Reading In Detail Aesthetics And The Feminine:

Reading in Detail Naomi Schor, 2013-10-18 Who cares about details As Naomi Schor explains in her highly influential book we do but it has not always been so The interest in detail in art in literature and as an aesthetic category is the product of the decline of classicism and the rise of realism But the story of the detail is as political as it is aesthetic Secularization the disciplining of society the rise of consumerism the invention of the quotidian have all brought detail to the fore In this classic work of aesthetic and feminist theory now available in a new paperback edition Schor provides ways of thinking about details and ornament in literature art and architecture and uncovering the unspoken but powerful ideologies that attached gender to details Wide ranging and richly argued Reading in Detail presents ideas about reading and viewing that will enhance the study of literature and the arts

Sex Objects Jennifer Doyle, 2006 The declaration that a work of art is about sex is often announced to the public as a scandal after which there is nothing else to say about the work or the artist controversy concludes a conversation when instead it should begin a new one Moving beyond debates about pornography and censorship Jennifer Doyle shows us that sex in art is as diverse as sex in everyday life exciting ordinary emotional traumatic embarrassing funny even profoundly boring Sex Objects examines the reception and frequent misunderstanding of highly sexualized images words and performances In chapters on the boring parts of Moby Dick the scandals that dogged the painter Thomas Eakins the role of women in Andy Warhol's Factory films bad sex and Tracey Emin's crudely evocative line drawings and L A artist Vaginal Davis's pornographic parodies of Vanessa Beecroft's performances Sex Objects challenges simplistic readings of sexualized art and instead investigates what such works can tell us about the nature of desire In Sex Objects Doyle offers a creative and original exploration of how and where art and sex connect arguing that to proclaim a piece of art about sex reveals surprisingly little about the work the artist or the spectator Deftly interweaving anecdotal and personal writing with critical feminist and queer theory she reimagines the relationship between sex and art in order to better understand how the two meet and why it matters Jennifer Doyle is associate professor of English at the University of California Riverside She is coeditor with Jonathan Flatley and Jos Esteban Muñoz of Pop Out Queer Warhol

Epistolary Entanglements in Film, Media and the Visual Arts Teri Higgins, Catherine Fowler, 2025-10-01 This collection departs from the observation that online forms of communication the email blog text message tweet are actually haunted by old epistolary forms the letter and the diary By examining the omnipresence of writing across a variety of media the collection adds the category of Epistolary Screens to genres of self expression both literary letters diaries auto biographies and screenic romance dramas intercultural cinema essay films artists videos and online media The category Epistolary encapsulates an increasingly paradoxical relation between writing and the self first it describes selves that are written in graphic detail via letters diaries blogs texts emails and tweets second it acknowledges that absence complicates communication bringing people together in an entangled rather than ordered way The collection concerns itself with the changing visual textual texture of screen media and examines what is at stake for our understanding of self expression when it takes Epistolary forms The collection Auto graphic Screens Epistolary Entanglements in Film Media and Visual Culture Is the first to interrogate the presence of epistolary forms of writing on screen It adds the new category of Auto graphic screens to genres of self expression and provides a broad perspective upon epistolary forms of writing on screen by studying romance dramas and intercultural cinema essay films artist s filmmaking and online media

The Forms of the Affects Eugenie Brinkema,2014-05-12 What is the relationship between a cinematic grid of color and that most visceral of negative affects disgust How might anxiety be a matter of an interrupted horizontal line or grief a figure of blazing light Offering a bold corrective to the emphasis on embodiment and experience in recent affect theory Eugenie Brinkema develops a novel mode of criticism that locates the forms of particular affects within the specific details of cinematic and textual construction Through close readings of works by Roland Barthes Hollis Frampton Sigmund Freud Peter Greenaway Michael Haneke Alfred Hitchcock S ren Kierkegaard and David Lynch Brinkema shows that deep attention to form structure and aesthetics enables a fundamental rethinking of the study of sensation In the process she delves into concepts as diverse as putrescence in French gastronomy the role of the tear in philosophies of emotion Nietzschean joy as a wild aesthetic of repetition and the psychoanalytic theory of embarrassment Above all this provocative work is a call to harness the vitality of the affective turn for a renewed exploration of the possibilities of cinematic form

Mary Wollstonecraft and the Critics, 1788-2001 Harriet Devine,Harriet Devine Jump,2003 Embodying Beauty Malin Pereira,2021-12-12 First Published in 2000 This study stands alone in pairing black and white American women writers across the twentieth century on the intertwined issues of female beauty and literary aesthetics Other studies published during the late 1980s and early 1990s such as Aldon Lynn Nielsen s Reading Race White American Poets and the Racial Discourse in the Twentieth Century 1988 Dana B Nelson s The Word in Black and White Reading Race in American Literature 1638 1867 1992 Eric J Sundquist s To Wake the Nations Race in the Making of American Literature 1993 and Laura Doyle s Bordering on the Body The Racial Matrix of Modern Fiction and Culture 1994 have also engaged in the process of reading racist discourse in white texts or in attempting to construct a dialogue between black and white texts None however has been concerned with female beauty and literary aesthetics in relation to twentieth century American women writers and race

Body Work Peter

Brooks, 1993 The desire to know the body is a powerful dynamic of storytelling in all its forms Peter Brooks argues that modern narrative is intent on uncovering the body in order to expose a truth that must be written in the flesh In a book that ranges widely through literature and painting Brooks shows how the imagination strives to bring the body into language and to write stories on the body From Rousseau Balzac Mary Shelley and Flaubert to George Eliot Zola Henry James and Marguerite Duras from Manet and Gauguin to Mapplethorpe writers and artists have returned in fascination to the body the inescapable other of the spirit Brooks's deep understanding of psychoanalysis informs his demonstration of how the epistemophilic urge the desire to know guides fictional plots and our reading of them It is the sexual body that furnishes the building blocks of symbolization eventually of language itself which then takes us away from the body Yet mind and language need to recover the body as an other realm that is primary to their very definition Brooks shows how and why the female body has become the field upon which the aspirations anxieties and contradictions of a whole society are played out And he suggests how writers and artists have found in the woman's body the dynamic principle of their storytelling its motor force This major book entertains and teaches Brooks presumes no special knowledge on the part of his readers His account proceeds chronologically from Rousseau in the eighteenth century forward to contemporary artists and writers Body Work gives us a set of analytical tools and ideas primarily from psychoanalysis narrative and film studies and feminist theory that enable us to read modern narrative afresh
