Underground Mines L. K. Bandyopadhyay, S. K. Chaulya, P. K. Mishra, 2009-08-29 Wireless communication has emerged as an independent discipline in the past decades Everything from cellular voice telephony to wireless data transmission using wireless sensor networks has profoundly impacted the safety production and productivity of industries and our lifestyle as well After a decade of exponential growth the wireless industry is one of the largest industries in the world Therefore it would be an injustice if the wireless communication is not explored for mining industry Underground mines which are characterized by their tough working conditions and hazardous environments require fool proof mine wide communication systems for smooth functioning of mine workings and ensuring better safety Proper and reliable communication systems not only save the machine breakdown time but also help in immediate passing of messages from the vicinity of underground working area to the surface for day to day normal mining operations as well as for speedy rescue operations in case of disaster Therefore a reliable and effective communication system is an essential requisite for safe working and maintaining requisite production and productivity of underground mines Most of the existing systems generally available in underground mines are based on line wired communication principle hence these are unable to withstand in the disaster conditions and difficult to deploy in inaccessible places Therefore wireless communication is an indispensable reliable and convenient system and essential in case of day to day normal duty or disaster situations

The Police Officer's Guide to Operating and Surviving in Low-light and No-light Conditions Tony L. Jones, 2002 This book reminds the reader that many police shootings occur during diminished light and with few exceptions officers do not receive enough training in these conditions in addition recommendations are made for officers to use senses other than vision teamwork and technological innovations to increase an officer's chance of success when working in dim light or no light conditions The majority of crimes and officer shootings occur at night in diminished light or no light settings The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports that during a 9 year period 1985 1994 almost 63 percent of police officer deaths occurred between 6 00 p m and 6 00 a m During these hours it is difficult for officers to accurately identify an alleged suspect's face easily or identify any weapons he or she may be in possession of Add stress and an increased heart rate to an already tense situation and it is easy to understand the need for additional training under these conditions The dark is fraught with peril and danger but increased training can alleviate stress and increase proficiency Moreover officers can rely upon other senses and additional training can help facilitate decision making under these difficult circumstances Technological advances and team techniques can also be incorporated into officer training Directional microphones night vision and thermal imaging devices and infrared lights are a few of the technological advances that may aid officer shootings during dim light or no light environments
