Distributed Leadership in Nursing and Healthcare: Theory, Evidence and Development Elizabeth A. Curtis, Martin Beirne, John Cullen, Ruth Northway, Siobhan Corrigan, 2021-03-08 This book claims to be like no other and that is so true. The editors and authors each add quality guidance around distributed leadership to readers, providing evidence-based examples, useful websites, and key reading material to support and supplement the ideas being presented. Bridie Kent, Professor in Leadership in Nursing, University of Plymouth, UK. This book thankfully isn't about self-defined heroic organizational leaders or power-hungry political leaders; it tells the stories of the people doing leadership every day in their work to make healthcare happen. Scott Taylor, Business School Director of Admissions, University of Birmingham, UK. This innovative book brings together experts from health sciences, nursing, business, and management backgrounds to provide a broad analysis of the growing field of distributed leadership. The book offers health professionals practical guidance on applying distributed leadership, resulting in more effective forms of collaborative clinical teamwork and lasting improvements in care. The text offers a comprehensive collection of perspectives featuring chapters by expert clinical nursing and management studies contributors. Synthesizes and explores recent developments in the leadership and distributed leadership research literature. Supports research and theory with examples of cases of effective distributed leadership in clinical practice, service quality, patient safety, leadership development, general nursing, midwifery, education, oncology services, intellectual disability, evidence-based practice, and organizational change and development. Provides an international focus to encourage reflection on learning from experiences across Europe and beyond.
