daniel Ontengco Jr.,2008-03-27 There was once a man who wanted to be more than he was Even though the man had a heartbroken soul he hoped that one day he would again have a chance to prove himself In time the man got his chance when alien invaders attacked his homeland Earth In response he went on an epic journey through space and his own mind and eventually discovered the secret to the origins of mankind With his newfound knowledge and powers the man learned that the meaning of life is to be as selfless as possible In his quest to save the world he was forced to overcome great hardships Eventually this man of the future became a true hero Adversity did not build his character it revealed it This is his story Future Aeronautics and Space Opportunities United States.
