Politics Of Peace In Mozambique Post Conflict Democratization 1992 :

The Politics of Peace in Mozambique Carrie Manning, 2002-11-30 Manning examines issues of democratization and conflict resolution through the lens of the Mozambican experience from 1992-2000. Since the end of the Cold War, a formal democratization process has been at the center of virtually every negotiated peace agreement to end a civil conflict. Nearly a decade after the Rome peace accord put an end to 16 years of civil war, Mozambique stands out as one of the world's most unlikely postwar democratization success stories. What accounts for the durability of the postwar political settlement? What lessons does the Mozambican experience hold for other such cases? Relying on original research conducted in Mozambique between 1994 and 1999, Manning argues that the country's relatively successful postwar political settlement depends upon the ability of the system to accommodate conflicting notions of democratic and system legitimacy through routine recourse to processes of sustained elite bargaining which supplement formal democratic institutions. In building her case, Manning provides a thorough and provocative analysis of the country's civil conflict, presents ground-breaking work on the transformation of the Renamo rebel group into a political party, and the separation of the Relimo party-state into its respective components, and he presents a clear-eyed analysis of the lessons and limits of Mozambique's postwar success. Of particular interest to scholars, students, and policymakers involved with democratization, conflict resolution, and southern African politics.

The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Peace and Conflict Studies Oliver P. Richmond, Gëzim Visoka, 2022-06-21 This encyclopaedia provides a comprehensive overview of major theories and approaches to the study of peace and conflict across different humanities and social sciences disciplines. Peace and conflict studies (PCS) is one of the major sub-disciplines of international studies, including political science and international relations, and has emerged from a need to understand war-related systems and concepts and how to respond to it afterward. As a living reference work, easily discoverable and searchable, the Palgrave Encyclopedia of Peace and Conflict Studies offers solid material for understanding the foundational historical and contemporary themes, concepts, theories, events, organisations, and frameworks concerning peace, conflict, security, rights, institutions, and development. The Palgrave Encyclopaedia of Peace and Conflict Studies brings together leading and emerging scholars from different disciplines to provide the most comprehensive and up-to-date resource on peace and conflict studies ever produced.

Explaining Post-Conflict Reconstruction Desha Girod, 2015-02-02 The international community has donated nearly one trillion dollars during the last four decades to reconstruct post-conflict countries. Where did the money go? This book argues that foreign aid only fosters reconstruction when post-conflict leaders are desperate for income and thus depend on aid that comes with reconstruction strings attached.

Ending Africa's Wars Roy May, 2016-04-29 Post-colonial Africa has seemingly been in an intractable state of conflict and war for a considerable period of time. This volume explores the process by which these wars were ended, discusses the lessons learnt, and examines the sustainability of recently reconciled conflicts to see how far peace solutions are permanent in this region.

Wars is an important and timely book for all those interested in conflict democracy international organizations civil society refugees gender and the economic reconstruction of Africa

Former Guerrillas in Mozambique

Nikkie

Wiegink,2020-04-03 A sensitive ethnography of former Mozambican National Resistance RENAMO combatants After sixteen years of civil war 1976 1992 between the Mozambican National Resistance RENAMO and the government of Mozambique over 90 000 former combatants were disarmed and demobilized by a United Nations led program Former combatants were to find their ways as civilians again assisted by community based reintegration rituals While the process was often presented as a success story of peace renewed armed conflict involving RENAMO combatants in 2013 and onward suggests that the reintegration of former guerrillas was a far more complex story In Former Guerrillas in Mozambique Nikkie Wiegink describes the trajectories of former RENAMO combatants in Maringue a rural district in central Mozambique Rather than focus on violence trauma and the reacceptance of these ex combatants by the community Wiegink emphasizes the ways in which RENAMO veterans have navigated unstable and sometimes dangerous social and political environments during and after the war She examines the experiences of both male and female war veterans and their attempts at securing a tolerable life Based on fourteen months of fieldwork conducted long after the war ended Former Guerrillas in Mozambique offers a critique of a notion of reintegration that assumes that the lives of former combatants are shaped first by a break with society when joining the armed group and later by a break with the past when demobilizing and a return to a status quo Wiegink argues instead that former combatants motivations experiences and interactions are not necessarily characterized by a rigid separation from their RENAMO past but rather comprise a mixture of ruptures and continuities of relationships and networks including families the spiritual world fellow former combatants political parties and the state

Party Systems in Young

Democracies Edalina Rodrigues Sanches,2018-01-03 Institutionalization has become a paramount concept to compare party systems in regions spanned by the third wave of democratization Based on raw electoral data from 30 sub Saharan African countries observed between 1966 and 2016 this text explores the causes and mechanisms of Party System Institutionalization PSI and its relationship with the processes of mobilization and democratization Posing key theoretical and empirical questions in cross regional comparison it examines and reveals the defining properties of PSI how they should be measured and under what conditions it varies In doing so it contributes with a new explanatory framework of party system development that gives primacy to modes of transition political institutions and party citizen linkages to further cross regional comparisons among third wave party systems This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of democratization elections and African politics and more broadly to comparative politics

Strengthening Peace in Post-Civil War States

Matthew Hoddie,Caroline A. Hartzell,2010-09-30 Among the more frequent and most devastating of conflicts civil wars from Yugoslavia to Congo frequently reignite and even spill over into the international sphere Given the inherent fragility of civil war peace agreements innovative approaches must be taken to ensure the successful resolution of these conflicts

Strengthening Peace in Post Civil War States provides both analytical frameworks and a series of critical case studies demonstrating the effectiveness of a range of strategies for keeping the peace Coeditors Matthew Hoddie and Caroline A Hartzell here contend that lasting peace relies on aligning the self interest of individuals and communities with the society wide goal of ending war if citizens and groups have a stake in peace they will seek to maintain and defend it The rest of the contributors explore two complementary approaches toward achieving this goal restructuring domestic institutions and soft intervention Some essays examine the first tactic which involves reforming governments that failed to prevent war while others discuss the second an umbrella term for a number of non military strategies for outside actors to assist in keeping the peace

Securing Peace in Angola and Mozambique Miranda Melcher,2024-03-21 This book helps explain how and why there are such diverging outcomes of UN peace negotiations and treaties through a detailed examination of peace processes in the Angolan and Mozambican civil wars Does it really matter what s written on page 36 protocol V section III point 5 of a UN endorsed peace treaty Dr Miranda Ruwart Melcher shows that seemingly small details such as who wears suits who has toothbrushes and how specific words are translated between French and English can and have delayed peace or contributed to restarting wars Dr Melcher uses unique primary source data including interviews with key actors who have participated in peace treaty negotiations as well as thousands of previously newly opened UN documents She argues that treaty specificity is an undervalued but important factor in researching the success or failure of peace processes The book offers new insights and policy recommendations for key details whose presence or absence can have a significant impact on how peace processes unfold
