Grzeskowiak-Krwawicz, 2016-04-22 J zef Boruwlaski was the most famous dwarf of the Enlightenment age Polish born he travelled extensively throughout Europe appearing and performing at royal courts and salons before settling in Durham in his later life until his death at the age of 97 He was described in Diderot's Encyclopédie and the press of his day both on the continent and in the UK sustained an interest in him and kept tabs on his life and experiences His memoirs published in a bilingual French and English version in 1788 show him to have been an intelligent and sharp observer of the world he inhabited The life story of this miniature gentleman is not only highly interesting in its own right but also offers a new perspective on the culture of the Enlightenment Through a meticulous survey of source materials in Poland France and the United Kingdom the author has managed to unearth and reconstruct many heretofore unknown details about Boruwlaski's life and adventures about his travels first on the continent and then in the United Kingdom It is not typical biography but rather an attempt at identifying certain social roles that were imposed upon Boruwlaski a plaything of the salons a source of entertainment for the masses an adventurer against his own wishes At the same time his story is that of a man who spent his whole life trying to escape from such roles imposed upon him Boruwlaski's memoirs are included in full containing many of the letters he sent to his wife with critical annotation The author also investigates for the first time the sizeable differences between the many different versions of the memoirs published during his own lifetime This monograph offers not only an opportunity to rediscover the fascinating life story of an intriguing man but also gives a unique point of view on Europe's uppermost elite in the Enlightenment age as people who remained deeply fascinated with deformities and oddities despite their own self-professed refined tastes

The Politics of Female Households: Ladies-in-waiting across Early Modern Europe, 2013-10-24 The Politics of Female Households is the first collection that seeks to integrate ladies-in-waiting into the master narrative of early modern court studies Presenting evidence and analysis of the multifarious ways in which women above stairs shaped the European courts of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries it argues for a re-assessment of their political influence The cultural agency of ladies-in-waiting is viewed in the reflection of portraiture pamphlets and masques their political dealings and patronage are revealed through analysis of letters family networks career patterns gift exchange and household structures as well as their activities in the fields of intelligence gathering and espionage By concentrating on a previously neglected area of female agency this collection demonstrates clearly that the political climate of Europe was often shaped outside the male-dominated institutions of government and administration Contributors include Helen Graham Matheson Hannah Leah Crumm Katrin Keller Vanessa de Cruz Birgit Houben Dries Raeymaekers Janet Ravenscroft Una McIlvenna Rosalind K Marshall Oliver Mallick Cynthia Fry Nadine Akkerman Sara J Wolfson Fabian Persson and Jeroen Duindam

Feminist Geopolitics Deborah P. Dixon, 2016-04-15 What can unfold from an engagement of feminist issues concerns and practices with the geopolitical How does feminism allow for a reconfiguration of how these two elements the geo and the political are understood and related What kinds of objects can be located and put into motion What kinds of relations can be drawn between these What kinds of practice become valued And what is glossed or rendered absent in the process In this thought-provoking and original contribution Deborah P Dixon cautions against the exhaustion of feminist geopolitics as a critique of both a classical and a critical geopolitics and points instead to how feminist imaginaries of Self Other and Earth allow for all manner of work to be undertaken Importantly one of the things they provide for is a reservoir of concerns thoughts and practices that can be reappropriated to flesh out what a feminist geopolitics can be While providing a much-needed sustained interjection that draws out achievements to date the book thus gestures forward to productive lines of inquiry and method Grounded via a series of globally diverse case studies that traverse time as well as space Feminist Geopolitics feels for the borders of geopolitical thought and practice by navigating four complex and corporeally aware objects of analysis namely flesh bone touch and abhorrence Histories of the Normal and the Abnormal Waltraud Ernst, 2006-09-27 This fascinating volume tackles the history of the terms normal and abnormal Originally meaning as occurring in nature normality has taken on significant cultural gravitas and this book recognizes and explores that fact The essays engage with the concepts of the normal and the abnormal from the perspectives of a variety of academic disciplines ranging from art history to social history of medicine literature and science studies to sociology and cultural anthropology The contributors use as their conceptual anchors the works of moral and political philosophers such as Canguilhem Foucault and Hacking as well as the ideas put forward by sociologists including Durkheim and Illich With contributions from a range of scholars across differing disciplines this book will have a broad appeal to students in many areas of history
