New Challenges and Future Perspectives in Nutrition and Sustainable Diets in Africa Hettie Carina Schönfeldt, Gloria Essilfie, Yunyun Gong, 2024-05-06 Africa is confronted with the triple burden of malnutrition it is also faced with the triple challenges of poverty inequality and unemployment In many African countries large proportions of the population rely on agriculture not only for their food but also for their livelihoods A transformed agricultural and food system is thus a necessary condition for addressing this double triple challenge Additionally post harvest and food waste and losses reduce the availability of sufficient quantities of safe edible and preferable foods At least one third of food produced at farm level is lost due to inappropriate storage infrastructure and agro processing technologies in developing countries and one third of food purchased is wasted at household and retail level

Conceptual Issues in Consumer Behaviour The Indian Context, 2008

The Functional Foods Revolution Julian Mellentin, Michael Heasman, 2014-05-14 Foods that promote human health functional foods or nutraceuticals have caught the imagination of the global food industry All the household name companies are developing them as a key driver in their global strategies They see the prospect of new markets and bigger margins but the issues presented are fraught with complexity and difficulties Distinguishing hype from real hope the authors of this handbook explain the dilemmas and contradictions the industry faces They present a wealth of detailed marketing food policy and regulatory material from the leading markets world wide and show how the hopes of the industry and the consumer may be dashed The solution they offer is radical nothing less than a new business model of what they term a healthful company *New York Court of Appeals.
