Opening Minds Opening Doors the Rebirth Of American Education:

Opening Minds, Opening Doors Daniel M. Hull, 1993 Resources in Education , 1994-04 Learning to Work Thomas R. Bailey, 2010-12-01 With job prospects clouded for even the well educated those who leave school with no training beyond high school now face great challenges in making the transition from school to work Emerging research and experience in other countries have led many to believe that the workplace can play a much larger educational role than it now does The School to Work Opportunity Act of 1994 for example requires programs funded under the act to include educationally guided work placements as part of the educational strategy Although there is a growing consensus that employers have much to contribute significant barriers stand in the way of increasing work based education This volume the result of a Brookings conference on employer participation in education focuses on such questions as How can an adequate number of employers be recruited How can the quality of placements be guaranteed How can discrimination and inequities in providing access to good placements be avoided What must educators do to work effectively with employers to develop high quality on the job educational experiences And what policies can encourage participation and monitor and improve the education that takes place on the job The book includes the perspectives of employers educators and policymakers and draws lessons from experience with employer involvement in Europe It concludes with suggestions for future research and policy designed to increase the quality and quantity of work based education Chapters were written by editor Thomas Bailey as well as Paul Osterman Massachusetts Institute of Technology David Stern Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development and Margaret Vickers Technical Education Research Centers Comments are included by George Chambliss Xavier Del Buono Harry Featherstone Jack Jennings Governor John R McKernan Jr Stuart Rosenfeld Anthony Sarmiento Bernd Sohngen Marc S Tucker Cheryl Fields Tyler Peter van den Dool Joan Wills and Robert Yurasits Brookings Dialogues on Public Policy Handbook of Research on Improving Learning and Motivation through Educational Games: Multidisciplinary Approaches Felicia, Patrick, 2011-04-30 This book provides relevant theoretical frameworks and the latest empirical research findings on game based learning to help readers who want to improve their understanding of the important roles and applications of educational games in terms of teaching strategies instructional design educational psychology and game design Provided by publisher e-Learning in Aviation Suzanne Kearns, 2016-04-29 Whereas traditional classroom instruction requires pilots to be pulled off the line a training facility to be maintained and instructors to be compensated e learning is extremely cost effective and therefore an attractive alternative However e learning only saves money if the training is effective Eager to reap financial benefits e learning courses have a history of varying dramatically in quality The poorest courses are those that directly convert classroom based presentations to an online format not recognizing that computer based instruction is an entirely different medium Addressing this issue directly e Learning in Aviation explores the characteristics of computer based course design and multimedia that are associated with improved learning It then provides guidance regarding how to use research based instructional design principles to plan design develop and implement an e Learning course within an aviation organization and continually evaluate whether or not the course is accomplishing instructional goals A blended learning strategy which incorporates both face to face and computer based instruction is suggested as the most appropriate choice for the majority of aviation companies The goal of this approach is to utilize e Learning as a tool to reduce time at the training centre and thereby increase pilot productivity and potentially improve the quality of training Although the examples within this book focus on pilot training the suggestions and guidelines are applicable to all employee groups within the industry

Left to My Own Devices Javier E. Díaz Vera, 2012 This book is the result of five years of intensive dedication to teaching innovation and curriculum development and offers a series of studies exploring how mobile technologies in particular and mobile learning in general may be used for second language teaching and learning in a wide variety of environments Although a strong emphasis is laid on issues to do with autonomy and independence in second language acquisition the volume also examines the connections and interrelations of mobile learning and second language teaching and learning process on the whole as well as the process of adoption of new mobile technologies as teaching tools in various communities across the globe The volume is targeted at a broad spectrum of readers including academics in the field of e learning online learning and ICT based learning with an interest in exploring the possibilities of mobile assisted learning and the new developments of ICT in particular portable devices for the foreign language classroom It is most attractive to those interested in the emerging field of mobile assisted learning in general and its potential for foreign language teaching and learning in particular

Contextual Teaching and Learning Elaine B. Johnson, 2002 Contextual teaching and learning CTL is a system for teaching that is grounded in brain research Brain research indicates that we learn best when we see meaning in new tasks and material and we discover meaning when we are able to connect new information with our existing knowledge and experiences Students learn best according to neuroscience when they can connect the content of academic lessons with the context of their own daily lives Johnson discusses the elements of the brain compatible contextual teaching and learning system making meaningful connections investing school work with significance self regulated learning collaboration critical and creating thinking nurturing the individual reaching high standards and using authentic assessment Drawing on the practices of teachers in kindergarten through university Johnson provides numerous examples of how to use each part of the CTL system
