The Ontology of Paul Tillich Adrian Thatcher,1978      Paul Tillich. An Essay on the Role of Ontology in His Philosophical Theology Alistair M. Macleod,1973      Routledge Revivals: Paul Tillich (1973) Alistair Macleod,2017-09-29
First published in 1973 this is the first book on Paul Tillich in which a sustained attempt is made to sort out and evaluate the questions to which Tillich addresses himself in the crucial philosophical parts of his theological system It is argued that despite the apparent simplicity in his interest in the question of being Tillich in fact conceives of the ontological enterprise in a number of radically different ways in different contexts Much of the author s work is devoted to the careful separation of these strands in his philosophical thought and to an exploration and assessment of the assumptions associated with them This book will be of interest to readers of Tillich and philosophers who specialise in ontology and linguistics      Thomism and the ontological theology of Paul Tillich Donald J. Buttery,1976      Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch Julia Theresa Meszaros,2016 In an age of self affirmation and self assertion selfless love can appear as a threat to the lover s personal well being This perception jars with the Biblical promise that we gain our life through losing it and therefore calls for a theological response In conversation with the Protestant theologian Paul Tillich and the atheistic moral philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch enquires into the anthropological grounds on which selfless love can be said to build up rather than undermine the lover s self It proposes that while the implausibility of selfless love was furthered by the modern deconstruction of the self both Tillich and Murdoch utilize this very deconstruction towards explicating and restoring the link between selfless love and human flourishing Julia T Meszaros shows that they use the modern diagnosis of the human being's lack of a stable and independent self as manifest in Sartre's existentialism in support of an understanding of the self as relational and fallen. This leads them to view a loving orientation away from self and a surrender to the other as critical to the full flourishing of human selfhood. In arguing that Tillich and Murdoch defend the link between selfless love and human flourishing through reference to the human being's ontological selflessness, Meszaros closely engages Søren Kierkegaard's earlier attempt to keep selfless love and human flourishing in a productive dialectical tension. She also examines the breakdown of this tension in the later figures of Anders Nygren, Simone Weil, and Jean Paul Sartre and addresses the pitfalls of this breakdown. Her examination concludes by arguing that the link between selfless love and human flourishing would be strengthened by a more resolute endorsement of a personal God and of the reciprocal nature of selfless love.

Being and God in Paul Tillich's Ontology Albert A. Cardoni (s.j.), 1969 Paul Tillich and His System of Paradoxical Correlation Charles Amarkwei, 2020-05-05

This book shows the paradoxical mode by which Christians keep their faith in the Christian message as they relate with science. It reveals how Paul Tillich's method of correlation helps us to understand how Christians interact with science without necessarily conflicting, separating, and dialoguing and synthesizing with each other. It rules out natural theology but provides a non-eclectic theology of nature that frees Christians to be involved in science meaningfully and without undermining their faith.
