Rapports Joel Walz, Jean-Pierre J. Piriou, 1990-01-01      Rapports Joel Walz, Jean-Pierre J. Piriou, 1993-01-01      Rapports Joel Walz, 1993      Rapports Walz Joel Walz, Jean Pierre Piriou, 1985-01-01      Teaching Culture in Introductory Foreign Language Textbooks Carol A. Chapelle, 2016-07-30 This book demonstrates how foreign language textbook analysis can inform future materials development to improve foreign language teaching Through chronological analysis of French textbooks in the United States this book explores the representations of Canada and Quebec in French beginner textbooks produced from 1960 to 2010 Chapelle couples a large collection of 65 textbooks with a social semiotic qualitative analysis of the genres language and images that communicate Quebec's cultural narrative to learners Findings about the amount and type of content are presented by decade to track the trends in foreign language teaching and changes in Quebec's representation Particular attention is given to how language politics is presented to students through text and images This book will be of interest to scholars of Canadian Studies Quebec Studies and Second Language Acquisition as well as foreign language materials developers      European Encounters: Language, Culture and Identity Irén Annus, 2015-01-01 This volume is a collection of studies that analyze cultural encounters in Europe from multidisciplinary perspectives The book faithfully reflects the research conducted at various departments within the Faculty of Arts and Letters at the University of Szeged Hungary The idea for the collection was conceived during a dissemination meeting for a four year research project involving some of the authors known as Languages in a Network of European Excellence LINEE cofounded by the European Commission FP6 contract 28388 whose generous support also made the publication of this volume possible for which I would like to extend my gratitude here Our contemporary world has been persuasively described in a wealth of literature as an era of postmodernity characterized by a series of particular features including the development of digital culture and mediation an intricate interplay between globalization and localization the compression of time and space the rapid and constant movement of information and of people as well as the crossing of boundaries both in symbolic and concrete terms Lyotard Harvey and Appadurai Modernity among others It has been depicted as a transitory period marked by a series of turns linguistic cultural and pictorial visual e.g. by Rorty Jameson and Mitchell that have captured new mental frameworks for the comprehension of realities and resultant principles and processes of knowledge production also opening up avenues towards pluralism the politics of identity and difference and the centrality of issues concerning discourse power and ideology Calhoun Gupta and Ferguson Fairclough etc Having investigated various aspects of globalization Appadurai Disjuncture concluded that one way to understand this phenomenon is through the notion of cultural flows a concept that captures the speed and dynamism with which particular cultural forms and practices may travel and gain recognition outside of the local cultures within which they appear He proposed that these global cultural flows can best be explored through five imagined dimensions often in disjunction with each other ethnoscaples mediascaples technoscaples financescaples and ideoscaples Of these the studies in this volume focus primarily on ethnoscaples and ideoscaples the cultural flow that both the movement of people be they students tourists immigrants or artists and that of ideas from subcultures to teaching paradigms bring about and the representation of the various encounters these entail in language use cultural production and identity constructions This collection of studies tackles some of these issues as they appear in Europe particularly within the boundaries of Hungary where they have received particular attention after Hungary joined the European Union in 2004 Hungary s accession introduced not only EU rules norms and expectations to the country but also encouraged the flow of people cultural exchange and cooperation within the EU in numerous ways such as research projects and academic exchange programs e g Tempus and Erasmus and cultural projects such as the European Capital of Culture award program In the implementation of the various programs and broad cooperation upon which a united Europe may emerge it is imperative to ensure communication thus language teaching and learning and the attainment of a particular level of proficiency have received particular attention within the EU All this in a broader context can be regarded as part of the problematization tied to the word European including the construction and meaning of a European identity particularly in relation to other such as national regional and local identities while not being blind to other powerful factors such as ethnicity religion and gender that also shape self identities in compelling ways The authors in this volume represent a multiplicity of academic fields from linguistics and literary criticism to cultural anthropology and cultural studies They share the characteristic of reaching across traditional methods and disciplines thus typically applying an interdisciplinary approach in their investigations all of which focus on the construction mediation outcome or impact of cultural encounters in a variety of contexts Except for one all of these studies explore particular aspects of contemporary issues and practices As reflected in the subtitle of the volume the papers have been organized around three major themes language use cultural interaction and identity construction The first set of studies investigates the significance of language in the postmodern age Globalization is often associated with tendencies towards standardization and homogenization e g Featherstone in the course of which English is becoming the global language and culture is becoming more and more dominated by American and Western European models Smith 14 In this context issues such as the way in which English is used in the global community the forms of power English may represent in particular local communities or the washback effect this global role may have on emerging techniques used in the English as a Foreign Language EFL classroom require further investigation

Georgetown University Round Table on Languages and Linguistics (GURT) 1991: Linguistics and Language Pedagogy James E. Translation Mildred L. Larson, 1991-01-01 This book is a collection of articles which highlight the fact that good translation theory is based on information gained from practice At the same time good practice is based on carefully worked out theory The two are interdependent The authors who have contributed are persons who know the importance of both theory and practice and the tension between the two They are not only translators but also have long experience in training others The articles cover a wide variety of topics grouped in five sections The first presents four graphic descriptions of what happens when one translates The second looks at aspects of the application of theory from the backgrounds of European and Asian translation practices The third has excellent articles which apply theory to the fields of poetry opera drama and humor The fourth section provides four ways of putting theory into practice The fifth gives language specific examples and the last section deals with the application of theory and practice to teaching in an academic context

Pedagogical Norms for Second and Foreign Language Learning and Teaching Susan M. Gass, Kathleen

Bardovi-Harlig, Sally Sieloff Magnan, Joel Walz, 2002-09-03 The concept of Pedagogical Norm is grounded in both sociolinguistic and psycholinguistic principles Pedagogical norms guide the selection and sequencing of target language features for language teaching and learning This book both situates and expands on this concept highlighting the interaction of research and pedagogy The papers collectively illustrate how the concept of pedagogical norm applies to all components of language including phonology morphology syntax and discourse The book begins with a discussion of definitions including papers that trace the history of the concept and define what is meant by norms Also included are papers that apply the concept of pedagogical norms in specific contexts e g intonation morphology and to specific languages Finally pedagogical norms are extended beyond the more traditional areas of grammatical competence to such disparate areas as listening discourse and circumlocution

Negotiating Intercultural Relations Troy McConachy, Perry R. Hinton, 2023-02-09 The goal of fostering positive intercultural relations has taken on increased importance in a wide range of societal educational and business contexts This has created growing demand for educational provision that raises awareness of the role of language culture and psychological dynamics in processes of communication and rapport management This volume inspired by Helen Spencer Oatey's multidisciplinary approach to intercultural research provides insights into the dynamic and negotiated nature of intercultural relations informed by current theory and research in linguistics psychology and intercultural education Written by an international group of prominent intercultural researchers chapters demonstrate that intercultural interaction is highly dependent on the contextual expectations that individuals bring to communication the social identities that are perceived to be relevant and how individuals position themselves and others as cultural beings They show how cultural norms and social identities are negotiated in the micro context of interpersonal interaction and in the macro sociocultural context The volume provides intercultural researchers and educators with multidisciplinary insights into how intercultural relationships are established maintained and threatened

Reimagining Rapport Zane Goebel, 2021 To do ethnography a researcher must have rapport with research subjects But what is rapport Ethnography and ethnographic methods have increasingly become a feature of social inquiry in general and sociolinguistics in particular and rapport is generally considered a prerequisite for fieldwork And yet unlike related terms such as communication and phatic communion this concept has remained largely unexamined Reimagining Rapport turns a critical eye to the use of the term rapport across disciplines The collection analyzes the very idea of rapport both exploring how it has been shaped by historical forces and actors within sociocultural anthropology and questioning its usefulness Rather than viewing the term as simply denoting a type of positive social relationship that needs to be formed between researcher and consultant before research can begin this book invites us to reimagine rapport theoretically methodologically and meta methodologically Zane Goebel and other leading sociolinguists challenge readers to think about how rapport has been constructed within these disciplines and ultimately to see rapport as an emergent co constructed social relationship that is actively built during situated multimodal encounters The contributors collectively examine the role of ideology and mediation in the construction of rapport and argue that reconceptualizing research subject relationships is essential for establishing more sophisticated ways of understanding interpreting and representing research context A valuable resource for scholars and students of sociolinguistics and linguistic anthropology as well as for others engaged in ethnographic fieldwork Reimagining Rapport is the first collection to provide an in depth investigation of this critically important but previously unexamined concept
