Open Skies :

Open Skies Peter Jones, 2014-07-02 This book recounts and analyzes the history of one of the best kept diplomatic and security secrets of the last half century the Open Skies Treaty a treaty that allows the U S the Russian Federation and over 30 other signatories to fly unarmed reconnaissance aircraft over one another s territory First proposed by President Eisenhower in 1955 shelved by succeeding administrations re launched by President George H W Bush in 1989 and finally ratified in 2002 the Treaty has been one of the most important security instruments of the 21st century with over 1 000 flights logged to date providing confidence for the governments intelligence communities and militaries of former and potential adversaries Written by a professor and former diplomat who was deeply involved in the negotiations of the Open Skies Treaty from 1989 to 1995 this book is a meticulous work of political history that explores how Open Skies affected and was affected by the extraordinary times of its negotiation during which the Cold War ended and the Soviet Union collapsed But it is also a potential blueprint for future applications of the Open Skies concept by providing insights into the role that cooperative aerial monitoring can play in helping to transform other difficult relationships around the world As such it will serve as a negotiation handbook for diplomats bureaucrats and politicians and as a case study textbook for IR students and students of diplomacy

Beyond Open Skies Brian F. Havel, 2009-01-01 Beyond Open Skies offers a systematic comparative analysis of the legal and policy dimensions of airline deregulation by federal fiat in the United States and by supranational collaboration in the European Union The book draws upon a variety of sources including very recent developments in U S and EC international aviation law policy and diplomacy to propose a genuine multilateral air transport system It examines the potential of the open skies initiative in the aftermath of the new U S EC air transport agreement to inspire a genuine globalization of the world s air transport industry in such crucial aspects as the following cabotage ownership and citizenship requirements route selection airline identity capacity pricing regimes competition and public aid regulatory harmonization labor laws provisions for charter and or cargo transportation fair operation of and access to computer reservations systems authorization of code sharing arrangements alliances and antitrust immunity and dispute resolution

Flying High James Wynbrandt, 2010-12-17 Flying High traces the incredible career of the founder and chairman of JetBlue David Neeleman from his teenage ventures and beginnings in the travel industry to his short stint at Southwest Airlines and the ultimate launch of JetBlue In a series of interviews with Neeleman s friends associates and high ranking officials in both business and aviation this books tells the store of Neeleman and explores the rules of success he both lives and builds his companies by

The Treaty on Open Skies Kirk W. Clear, 1999 Federal Register , 2008-03 Winning Airlines Tae Hoon Oum, Chunyan Yu, 2012-12-06 Major institutional regulatory and structural changes have occurred in international air transport during the past two decades Many countries have deregulated their domestic airline industries and open skies continental blocs have formed in Europe and North America A movement is now underway to create a liberalized continental bloc in Australasia

International air transport has been substantially liberalized due to the diminishing role of IATA as an industry cartel and via a series of liberalized bilateral agreements signed between many countries including the U.S. and UK. Increased liberalization and continentalization have induced major airlines to create global service networks through inter carrier alliances. And all these changes are intensifying competition between major carriers in both domestic and international markets. The increased competition and economic recession in the early 1990s led many airlines to massive financial losses forcing them to undertake major restructuring to improve efficiency and reduce costs. Although it is important for an airline to map out proper strategies in the globalizing airline industry, the ultimate ability of a carrier to survive and prosper in increasingly competitive markets greatly depends on its productivity and cost competitiveness.

The adaptation of the 1990 CFE Treaty and the Vienna Document 1994 of the Negotiations on Confidence and Security Building Measures were both completed by the November 1999 OSCE Istanbul summit meeting. In the new century Europe will continue to elaborate further co operative security arrangements to better respond to new risks and challenges in the field of security and help create stability in areas of tension and conflict. The aim is twofold to strengthen the pan European process of building confidence and security and to develop measures and arms control related arrangements below the continental level at the regional and subregional levels. This research report examines the record of CSBMs in Europe as well as regional arms control efforts in the former Yugoslavia in the 1990s. It contains important reference material on military security endeavours of this type      Order JO 7210.3V United States. Federal Aviation Administration,2008      The Resolution of Inter-State Disputes in Civil Aviation

Luping Zhang,2022-01-06 In this book Dr Luping Zhang investigates dispute resolution mechanisms in international civil aviation with a primary focus on the functions of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) Council. The ICAO was created as a result of the Convention on International Civil Aviation (Chicago Convention) laying the foundations for these dispute resolution mechanisms in international civil aviation although it neglected to cover economic regulations. Over the years there has been a proliferation of bilateral Air Services Agreements (ASAs) and multilateral treaties. With the advancement of aviation technology The Resolution of Inter State Disputes in Civil Aviation considers whether dispute resolution mechanisms should be modernised and if so what form this modernisation might take. It explores this through five chapters: the first chapter defines the scope of the research and introduces the methodology. The second chapter traces the evolution of dispute resolution clauses under both multilateral air law treaties and bilateral ASAs with the most up to date data The third chapter analyses how disputes brought forward in relation to the treaties in Chapter II are resolved in practice The fourth chapter builds on empirical evidence to critically assesses the political and legal implications of settling international aviation disputes The final chapter proposes a model for reform based on this cumulative research introducing a proposal for amending rules and procedures in the ICAO as well as for the establishment of a new arbitral institution
