Emerging Disciples In the Postmodern Era Marsha L. Williams, DMin, MDiv, 2015-02-09 We are called to be disciples and once we come into a real relationship with Jesus Christ to share it with others But recently we have drifted away from making disciples focusing instead on other things In this study author Rev Dr Marsha L Williams shows that discipling as the foundational mission of the church outlined by Jesus in the Great Commission is cyclical and intergenerational and that churches must maintain a current and vibrant message for every new generation As part of her doctoral thesis Williams interviewed recent graduates from the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Tinton Falls New Jersey to update church practices that attract and keep the postmodern generation by evaluating the effectiveness of discipling programs She now considers which practices were fruitful and why explores alternative methods for discipling generation next and develops new activities and relationships to grow an intergenerational link resulting in the disciplined becoming the disciples

Robson, 2015-09-18 The Mission of the Heart is my fifth book and includes poetry written during late 2014 through mid 2015 The thoughts conveyed in these poems are personal to me and their reproduction in this book is primarily intended to convey concepts of truth which can be of benefit to others. Some subjects and truths require research and study so these short poems are intended as food for thought and for further study and investigation by the reader. Although the human mind can develop a thirst for knowledge and wisdom, the process of storing and applying such knowledge and wisdom can be best understood in small doses. Life on earth is a lengthy process of self development and requires both study and active application in a continuous stream in order to advance both physically and spiritually. The learning process is unending and many of the most important lessons come through trial and tribulation. As we gain in our self development we learn how to blend and merge together our faith, our mental capacity and our love nature to become believers and disciples of our Lord Jesus Christ. We are each challenged by our assignments yet blessed with the inner strength of the indwelling Christ. We must therefore embrace this unique indwelling presence which makes all good things truly possible.
