THE LONG SIESTA

Long Siesta

John A. Hawkins

Long Siesta:

Transnational, National, and Personal Voices Elisabetta Marino, 2004 The growing heterogeneity of Asian American and Asian diasporic voices has also given rise to variegated theoretical approaches to these literatures This book attempts to encompass both the increasing awareness of diasporic and transnational issues and more traditional analyses of Asian American culture and literature Thus the articles in this collection range from investigations into the politics of literary and cinematic representation to digging into the past through literary archeology or analyzing how consequential bodies can be in recent literature by Asian American and Asian diasporic women writers The book closes with an interview with critic and writer Shirley Lim where she insightfully deals with these transnational national and personal issues Elisabetta Marino is Assistant Professor of English literature at the University of Rome Tor Vergata Her main fields of interest are Asian American and Asian British literature children s literature Italian American literature Bego a Simal is Assistant Professor of English literature at the Universidade da Coru a Spain She has published critical work on both Asian American literature and comparative cross ethnic studies

The Boy & the Old Man Omar Eby, 2009-02-09 So who is Omar Eby A retired English professor tenderhearted and cynical who looks with affection and severity upon the young man he once was in Somalia Eby's first chapter Learning My Name quickly and playfully sets the tone for this fascinating memoir The Boy and the Old Man Identifying with one Omar after another Eby skips from a Taliban terrorist and a four star general to a translator of Somali tales and an Old Testament duke then recalls an English student in Mogadiscio and an Epicurean Persian poet meets a Chilean Anabaptist and finally names the close friend of Prophet Muhammad Omar ibn al Khattab You think this an exercise in narcissism Of course not the author finds too many ties linking a naive Mennonite missionary boy to Muslim society and the incredible beauty of the natural world shows too well the tensions between documented facts and dramatic memory On the horn of Africa Somali pirates seize tankers On the mainland clans fire rockets into each others quarters of Mogadishu once the capital of the Somali Republic But Omar Eby remembers another Somalia when he taught there 50 years ago Through the grid of accumulated years Eby studies that missionary boy The reader hears two voices the 23 year old boy and the 73 year old man Often the old man loves the boy often the boy embarrasses him The Somalis Eby remembers as beautiful and exasperating then in 1959 as now in 2009 The chapters are like a series of transparencies laid down one on top of the other The boys views overlaid by the mans two visits to Somalia in his thirties and then memory laid over everything With more details everything should be clearer Yet Eby writes in the Introduction we are pleasantly surprised to find that the historically reconstructed self is still blurred as muddy as the Shebelli River which flows through Somalia from the Ethiopian highlands

Layers Christina Moutsou, 2018-10-12 Across the years four people caught up in the maelstrom of a family secret attempt to come to terms with its aftermath From London to Athens from Thessaloniki to Paris their various trajectories form an intricate story like the many layers of a sumptuous cake An inner journey and at the same time a kaleidoscope of perspectives which has at its heart the never ending search for redemption An enthralling portrayal of complex emotional turmoil I marvelled at the bold handling of time Not only does it make the reader poignantly feel they are transcending time and space it makes a kind of spellbinding music out of the juxtapositions and leitmotifs lyrically woven throughout the narrative Dr Graham Frankland academic translator and editor author of Freud's Literary Culture Christina Moutsou is a Cambridge graduate in social anthropology and a psychoanalytic psychotherapist working in private practice in London Her collection of short stories has been published by Routledge in September 2018 with the title Fictional clinical narratives in relational psychoanalysis Stories from adolescence to the consulting room Layers has been translated into Greek and published by Archetipo in March 2018 with the title Black Cake

Jorge Luis Borges: The Last Interview Jorge Luis Borges, 2013-06-25 Believe me the benefits of blindness have been greatly exaggerated If I could see I would never leave the house I'd stay indoors reading the many books that surround me Jorge Luis Borges Days before his death Borges gave an intimate interview to his friend the Argentine journalist Gloria Lopez Lecube That interview is translated for the first time here giving English language readers a new insight into his life loves and thoughts about his work and country at the end of his life Accompanying that interview are a selection of the fascinating interviews he gave throughout his career Highlights include his celebrated conversations with Richard Burgin during Borges's time as a lecturer at Harvard University in which he gives rich new insights into his own works and the literature of others as well as discussing his now oft overlooked political views The pieces combine to give a new and revealing window on one of the most celebrated cultural figures of the past century
