marketers the connections they make are in truth fleeting and tactical They are also nothing new Marketplace transactions have long been mediated by interactions that blur the line between the putatively public and rational world of commerce and the supposedly private and emotional realm of personal relations That there is an affective tenor to every sales scenario has never been a secret to talented marketers How exactly marketers have tried to set those moods by endowing commercial relationships with an aura of personal affinity is the subject of Commercial Intimacy Its chapters explore the broad theme of commercial intimacy that is market based feelings of spatial and emotional closeness in US consumer culture from the mid nineteenth century to the late twentieth century They show how experiences of intimacy have been orchestrated by marketers operating at a variety of distances from the face to face solicitations made by retail clerks and direct sales agents to the long distance appeals made by mail order merchants print and TV advertisers telemarketers and e commerce platforms The volume pays especially close attention to how these revenue minded acts of ingratiation worked how they were shaped by the technologies behind them and how they capitalized on contemporary dynamics of gender and sexuality At the heart of this volume then is the question of how our understanding of business history changes when we take the emotional sensational and affective dynamics of intimacy to be foundational elements of commercial persuasion Contributors Samuel Backer Jennifer M Black Donna J Drucker Isabelle Marina Held Julie A Johnson Lindsay Mitchell Keiter Stephanie Kolberg Brenton J Malin Cynthia B Meyers Richard K Popp Nicole E Weber Wendy A Woloson

The Aesthetics of Nostalgia TV
 Alex Bevan, 2019-02-07 The Aesthetics of Nostalgia TV explores the aesthetic politics of nostalgia for 1950s and 60s America on contemporary television Specifically it looks at how nostalgic TV production design shapes and is shaped by larger historical discourses on gender and technological change and America's perceived decline as a global power Alex Bevan argues that the aesthetics of nostalgic TV tell stories of their own about historical decline and progress and the place of the baby boomer television suburb in American national memory She contests theories on nostalgia that see it as stagnating regressive or a reversion to outdated gender and racial politics and the technophobic longing for a bygone era and instead argues nostalgia is an important form of historical memory and vehicle for negotiating periods of historical transition The book addresses how and why the shows construct the boomer era as a placeholder for gender racial technological and declensionist discourses of the present The book uses Mad Men AMC 2007 2015 Ugly Betty ABC 2006 2010 Desperate Housewives ABC 2004 2012 and film remakes of 1950s and 60s family sitcoms as primary case studies
