Rare and Endangered Plants of New Zealand David R. Given, 1981 Threatened plants of New Zealand, 1989

Threatened Plants of New Zealand Catherine M. Wilson, David R. Given, 1989 Statement for DSIR information series from cataloguing data on p iv 1997 IUCN Red List of Threatened Plants World Conservation Monitoring Centre, 1998 This book represents the most comprehensive compilation of data on threatened vascular plants ever published It includes the names of some 33 000 plant species determined to be rare or threatened on a global scale Conservation assessments were provided by the IUCN Species Survival Commission the National Botanical Institute South Africa Environment Australia and CSIRO The Nature Conservancy the Smithsonian Institution and the Royal Botanic Gardens Kew together with hundreds of botanic gardens and botanists throughout the world The Royal Botanic Gardens Edinburgh and the New York Botanical Garden have made major in kind contributions The result of 20 years work by botanists and conservationists around the world it is intended as a conservation tool a provider of baseline information to measure conservation progress and as a primary source of data on plant species Most importantly however it provides the building blocks on which to base a worldwide effort to conserve plant species New Lepidium (Brassicaceae) from New Zealand Peter James De Lange, Peter Brian Heenan, G. J. Houlston, Jeremy R. Rolfe, A. D. Mitchell, 2013 The vascular flora of New Zealand contains an estimated 2400 species of indigenous plant of which a staggering 83% are endemic Nevertheless despite the 244 years of botanical exploration there are still many flowering plants left to formally describe from New Zealand In this issue of PhytoKeys the diversity of the endemic Cook s Scurvy grass Lepidium oleraceum is subjected to a modern taxonomic treatment recognising in the process ten new endemic species and accepting six others described by past workers This issue includes detailed descriptions for all 16 Lepidium species and discusses their ecology ethnobotany and conservation status A dichotomous key to the naturalised and indigenous Lepidium of the New Zealand archipelago is also provided Endangered Plant Species of the World and Their Endangered Habitats, 1985 Journal of the Royal Society of New Zealand, 1989-12

Endangered Plant Species of the World and Their Endangered Habitats Charles Robert Long, 1978 Journal of the Royal Society of New Zealand, 1988-12 Rarity K.J. Gaston, 2012-12-06 To say you are writing about rarity is to invite two kinds of response Either one provokes a discussion of what rarity is or some comment on the complexity of the subject The objective of this book is to explore the nature of rarity its complexity if you like from one particular perspective on what rarity is Primarily it is an opportunity to review to synthesize and to question The book is an attempt to draw together a vast body of literature to extract from it some general principles and to raise question marks over areas the foundations of which appear to be either absent or crumbling A perusal of prefaces suggests that they often dwell as long upon what a book is not about as upon what it does concern True to such a tradition I should state that this is specifically not a book about conservation although in some quarters anything about rarity is viewed as something about conservation Nor does it contain more than a passing reference to the undoubtedly important issues of the role of genetics in rarity Examples have been drawn from a wide variety of taxa They are nonetheless somewhat depauperate in cases from marine systems In part this bias results from the unevenness of my familiarity with the literature in part it perhaps also reflects differences in the questions asked and approaches to the study of communities and assemblages in terrestrial and marine systems
