critical introduction surveys the early feminist movement and Mexican cultural history explores how Mexico became a more closed society by the mid twentieth century and suggests further reading and films This book will be of interest both to the general reader and to scholars interested in feminist gender studies Mexican literary and cultural studies Latin American women writers the cultural renaissance translation and film studies Literature and the Writer ,2016-08-09 Literature and the Writer was first conceived with the hope the essays would shed light on several dimensions of the authorial craft It was the hope of the editor that the selected essays would examine not only writers choice of vocabulary but also their deliberate selection of grammatical constructions and word order and their seamless weaving together of plots and imagery Moreover the analyses would also draw attention to how the writing process impacts the development of characters and the formulation of thematic strands in fiction Thus a wide variety of authors are deliberately selected to give the text depth writers of popular fiction as well as modern classics are included and contrasts are established between traditional writers and those who prefer to follow experimental trends Modernists are set against postmodernists absurdists vs realists minority ethnicities vs majority cultures and dominant genders appear in contrast to subordinated ones Clearly the major tenet of the collection is that the writing profession provides an unending dilemma that deserves to be explored in more detail as readers try to determine how authorial voices confuse while simultaneously elucidating their audience how texts are constructed by authors and yet deconstructed by the very words they choose to include how silence functions as inaudible yet audible discourse and how authorial self concept shapes not only itself but is also echoed in the fictional characters writers who appear in the texts Elena Garro Luzelena Gutiérrez de Velasco,2006 Latin American Writers ,1989 Discusses writers of the New World and provides a critical analyses of today s outstanding writers The Shattered Mirror María Elena de Valdés,2010-07-05 Popular images of women in Mexico conveyed through literature and more recently film and television were long restricted to either the stereotypically submissive wife and mother or the demonized fallen woman But new representations of women and their roles in Mexican society have shattered the ideological mirrors that reflected these images This book explores this major change in the literary representation of women in Mexico Mar a Elena de Vald s enters into a selective and hard hitting examination of literary representation in its social context and a contestatory engagement of both the literary text and its place in the social reality of Mexico Some of the topics she considers are Carlos Fuentes and the subversion of the social codes for women the poetic ties between Sor Juana In s de la Cruz and Octavio Paz questions of female identity in the writings of Rosario Castellanos Luisa Josefina Hern ndez Mar a Luisa Puga and Elena Poniatowska the Chicana writing of Sandra Cisneros and the postmodern celebration without reprobation of being a woman in Laura Esquivel s Like Water for Chocolate Novelas escogidas (1982-1998) Elena Garro,2016-12-13 El tercer volumen de las Obras reunidas de Elena Garro incluye dos novelas Los recuerdos del porvenir ganadora del premio Xavier Villaurrutia cuenta los sucesos en un lugar llamado Ixtepec durante la d cada de los a os 20 mientras se desarrolla la Guerra Cristera Y Matarazo no

Elena Garro and Mexico's Modern Dreams Rebecca E. Biron, 2012-12-15 Elena Garro and Mexico s Modern Dreams uses Elena Garro s eccentric life and work as a lens through which to examine mid twentieth century Mexican intellectuals desire to reconcile mexicanidad with modernidad The famously scandalous first wife of Nobel Prize winner poet Octavio Paz and an award winning author in her own right Garro constructed a mysterious and often contradictory persona through her very public participation in Mexican political conflicts. Herself an anxious and contentious Mexican writer, Elena Garro elicited profound political and aesthetic anxiety in her Mexican readers. She confused the personal and the public in her creative fictions as well as in her vision of Mexican modernity. This violation of key distinctions rendered her largely illegible to her contemporaries. That illegibility serves as a symptom of unacknowledged desires that motivate twentieth century views of national modernity. Taken together, Garro's public persona and critical perspective expose the anxieties regarding ethnicity, gender, economic class, and professional identity that define Mexican modernity. Blending cultural studies and detailed literary analysis with political and intellectual history, Mexico's Modern Dreams argues that in addition to the intriguing gossip she elicited in literary and political circles, Garro produced a radical critique of Mexican modernity. Her critique applies as well to the nation's twenty-first century crisis of globalization, state power, and pervasive violence.

Dictionary of Mexican Literature Eladio Cortés, 1992-11-24. This volume features approximately 600 entries that represent the major writers, literary schools, and cultural movements in the history of Mexican literature. A collaborative effort by American, Mexican, and Hispanic scholars, the text contains bibliographical, biographical, and critical material, placing each work cited within its cultural and historical framework. Intended to enrich the English-speaking public's appreciation of the rich diversity of Mexican literature, works are selected on the basis of their contribution toward an understanding of this unique artistry. The dictionary contains entries keyed by author and works; the length of each entry is determined by the relative significance of the writer or movement being discussed. Each biographical entry identifies the author's literary contribution by including facts about his or her life and works; a chronological list of works; a supplementary bibliography; and when appropriate, critical notes. Authors are listed alphabetically and cross-referenced both within the text and the index to facilitate easy access to information. Selected bibliographical entries are also listed alphabetically by author and include both the original title and English translation, publisher, date, and place of publication, and number of pages.

Paris and the Marginalized Author Valérie K. Orlando, Pamela A. Pears, 2018-10-15. This volume of essays explores what it is that has brought marginalized and often exiled writers seen as treacherous, alienated, and/or queer by their societies and nations together by way of Paris. Spanning from the inter-war period of the late 1920s to the present millennium, this volume considers many seminal questions that have influenced and continue to shape the realm of exiled writers who have sought refuge in Paris in order to write. Additionally, the volume's essays seek to define alienation and marginalization as not solely subscribing to any single denominator: sexual preference, gender, or nationality, but rather as shared modes of being that allow authors to explore what it is to write from abroad in a place that is foreign yet freed of the constrictions of one's home space. What makes Paris a particularly fruitful space that has allowed these authors and their writings to cross national, ethnic, racial, religious, and linguistic boundaries for over a century? What is it that brings together

writers such as Moroccan Abdellah Taïa Americans James Baldwin Richard Wright and most recently Ta Nehisi Coates and Shay Youngblood Algerian Nabile Farès Franco Algerian Leïla Sebbar Canadian Nancy Huston French Jean Genet and French Vietnamese Linda Lê How do their representations and understanding of transgression and marginalization transcend national linguistic and ethnic boundaries leading ultimately to revolution both literary and literal How does their writing help us to trace the history of Paris as a literary and artistic capital that has been useful for authors exploration of the Self race and home country These are but a few of the many questions explored in this volume This book relies on an inherently intersectional approach which is not based in reified identities whether they be LGBT postcolonial ethnic national or linguistic Instead we posit that for example queer theory and a politics of difference i can help us investigate the dynamics of these multiple identity positions and hence provide a broader understanding of the lived experiences of these writers and perhaps their readers from the early 1940s to the present
