Ward,2019-08-26 Something's not right aboard the cruise ship Aurora Yet that's probably what you would think when you're with the girl you love and everyone else is about fifty years your senior You're 3000 miles from home young and high on emotion Maybe it just ratchets up the sense of adventure And yet perhaps something really is wrong There's the passenger everyone thought was dead but who reappears one evening in the lounge without comment or explanation And eighty-year-old Celia Soper who reads Tarot cards but only for the history of the world whatever that means And then of course the disappearances Which apparently only you two have noticed Above all there are the bright fish creatures the size of dolphins that materialise unexpectedly at intervals alongside the hull glowing with indescribable colours And which never seem to inspire the sort of delight one might expect Quite the opposite in fact The Bright Fish is a love story It deals with what it means to live lose one's heart and ultimately to die in the metaphysically reticent context of the present century Are we always essentially alone or is true interdependency possible Is death our beginning or end Or both Conversely is the truth stranger than we can possibly imagine

Isabelle Huppert Darren Waldron,Nick Rees-Roberts,2022-07-28 Featuring a lineup of distinguished academics this collection remedies the absence of scholarly attention to French cinematic legend Isabelle Huppert This volume deconstructs Huppert's star persona and public profile through critical and theoretical analysis of her various screen roles from her very early appearances alongside Romy Schneider in César et Rosalie Sautet 1972 and Gérard Depardieu in Les Valseuses 1974 to a number of celebrated collaborations with high profile European auteurs such as Catherine Breillat Claire Denis Jean-Luc Godard Michael Haneke and Joseph Losey and with more popular auteurs such as Claude Chabrol and François Ozon Known for a cerebral internalization of characterization a technical mastery of extreme emotions and a singular brand of icy intellectualism Huppert's performances continue to impress stun and surprise audiences By focusing on several theoretical questions that relate to image identity sexuality and place this volume situates Huppert's star persona in the more practical creative contexts of performance authorship genre and collaboration This volume contrasts complementary critical accounts of her stardom by working across the different periods and territories of her career
