Nutrition And The Later Years:

Nutrition in the Middle and Later Years Elaine B. Feldman, 2013-10-22 Nutrition in the Middle and Later Years focuses on the behavioral and biochemical aspects of eating geared to the population aged 45 or older. The selection first offers information on nutrition and lifestyle and nutritional requirements and the appropriate use of supplements. Topics include proteins, carbohydrates, fat, soluble vitamins, minerals, status and aging, social isolation and loss of income or reliance on fixed income. The text then elaborates on animal models in aging research and evaluation and treatment of obesity. The manuscript takes a look at alcoholism and nutritional factors in cardiovascular disease. Discussions focus on diet and atherosclerosis, general aspects of carbohydrate, lipid and protein metabolism in the alcoholic and management of elderly alcoholic. The text also examines the relationship of nutrition and cancer, nutrition and gastrointestinal tract disorders and neurological manifestations of nutritional deficiencies. The selection is highly recommended for nutritionists and readers wanting to conduct studies on nutrition during the middle and later years. Nutrition in Early Childhood and Its Effects in Later Life J. Early Nutrition Programming and Health Outcomes in Later Life: Obesity and beyond Berthold Koletzko, Tamás Decsi, Denes Molnár, Anne Hunty, 2009-01-31 Obesity has reached epidemic proportions globally and presents a major challenge to policy makers and clinicians alike. Recent research has suggested that obesity has its origins in early life and that early diet can programme a developing fetus and young infant's future susceptibility to obesity. This volume contains recent findings presented at the International Conference on Early Nutrition Programming and Health Outcomes in Later Life: Obesity and Beyond, a satellite meeting of the 15th European Congress on Obesity held in Budapest in April 2007. Basic scientific research data from epidemiological studies and clinical trial results were all presented during the programme. This volume includes articles discussing the evidence for an effect of early nutrition programming on later obesity and cardiovascular risk, the growing evidence for an intergenerational cycle of obesity, the role of maternal leptin in programming appetite, possible cellular mechanisms for altered energy balance including mitochondrial programming and the effects of regulators of metabolism and how epigenetic changes might be the fundamental underlying mechanism explaining programming effects. Consumer understanding of the concept of early nutrition programming and the extent to which early nutrition programming is taken into account in infant feeding policies are also discussed. Quick Bibliography Series, 1976
