Rethinking Pain in Person-Centred Health Care Stephen Buetow, 2020-12-30 This book explores how person centred health care could be refined to help persons alleviate pain related distress and construct pain as a potentially positive experience Rethinking Pain in Person Centred Health Care is a fascinating contribution to the multidisciplinary literature on person centred health care pain and ethics Traditionally Western intellectual culture has downplayed the intuitive and emotional promoting instead rational natural scientific perspectives Applied to pain an instrumental approach promotes the immediate and effective relief of pain due to the widespread suffering and expense it can cause However different persons experience pain in different ways and Buetow moves beyond a commitment to eliminate pain to exploring how benefits of pain could include creating and managing meaning from pain Rather than always looking to put pain behind them persons may flourish by moving around pain through pain into pain and above pain Buetow argues that this model depends on adopting a person centred approach to health care focusing less on the condition of pain and more on mobilizing the persons who present with and manage pain This book will be of interest to professionals and academics researchers in the fields of psychology and psychiatry who have a special interest in people with persistent pain conditions It will also be an invaluable resource for physiotherapists chronic pain consultants in secondary care and GPs

Psychological Approaches to Pain Management, Second Edition Dennis C. Turk,Robert J. Gatchel,2013-12-09 This book has been replaced by Psychological Approaches to Pain Management Third Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 2853 0 T&T Clark Handbook of Suffering and the Problem of Evil Matthias Grebe,Johannes Grössl,2023-07-13 This wide ranging work provides an extensive exploration of the theology of theodicy asking questions such as should all instances of suffering necessarily be understood as evil Why would an omnipotent and benevolent God allow or perpetrate evil Is God unable or unwilling to reduce human and non human suffering on Earth Does humanity have the capacity to exercise a moral evaluation of God s motives and intentions Conventional disciplinary boundaries have tended to separate theological approaches to these questions from philosophical ones This volume aims to overcome these boundaries by including biblical Part I historical Part II doctrinal Part III philosophical Part IV and pastoral interreligious perspectives and alternative intersections Part V on theodicy Authors include thinkers from analytic and continental traditions multiple Christian denominations and other religions and both established and younger scholars providing a full variety of approaches What unites the essays is an attempt to answer these questions from the perspective of biblical testimony historical scholarship modern theological and philosophical thinking about the concept of God non Christian religions science and the arts The result is a combination of in depth analysis and breadth of scope making this a benchmark work for further studies in the theology of suffering and evil

The Frail Surgical Patient Virginia Boccardi, Luigi Marano, 2025-01-27 This book explores the transdisciplinary approach to general surgery for the frail patient promoting the use of a geriatric model of care in general surgical settings and thus proposing a gerosurgery approach in frail persons beyond chronological age Aging frailty and surgical needs are increasing dramatically worldwide while surgeons are daily facing with the trouble of the trade off between short term outcomes and efficacy of surgery in older persons However recent studies have clearly shown that age itself is not a prognostic risk factor for complications after elective surgery in older patients whereas cognitive or functional frailty is Neither a referring physician nor an assessing surgeon should deny patients surgery purely based on chronological age Instead decisions should be based on a CGA comprehensive geriatric assessment with a precise picture of the patient considering the cognitive functional nutritional socioeconomic and affective status Recent studies examining the use of preparative CGA in surgical patients showed encouraging results on postoperative outcomes in old and or frail patients The most compelling current evidence comes from the orthopaedic community which has embraced the idea of multidisciplinary team care Preoperative evaluation postoperative care pain control nutritional support delirium prevention mobilization and rehabilitation are necessary also in general surgery An expert multidisciplinary team including geriatricians anaesthesiologists specialist nurses physiotherapists and nutritionists should mandatorily support surgeons With this book the reader will have an exhaustive overview and will gain essential practical knowledge on how best to manage the surgical and frail patient and how to develop clinical systems that do so reliably
