Yager, 1996-01-04 Science Technology Society S T S is a reform effort to broaden science as a discipline in schools and colleges to relate science to other facets of the curriculum and to relate science specifically to technology and to the society that supports and produces new conceptualizations of both S T S is also defined as the teaching and learning of science technology in the context of human experience It focuses on a method of teaching that recognizes the importance that experience in the real world has on the learning process And it recognizes that real learning can occur only when the learner is engaged and able to construct her or his own meaning Science Technology Society as Reform in Science Education is rich with examples of such teaching and learning It includes impressive research evidence that illustrates that progress has been made and goals have been met For teachers and administrators alike this book provides and validates new visions for science education Issues of Curriculum Reform in Science, Mathematics and Higher Order Thinking Across the Disciplines Ronald D. Matthews, 2015-12-22 Science Teaching argues that science teaching and science teacher education can be improved if teachers know something of the history and philosophy of science and if these topics are included in the science curriculum The history and philosophy of science have important roles in many of the theoretical issues that science educators need to address what constitutes an appropriate science curriculum for all students how science should be taught in traditional cultures how scientific literacy can be promoted and the conflict which can occur between science curriculum and deep seated religious or cultural values and knowledge Outlining the history of liberal approaches to the teaching of science Michael Matthews elaborates contemporary curriculum developments that explicitly address questions about the nature and the history of science He provides examples of classroom teaching and develops useful arguments on constructivism multicultural science education and teacher education Science and Technology Education for Tomorrow's World Richard F.
