Classical Rhetoric and Its Christian and Secular Tradition from Ancient to Modern Times George A. Kennedy, 2003-07-11 Since its original publication by UNC Press in 1980 this book has provided thousands of students with a concise introduction and guide to the history of the classical tradition in rhetoric, the ancient but ever vital art of persuasion. Now George Kennedy offers a thoroughly revised and updated edition of Classical Rhetoric and Its Christian and Secular Tradition. From its development in ancient Greece and Rome through its continuation and adaptation in Europe and America through the Middle Ages and Renaissance to its enduring significance in the twentieth century, he traces the theory and practice of classical rhetoric through history. At each stage of the way he demonstrates how new societies modified classical rhetoric to fit their needs. For this edition Kennedy has updated the text and the bibliography to incorporate new scholarship, added sections relating to women orators and rhetoricians throughout history, and enlarged the discussion of rhetoric in America, Germany, and Spain. He has also included more information about historical and intellectual contexts to assist the reader in understanding the tradition of classical rhetoric.

Sacred Rhetoric Debora K. Shuger, 2014-07-14 There are no studies of a sacred grand style in the English Renaissance, writes Debora Shuger, because even according to its practitioners it was not supposed to exist. Yet the grand style forms the unacknowledged center of traditional rhetorical theory. In this first history of the grand style, Professor Shuger explores the growth of a Christian aesthetic out of the Classical grand style, showing its development from Isocrates to the sacred rhetorics of the Renaissance. These rhetorics advocate a Christian grand style, neither pedantically mimetic nor playfully sophistic, whose models include Tacitus and the Bible as well as Cicero, and whose theoretical sources embrace not only Cicero and Quintilian but Hermogenes and Longinus. This style dominates the best and most scholarly rhetorics of the period, texts written in Latin and while ignored by most recent scholars, extensively used in England throughout the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. These works are the first attempts since Augustine's pioneering revision of Ciceronian rhetoric to re-ground ancient rhetorical theory on Christian epistemology and theology. According to Professor Shuger, the Christian grand style is passionate, vivid, dramatic, metaphoric, yet this emotional energy and sensuousness is shaped and legitimated by Renaissance religious culture. Thus sacred rhetoric cannot be considered apart from contemporary theories of cognition, emotion, selfhood, and signification. It mediates between word and world. Moreover, these texts suggest the almost forgotten centrality of neo-Latin scholarship during these years and provide a crucial theoretical context for England's great flowering of devotional prose and poetry Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Latin Rhetoric and Education in the Middle Ages and Renaissance James J. Murphy, 2023-07-21 The essays in this volume deal with the history of rhetoric and education for the thousand years from the early Middle Ages to the European Renaissance They represent the author's pioneering efforts over four decades to piece together a kind of mosaic which will provide elements necessary to construct a history of that thousand years of language activity Some essays deal with individual writers like Giles of Rome Peter Ramus Gulielmus Traversanus or Antonio Nebrija some focus on the influence of Cicero and Quintilian and other ancient sources The essays dealing specifically with education open up different inquiries into the ways language use was promoted and by whom Others explore the relations between Latin rhetoric and medieval English literature and finally several deal with the impact of printing a subject still not completely understood

Rhetoric and Composition Steven Lynn, 2010-09-30 An accessible introduction to teaching and studying rhetoric and composition

Rhetoric and the Writing of History, 400-1500 Matthew Kempshall, 2011-08-31 This book provides an analytical overview of the vast range of historiography which was produced in western Europe over a thousand year period between c 400 and c 1500 Concentrating on the general principles of classical rhetoric central to the language of this writing alongside the more familiar traditions of ancient history biblical exegesis and patristic theology this survey introduces the conceptual sophistication and semantic rigour with which medieval authors could approach their narratives of past and present events and the diversity of ends to which this history could then be put By providing a close reading of some of the historians who put these linguistic principles and strategies into practice from Augustine and Orosius through Otto of Freising and William of Malmesbury to Machiavelli and Guicciardini it traces and questions some of the key methodological changes that characterise the function and purpose of the western historiographical tradition in this formative period of its development
