While those entering traditional management positions within established companies might expect to find established customers a degree of predictability formalized procedures and earnings that may be taken more or less for granted new ventures often are launched into highly dynamic environments characterized by rapid technological change inherent unpredictability and an uncertain cash flow Such ventures often require rapid growth to succeed While new ventures offer those who initiate them a high degree of independence excitement and potential for great reward they also bring high risk stress and greater potential for failure Thus it takes a special set of skills techniques and temperament to succeed These skills along with the potential risks and rewards and environmental settings and characteristics are explored in the
