Flying, Fighting and Reflection Peter Jacobs,2018-09-30 This is the thrilling account of the last remaining Battle of Britain ace fighter pilot Tom Ginger Neil Neil was one of an elite band nicknamed The Few by Winston Churchill he flew Hurricanes during 141 combat missions in that battle and went on to command the first Spitfire XII squadron during 1942 43 as the RAF went on the offensive in north west Europe In this the only full account of Neil s life to be published in collaboration with his family we learn how he became a poster boy for the war effort and how he credits his sixth sense for keeping him alive during the Second World War There was however one terrifyingly close brush with death when in 1940 he had a mid air collision with another Hurricane With the rear section of his aircraft gone the plane was out of control and hurtling to the ground yet somehow he managed to bail out and miraculously survived with only a minor leg injury As well as RAF service during the Siege of Malta Wing Commander Neil who is now in his late nineties also served with the Americans during the D Day landings During his career Neil was awarded two Distinguished Flying Crosses for the destruction of at least fourteen enemy aircraft and was a successful test pilot after the war before commanding a jet fighter reconnaissance squadron in Egypt's troubled Canal Zone during the 1950s for which he was awarded the Air Force Cross. With contributions from the man himself, this book also looks at his life after the RAF and his career as a successful author. For military buffs and novices alike, it is a must-read account of a true war hero. Embedded Reflection on Public Policy Innovation Michael Duijn, 2009 The American City Arthur Hastings Grant, Harold Sinley Buttenheim, 1929 Seismic Interferometry Deyan Draganov, Johan O. A. Robertsson, 2008 Seismic Interferometry History and Present Status SEG Geophysics Reprint Series No 26 shows that developments in seismic interferometry, the methodology of generating new seismic responses by crosscorrelation, have taken an enormous flight since the beginning of this century. In 2006, the editors of this volume compiled a supplement to Geophysics dedicated to this new branch of science. The 22 papers of the well-received supplement recognized by one award for best paper and two honorable mentions for best paper in Geophysics and more than 100 citations in the first 20 months form the basis for this reprint volume. The editors have added 50 papers from SEG and other journals including Science, Physical Review, and Geophysical Research Letters. The book contains an editor's introduction with extensive references and chapters on seismic interferometry without equations, highlights of the history of seismic interferometry from 1968 until 2003, and a more detailed overview of the rapid developments since 2004. Seismic Interferometry is an invaluable source for researchers and students interested in the theory and applications of interferometry in geophysical exploration, seismic and EM seismology, ultrasonics, and underwater acoustics. Promoting Reflection on Language Learning Neil Curry, Phoebe Lyon, Jo Mynard, 2023-09-12 This book brings together a wide range of studies, practical applications, and reflective accounts written by academics working at a university in Japan to present a cohesive overview of their collaborative efforts to promote learner reflection within their institution. The book contributes to a shift in language education towards promoting learner responsibility and ownership of their learning through developing a deeper sense of awareness of and motivation for the learning process. It makes a convincing case for showing that not only is promoting reflection possible, but it can also be effectively integrated into language learning activities with significant benefits to the learners. The chapters are highly practical for researchers and practitioners, with the research chapters containing instruments which make them ideal for replication studies. The text includes a wealth of practical tools and activities for practitioners who will be able to experience first-hand how to facilitate student success and increase satisfaction.
