Raoul Walsh:

New York Magazine ,1974-04-08 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Raoul Walsh Raoul Walsh,1977 Raoul Walsh Marilyn Ann Moss,2011-06-17 Raoul Walsh 1887 1980 was known as one of Hollywood s most adventurous iconoclastic and creative directors He carved out an illustrious career and made films that transformed the Hollywood studio yarn into a thrilling art form Walsh belonged to that early generation of directors along with John Ford and Howard Hawks who worked in the fledgling film industry of the early twentieth century learning to make movies with shoestring budgets Walsh s generation invented a Hollywood that made movies seem bigger than life itself In the first ever full length biography of Raoul Walsh author Marilyn Ann Moss recounts Walsh s life and achievements in a career that spanned more than half a century and produced upwards of two hundred films many of them cinema classics Walsh originally entered the movie business as an actor playing the role of John Wilkes Booth in D W Griffith s The Birth of a Nation 1915 In the same year under Griffith s tutelage Walsh began to direct on his own Soon he left Griffith s company for Fox Pictures where he stayed for more than twenty years It was later at Warner Bros that he began his golden period of filmmaking Walsh was known for his romantic flair and playful persona Involved in a freak auto accident in 1928 Walsh lost his right eye and began wearing an eye patch which earned him the suitably dashing moniker the one eyed bandit During his long and illustrious career he directed such heavyweights as Humphrey Bogart James Cagney Errol Flynn and Marlene Dietrich and in 1930 he discovered future star John Wayne Movies and Methods Bill Nichols,1976 VOLUME 2 Movies and Methods Volume II captures the developments that have given history and genre studies imaginative new models and indicates how feminist structuralist and psychoanalytic approaches to film have achieved fresh valuable insights In his thoughtful introduction Nichols provides a context for the paradoxes that confront film studies today He shows how shared methods and approaches continue to stimulate much of the best writing about film points to common problems most critics and theorists have tried to resolve and describes the internal contradictions that have restricted the usefulness of post structuralism Mini introductions place each essay in a larger context and suggest its linkages with other essays in the volume A great variety of approaches and methods characterize film writing today and the final part conveys their diversity from statistical style analysis to phenomenology and from gay criticisms to neoformalism This concluding part also shows how the rigorous use of a broad range of approaches has helped remove post structuralist criticism from its position of dominance through most of the seventies and early eighties Publisher description Each Man in His Time Raoul Walsh,1974 One of Hollywood s most prolific and respected action directors Raoul Walsh was also one of the longest lived figures in film with a career that spanned almost a half century After running away from home as a boy and working in a variety of capacities including as a cowboy in the West Walsh drifted into stage acting in New York and later into motion pictures as an actor He became an assistant director to D W Griffith and in 1914 made his first movie By the mid 1920s Walsh had a reputation for direct straightforward no frills narrative and his style was particularly suited to action films and outdoor dramas although his biggest film of that decade was the fantasy epic The Thief of Bagdad produced by and starring Douglas Fairbanks Sr which continues to be shown seven decades later His work in the 1930s mostly for 20th Century Fox embraced comedy and drama in equal measure but it was with Warner Bros beginning at the end of the 1930s that Walsh came into his own directing such classics as The Roaring Twenties 1939 They Drive By Night 1940 High Sierra 1941 Desperate Journey 1942 and Northern Pursuit 1943 starring James Cagney Humphrey Bogart and Errol Flynn Despite his reputation as an action director Walsh s movies were usually much more sophisticated than was typical for the genre he revelled in psychological themes and he loved offbeat characterizations and unusual narrative structures attributes best reflected in the dark Western drama Pursued 1947 starring Robert Mitchum and the crime film White Heat 1949 with James Cagney He also served as unofficial co director on one of Humphrey Bogart s most interesting later movies The Enforcer 1951 His later movies showed a slackening of style and he never did seem as effective working in color as he did in black and white Walsh lost an eye while working on In Old Arizona in 1929 and his deteriorating sight in the other eye led to his retirement in 1964 Biography by Bruce Eder from www.allmovie.com Cinemascope Two John Reid,2005-02-01 If it were not for the vision and enterprise of Darryl F Zanuck and 20th Century Fox chances are none of us would be enjoying widescreen films today Instead we d still be watching movies and TV on the same postage stamp screen that became standard when movies began to talk in 1927 This survey of Fox s contributions to the CinemaScope Revolution which that studio started back in 1953 examines no less than 140 key films with extensive cast and technical credits plus release details and other background information including prizes and awards Raoul Walsh Marilyn Ann Moss,2011 Raoul Walsh 1887 1980 was known as one of Hollywood s most adventurous iconoclastic and creative directors He carved out an illustrious career and made films that transformed the Hollywood studio yarn into a thrilling art form Walsh belonged to that early generation of directors along with John Ford and Howard Hawks who worked in the fledgling film industry of the early twentieth century learning to make movies with shoestring budgets Walsh s generation invented a Hollywood that made movies seem bigger than life itself In the first ever full length biography of Raoul Walsh author Marilyn Ann Moss recounts Walsh s life and achievements in a career that spanned more than half a century and produced upwards of two hundred films many of them cinema classics Walsh originally entered the movie business as an actor playing the role of John Wilkes Booth in D W Griffith s The Birth of a Nation 1915 In the same year under Griffith s tutelage Walsh began to direct on his own Soon he left Griffith s company for Fox Pictures where he stayed for more than twenty years It was later at Warner Bros that he began his golden period of filmmaking Walsh was known for his romantic flair and playful persona Involved in a freak auto accident in 1928 Walsh lost his right eye and began wearing an eye patch which earned him the suitably dashing moniker the one eyed bandit During his long and illustrious career he directed such heavyweights as Humphrey Bogart James Cagney Errol Flynn and Marlene Dietrich and in 1930 he discovered future star John Wayne Nichols Bill Nichols,1985 The Westerners C. Catholics in the Movies Colleen McDannell,2008 The common admission that everything I know about religion I learned from the movies is true for believers as much as for unbelievers And at the movies Catholicism is the American religion As an intensely visual faith with a well defined ritual and authority structure Catholicism lends itself to the drama and pageantry of film Beginning with the silent era of film and ending with movies today eleven prominent scholars explore how Catholic characters spaces and rituals are represented in cinema Food in the Movies, 2d ed. Steve Zimmerman,2010-07-28 Although food has been part of motion pictures since the silent era for the most part it has been treated with about as much respect as movie extras it s always been there on the screen but seldom noticed For the most part filmmakers have settled on three basic ways to treat food as a prop in which the food is usually obscured from sight or ignored by the actors as a transition device to compress time and help advance the plot as a symbol or metaphor or in some other meaningful way to make a dramatic point or to reveal an aspect of an actor s character mood or thought process This hugely expanded and revised edition details 400 food scenes in addition to the 400 films reviewed for the first edition and an introduction tracing the technical artistic and cultural forces that contributed to the emergence of food films as a new genre originated by such films as Tampopo Babette s Feast and more recently by films like Mostly Martha No Reservations and Ratatouille A filmography is included as an appendix The Film Daily Directors' Annual and Production Guide ,1929 Raoul Walsh Phil Hardy,1974 100 Bible Films Matthew Page,2022-05-19 Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2023 From The Passion of the Christ to Life of Brian and from The Ten Commandments to Last Temptation of Christ filmmakers have been adapting the stories of the Bible for over 120 years from the first time the H ritz Passion Play was filmed in the Czech Republic back in 1897 Ever since these stories have inspired musicals comedies sci fi surrealist visions and the avant garde not to mention spawning their own genre the biblical epic Filmmakers across six continents and from all kinds of religious perspectives or none at all have adapted the greatest stories ever told delighting some and infuriating others 100 Bible Films is the indispensable guide to this wide and varied output providing an authoritative but accessible history of biblical adaptations through one hundred of the most interesting and significant biblical films Richly illustrated with film stills this book depicts how such films have undertaken a complex negotiation between art commerce entertainment and religion Matthew Page traces the screen history of the biblical stories from the very earliest silent passion plays via the golden ages of the biblical epic through to more innovative and controversial later films as well as covering significant TV adaptations He discusses films made not only by some of our greatest filmmakers artists such as Martin Scorsese Jean Luc Godard Alice Guy Roberto Rossellini Pier Paolo Pasolini Lotte Reiniger Carl Dreyer and Luis Buñuel but also those looking to explore their faith or share it with lovers of cinema the world over American Film Cycles Amanda Ann Klein, 2011-12-01 A series of movies that share images characters settings plots or themes film cycles have been an industrial strategy since the beginning of cinema While some have viewed them as subgenres mini genres or nascent film genres Amanda Ann Klein argues that film cycles are an entity in their own right and a subject worthy of their own study She posits that film cycles retain the marks of their historical economic and generic contexts and therefore can reveal much about the state of contemporary politics prevalent social ideologies aesthetic trends popular desires and anxieties American Film Cycles presents a series of case studies of successful film cycles including the melodramatic gangster films of the 1920s the 1930s Dead End Kids cycle the 1950s juvenile delinquent teenpic cycle and the 1990s ghetto action cycle Klein situates these films in several historical trajectories the Progressive movement of the 1910s and 1920s the beginnings of America's involvement in World War II the birth of the teenager in the 1950s and the drug and gangbanger crises of the early 1990s She shows how filmmakers audiences film reviewers advertisements and cultural discourses interact with and have an impact on the film texts Her findings illustrate the utility of the film cycle in broadening our understanding of established film genres articulating and building upon beliefs about contemporary social problems shaping and disseminating deviant subcultures and exploiting and reflecting upon racial and political upheaval Conversations with the Great Moviemakers of Hollywood's Golden Age at the American Film Institute George Stevens, Jr., 2009-05-27 ONE OF THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER'S 100 GREATEST FILM BOOKS OF ALL TIME The first book to bring together interviews of master moviemakers from the American Film Institute's renowned seminars Conversations with the Great Moviemakers offers an unmatched history of American cinema in the words of its greatest practitioners Here are the incomparable directors Frank Capra Elia Kazan King Vidor David Lean Fritz Lang I learned only from bad films William Wyler and George Stevens renowned producers and cinematographers celebrated screenwriters Ray Bradbury and Ernest Lehman as well as the immortal Ingmar Bergman and Federico Fellini Making a movie is a mathematical operation It's absolutely impossible to improvise Taken together these conversations offer uniquely intimate access to the thinking the wisdom and the genius of cinema's most talented pioneers Cartographic Cinema Tom

Conley, Cartography and cinema are what might be called locational machinery Maps and movies tell their viewers where they are situated what they are doing and to a strong degree who they are In this groundbreaking work eminent scholar Tom Conley establishes the ideological power of maps in classic contemporary and avant garde cinema to shape the imaginary and mediated relations we hold with the world Cartographic Cinema examines the affinities of maps and movies through comparative theory and close analysis of films from the silent era to the French New Wave to Hollywood blockbusters In doing so Conley reveals that most of the movies we see contain maps of various kinds and almost invariably constitute a projective apparatus similar to cartography In addition he demonstrates that spatial signs in film foster a critical relation with the prevailing narrative and mimetic registers of cinema Conley convincingly argues that the very act of watching films and cinema itself is actually a form of cartography Unlike its function in an atlas a map in a movie often causes the spectator to entertain broader questions not only about cinema but also of the nature of space and being

The Encyclopedia of Film Composers Thomas S. Hischak, 2015-04-16 For more than a century original music has been composed for the cinema From the early days when live music accompanied silent films to the present in which a composer can draw upon a full orchestra or a lone synthesizer to embody a composition music has been an integral element of most films By the late 1930s movie studios had established music departments and some of the greatest names in film music emerged during Hollywood's Golden Age including Alfred Newman Max Steiner Dimitri Tiomkin and Bernard Herrmann Over the decades other creators of screen music offered additional memorable scores and some composers such as Henry Mancini Randy Newman and John Williams have become household names The Encyclopedia of Film Composers features entries on more than 250 movie composers from around the world It not only provides facts about these artists but also explains what makes each composer notable and discusses his or her music in detail Each entry includes Biographical material Important dates Career highlights Analysis of the composer's musical style Complete list of movie credits This book brings recognition to the many men and women who have written music for movies over the past one hundred years In addition to composers from the United States and Great Britain artists from dozens of other countries are also represented A rich resource of movie music history The Encyclopedia of Film Composers will be of interest to fans of cinema in general as well as those who want to learn more about the many talented individuals who have created memorable scores
