Reforming Urban Land Policies and Institutions in Developing Countries Catherine Farvacque Vitovic, Patrick McAuslan, Banco Mundial, 1992 Reforming Urban Land Policies and Institutions in Developing Countries Catherine Farvacque, Patrick McAuslan, 1992 This paper attempts to define and assess the various institutional and mechanical elements which constitute a land management system and which have a significant impact on the functioning of land markets The assumption of this report is that the accumulation over time of different institutions and instruments which have reflected different priorities and policies has inhibited the efficient and equitable operation of land markets and that reforms of institutions and policies are now urgently needed Adapt du r sum des auteurs 1991 .1992 Land Law Reform in Eastern Africa: Traditional or Transformative? Patrick McAuslan, 2013-06-26 Land Law Reform in East Africa reviews development and changes in the statutory land laws of 7 countries in Eastern Africa over the period 1961 2011 The book is divided into two parts Part 1 sets up the conceptual framework for consideration of the reforms and pursues a contrast between transformational and traditional developments where the former aim at change designed to ensure social justice in land laws and the latter aim to continue the overall thrust of colonial approaches to land laws and land administration Part 2 provides an in depth and critical survey of the land law reforms introduced into each country during the era of land law reform which commenced around 1990 The overall effect of the reforms has Patrick McAuslan argues been traditional it was colonial policy to move towards land markets individualisation of land tenure and the demise of customary tenure all of which characterise the post 1990 reforms The culmination of over 50 years of working in this area Land Law Reform in East Africa will be invaluable reading for scholars of land law and of law and development more Bringing the Law Back In Patrick McAuslan, 2019-07-23 This title was first published in 2003 Bringing generally together the two fields of land reform and law this volume examines the role the law and lawyers can should and do play in developing countries in the evolution of land policies in land tenure reform and in the reform of land use and urban planning Providing both a theoretical and practical perspective it discusses the role of law in both urban land reform concentrating on reforms in land use and town and country planning law and general national land reform looking at specific case studies and at more general themes It provides a coherent set of ideas and philosophies about land reform through the medium of law which have been developed through reflection and action over a considerable period of time The State of Post-conflict Reconstruction Naseem Badiey, 2014 Naseem Badiey examines the local dynamics of the emerging capital city of Juba Southern Sudan during the historically pivotal transition period following the 2005 Comprehensive Peace Agreement CPA Focusing on the intersections of land tenure reform and urban development she challenges the dominant paradigm of post conflict reconstruction and re conceptualizes state building as a social process underpinned by negotiation Badiey explores local resistance to reconstruction programmes debates over the interpretation of peace settlements and competing claims to land and resources not as problems to be solved through interventions but as negotiations of authority which are fundamental to shaping the character of the state While donors and aid agency officials anticipated clashes between the Government of Sudan and the Sudan People's Liberation Movement SPLM following the CPA they did not foresee internal divisions that impeded reconstruction in Southern Sudan raising serious questions about the viability of an independent state In Juba local elites interpreted the CPA in line with their economic and political interests using claims to land authority and political power to challenge the SPLM s agenda for urban reconstruction In revealing how local actors strategically interpreted the framework of land rights in Southern Sudan the book offers a basis for understanding the challenges that confront the nascent South Sudan's state builders and their international partners in the future NASEEM BADIEY is Assistant Professor of International Development and Humanitarian Action at California State University Monterey Bay Α Reappraisal of the Urban Planning Process Alexander Clement Mosha, 1995 Trends in Urbanisation and Urban Policies in OECD Countries What Lessons for China? OECD, China Development Research Foundation, 2010-08-27 This report presents an overview of trends in urban policies in OECD countries with the objective to identify successes and failure that could inform national Chinese policy makers in their preparation of an Urbanisation Strategy Strategic Options for Urban Infrastructure Management William F. Fox,1994-01-01 Experience of the past decade confirms that the solution to infrastructure problems is not merely to expand capacity by making new investments Much more systematic changes must be undertaken if service delivery is to attain the standards necessary to improve quality of life and allow economic output to expand more rapidly This paper identifies several broad areas for reform and recommends a series of actions to attain effective service delivery Adapt du r sum de l auteur Africa's Urban Revolution Doctor Edgar Pieterse, Susan Parnell, 2014-01-09 The facts of Africa's rapid urbanisation are startling By 2030 African cities will have grown by more than 350 million people and over half the continent's population will be urban Yet in the minds of policy makers scholars and much of the general public Africa remains a quintessentially rural place This lack of awareness and robust analysis means it is difficult to make a policy case for a more overtly urban agenda As a result there is across the continent insufficient urgency directed to responding to the challenges and opportunities associated with the world's last major wave of urbanisation Drawing on the expertise of scholars and practitioners associated with the African Centre for Cities and utilising a diverse array of case studies Africa s Urban Revolution provides a comprehensive insight into the key issues demographic cultural political technical environmental and economic surrounding African urbanisation Urban Geography Michael Pacione, 2005 The second edition of Urban Geography continues to provide an authoritative and stimulating global introduction to the study of towns and cities The text synthesizes a wealth of material to provide unrivalled depth and breadth for students of urban geography drawing on a rich blend of theoretical and empirical information with which to advance the knowledge of the city The new edition has been extensively revised to reflect feedback from users and to incorporate the latest research and developments in the field The text is divided into six main parts that explain and discuss the field of urban geography and the importance of a global perspective the historical growth of cities from the earliest times and the urban geography of the major world regions the dynamics of urban structure and land use change in Western cities economy society and politics in the Western city the economic social political and environmental challenge faced by the third world city an overview on the future of cities and cities of the future Featuring over one hundred and eighty case study and explanatory boxes this book draws insights from across the globe and contains a glossary of key terms and words chapter summaries key points study questions and annotated further reading Megacities Frauke Kraas, Surinder Aggarwal, Martin Cov, Günter Mertins, 2013-07-12 As urbanization continues and even accelerates scientists estimate that by 2015 the world will have up to 60 megacities urban areas with more than five million inhabitants With the irresistible economic attractions of urban centers particularly in developing countries making the influx of citizens unstoppable many of humankind s coming social economic and political dramas will be played out in megacities This book shows how geographers and Earth scientists are contributing to a better understanding of megacities The contributors analyze the impact of socio economic and political activities on environmental change and vice versa and identify solutions to the worst problems They propose ways of improving the management of megacities and achieving a greater degree of sustainability in their development. The goals of wise use of human and natural resources risk reduction both social and environmental and quality of life enhancement are agreed upon But as this text proves the means of achieving these ends are varied Hence chapters cover an array of topics from health management in Indian megacities to planning in New York to transport solutions for the chronically traffic choked Bangkok Authors cover the impact of climate change on megacities as well as less tangible issues such as socio political fragmentation in the urban areas of Rio de Janeiro This exploration of some of the most crucial issues that we face as a species sets out research that is of the utmost importance with the potential to contribute substantially to global justice and peace and thereby prosperity Thirty Years of World Bank Shelter Lending Robert M. Buckley, Jerry Kalarickal, 2006-01-01 As England's Industrial Revolution started the process of urbanization that has since characterized development throughout the world a poet worried about the dark satanic mills that were such a fundamental part of this revolution However despite his misgivings he also suggested that it was necessary for societies to arm themselves with chariots of fire and other weapons so that they could master this process In a somewhat more prosaic poetic vein World Bank President Robert McNamara launched the bank's shelter assistance programs saying that If cities do not begin to deal more constructively with poverty poverty may begin to deal more destructively with cities These concerns would appear to have even more resonance today as the population of cities in developing countries increasing by unprecedented levels of more than 1 billion people per year for the next 15 years This magnitude suggests the scale of the increase in the investment in shelter needed to meet the needs of this growing population Rapid Urban Environmental Assessment: Methodology and preliminary findings Josef

Leitmann, 1994 Urban Management Program Series Paper 14 A recent evaluation of urban research in developing countries noted that scant data are available on the urban environment as little research has been done on the topic This first volume in a two volume set describes the development of a three step evaluation process whereby data are collected and analyzed to support the involvement of stakeholders suggests future directions and improvements and summarizes results from use of the approach in selected cities The second of a two volume set see below contains tools that practitioners and researchers can apply directly in the field See also Volume 2 ISBN 0 8213 2791 7 Stock No 12791 Financing Africa's Cities Thierry Paulais, 2012-07-05 This volume addresses the issues of financing urban growth of the African continent which has the highest urban growth rate on the planet in the next decades Considerable investment will be needed to sustain this level of growth and to clear up accumulated backlogs At the same time decentralization has resulted in increased responsibilities for local government but in most cases institutional reforms were carried out without the transfer of a sufficient level of resources and local capacities in governance and project management are weak Which mechanisms will finance these extensive needs and how will African local governments meet these needs Specifics on how to finance African cities have not been studied The actual scale of this market has not been fully grasped A systemic approach to this market is difficult because of its diversity country size institutional context characteristics of urban network availability of capital market currency etc and a lack of data Donors assistance methods in the sector are disparate marked by disputes between different schools of thought special purpose vehicles created by donors operate according to a variety of methods and with wide ranging and sparsely disseminated results What is the best way to transform these systems often antiquated in many respects into modern financing systems that facilitate access to domestic markets mobilize local savings and reinforce local government autonomy There is no single answer to this question in regard to such a variety of institutional and economic contexts The main objective of the study is to clarify the debates and to enlighten the choices of African decision makers at Land Issues for Urban Governance in Sub-Saharan Africa Robert Home, 2020-11-11 Sub Saharan local and national level Africa faces many development challenges such as its size and diversity rapid urban population growth history of colonial exploitation fragile states and conflicts over land and natural resources This collection contributed from different academic disciplines and professions seeks to support the UN Habitat New Urban Agenda passed at Habitat III in Quito Ecuador in 2016 It will attract readers from urban specialisms in law geography and other social sciences and from professionals and policy makers concerned with land use planning surveying and governance Among the topics addressed by the book are challenges to governance institutions how international development is delivered building land management capacity funding for urban infrastructure land based finance ineffective planning regulation and the role of alternatives to courts in resolving boundary and other land disputes Issues of rights and land titling are explored from perspectives of human rights law the right to development and women's rights of access to land and land tenure regularization Particular challenges of housing planning and informality are addressed through contributions on international real estate investment community participation in urban settlement upgrading housing delivery as a partly failing project to remedy apartheid s legacy and complex interactions between political power money and land Infrastructure challenges are approached in studies of food security and food systems urban resilience against natural and man made disasters and informal public transport Challenge of Slums United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2012-05-23 The Challenge of Slums presents the first global assessment of slums emphasizing their problems and prospects Using a newly formulated operational definition of slums it presents estimates of the number of urban slum dwellers and examines the factors at all level from local to global that underlie the formation of slums as well as their social spatial and economic characteristics and dynamics It goes on to evaluate the principal policy responses to the slum challenge of the last few decades From this assessment the immensity of the challenges that slums pose is clear Almost 1 billion people live in slums the majority in the developing world where over 40 per cent of the urban population are slum dwellers. The number is growing and will continue to increase unless there is serious and concerted action by municipal authorities governments civil society and the international community This report points the way forward and identifies the most promising approaches to achieving the United Nations Millennium Declaration targets for improving the lives of slum dwellers by scaling up participatory slum upgrading and poverty reduction programmes The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date assessment of conditions and trends in the world's cities Written in clear language and supported by informative graphics case studies and extensive statistical data it will be an essential tool and reference for researchers academics planners public authorities and civil society organizations around the world Holding Their Ground Alain Durand-Lasserve, Lauren Royston, 2012-05-23 Security of land tenure for the urban poor is now a major problem for developing cities in Africa Asia and Latin America This book presents and analyzes the main conclusions of a comparative research programme on land tenure issues It looks at how solutions can be found and implemented to respond to the demands and needs of the majority of squatters and informal settlements and analyzes how urban stakeholders with different social legal and economic constraints find innovative and flexible solutions. The book is intended to fill a gap in the literature on comparative research on tenure policies and should be useful to researchers and professionals involved in defining and instigating tenure upgrading policies and programmes concentration of land ownership as is feared by many transition governments has not been a feature of land markets where they have been allowed to function relatively freely and where land has been allocated in kind to households and individuals. The World Bank has long been active in the Europe and Central Asia region in monitoring and evaluating land reform developments and supporting the development of land markets Bank efforts to date have made a significant impact in our client countries and studies produced by the Bank have been used as impartial references on this subject by both international organizations and the countries themselves. This report was developed as a result of these efforts. It focuses on The principal issues faced by the transition economies of Eastern Europe and the Former Soviet Union The potential approaches for resolving specific problem issues.
