Nutrition and Diet in Health and Disease James Somerville McLester, 1927

Early Nutrition Programming and Health Outcomes in Later Life: Obesity and beyond Berthold Koletzko, Tamás Decsi, Denes Molnár, Anne Huntly, 2009-01-31 Obesity has reached epidemic proportions globally and presents a major challenge to policy makers and clinicians alike Recent research has suggested that obesity has its origins in early life and that early diet can programme a developing fetus and young infant's future susceptibility to obesity. This volume contains recent findings presented at the International Conference on Early Nutrition Programming and Health Outcomes in Later Life Obesity and Beyond, a satellite meeting of the 15th European Congress on Obesity held in Budapest in April 2007. Basic scientific research data from epidemiological studies and clinical trial results were all presented during the programme. This volume includes articles discussing the evidence for an effect of early nutrition programming on later obesity and cardiovascular risk, the growing evidence for an intergenerational cycle of obesity, the role of maternal leptin in programming appetite, possible cellular mechanisms for altered energy balance including mitochondrial programming and the effects of regulators of metabolism, and how epigenetic changes might be the fundamental underlying mechanism explaining programming effects. Consumer understanding of the concept of early nutrition programming and the extent to which early nutrition programming is taken into account in infant feeding policies are also discussed.

Gender Futurity, Intersectional Autoethnography Amber L. Johnson, Benny LeMaster, 2020-05-07 Awards: Innovator Award for Outstanding Edited Collection Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Caucus Central States Communication Association 2023 Outstanding Book in Performance Studies and Autoethnography Performance Studies and Autoethnography Division Central States Communication Association 2023 Book of the Year Gay Lesbian Bisexual Transgender and Queer Communication Studies Division National Communication Association 2022 Book of the Year Ethnography Division National Communication Association 2020 Gender Futurity Intersectional Autoethnography showcases a collection of narrative and autoethnographic research that unpacks the complexity of gender at its intersections: i.e. by ability, race, sexuality, religion, beauty, geography, spatiality, community, performance, politics, socio-economic status, education, and many other markers of difference. The book focuses on gender as it is lived, chaperoned, and chaperones other social identity categories. It tells stories that reveal problematic gender binaries, promising gender futures, and everything in between; they ask us to rethink what we assume to be true, real, and normal about gender identity and expression. Each essay, written by both gender variant and cisgender scholars, explores cultural phenomena that create space for us to re-imagine, re-think, and create new ways of being. This book will be useful for undergraduate, postgraduate, and professional degree students, particularly in the fields of gender studies, qualitative methods, and communication theory.
