Longing In Belonging The Cultural Politics Of Settlement:

Longing in Belonging Suzan Ilcan, 2002-04-30 The mobilization of people populations and places and the social interrelations of space and time memory and longing and the global and local are uniquely analyzed in this fascinating study Instead of viewing social and cultural relations through the lenses of rigid institutions fixed territories or rooted communities Ilcan focuses on mobile sites to explore the cultural politics of settlement This book examines the social relations of longing and belonging to be found in nation building ethnographic practices dwelling and diasporas Ilcan propels us into various dimensions of movement as well as social relations in the fields of dispersion transition and displacement Drawing on insights from cultural studies sociology and anthropology she inquires into contemporary and critical issues on the movement of peoples Transitional communities represent the tensions and risks confronting those compelled to leave home or those for whom a sense of longing superseded any feeling of belonging This book provides fresh insight into the placement and displacement of particular social groups including guest workers migrants and immigrants Ilcan covers the varieties of diasporic relations and the settlements they form as well as the manifold ways in which they affect traditional practices of settlement She considers the cultural economic and political implications of globalization evoking the struggle in our places of habitation and the strategies deployed to subvert our habits of settlement Spaces of Longing and Belonging

, 2019-07-01 Spaces of Longing and Belonging offers the reader theoretical and interpretative studies of spatiality centered on a variety of literary and cultural contexts It brings new and complementary insights to bear on creative uses of spatiality in artistic texts and generally into the field of spatiality as a cultural phenomenon especially although not exclusively in terms of literary space Ranging over questions of aesthetics politics sociohistorical concerns issues of postcoloniality transculturality ecology and features of interpersonal spaces among others the essays provide a considerable collection of innovative pieces of scholarship on important questions relating to literary spatiality generally as well as detailed analyses of particular works and authors The volume includes ground breaking theoretical investigations of crucial dimensions of spatiality in a context of increased global awareness

We Are Now a Nation Daphne Winland, 2013-06-17 The Yugoslav War of Succession had untold ramifications for those living in the embattled region What often goes overlooked however is the impact that the war had on people from the former Yugoslavia who were living abroad We are Now a Nation considers the effect that the war and the independence of Croatia had on Croatian diaspora homeland relations In doing so it confronts complex questions of ideology nostalgia social suffering nationalism and identity politics as manifested in the relationship between diaspora and homeland Croats Daphne Winland draws upon extensive multi sited ethnographic research in both Toronto and Croatia from 1992 to the present exploring the problematic nature of Croatian identity The occasion of Croatian independence she suggests resulted in the emergence of a politics of desire and disdain which further complicated efforts to define Croatness Hrvatsstvo both at home and abroad The idea of the Croatian homeland has become therefore an ambiguous space of identification a source of either conflict and tension or unity and pride a place to remember to forget or to return to

The first book length examination of North American Croatian diaspora responses to war and independence We are Now a Nation highlights the contradictions and paradoxes of contemporary debates about identity politics and place Adjusting the Lens Freya Schiwy, Byrt Wammack Weber, 2017-07-28 Adjusting the Lens offers a detailed analysis of contemporary independent indigenous language audiovisual production in Mexico and in Mexican migrant communities in the United States The contributors relate the styles and forms of collaborative and community media production to socially critical transformative resistant and constitutive processes off screen thereby exploring the political within the context of the media The chapters show how diasporic media makers map novel interpretations of image and sound into existing audiovisual discourses to communicate social and cultural changes within their communities that counter stereotypical representations in commercial television and cinema and contribute to a newfound communal identity The new media expose the conflict of social movements and or indigenous and rural communities with the state challenge Eurocentrism and globalization and reveal the power of audiovisual production to affect political change Syrian-Armenian Women Migrants in Armenia Anahid Matossian, 2025-01-23 After the outbreak of the 2011 Syrian War a number Syrian Armenians who had lived in the territory for generations fled to the Republic of Armenia This book traces the experiences of Syrian Armenian women as they navigated their changing and gendered identities from their adopted homeland to their socially constructed new ancestral home in Armenia The rich ethnographic research conducted over 6 years by the author reveals how women adjusted to new lives in Armenia supported themselves through gendered work such as embroidery production yet mostly challenge simple identities such as refugee or repatriate existing in a state of what the author terms painful belonging The book further reveals crucial insight into how experiences and traumatic memories of war in Syria and the Nagorno Karabakh conflict reciprocally shape each other in the minds of the women interviewed Changing Values and Identities in the Post-Communist World Nadezhda Lebedeva, Radosveta Dimitrova, John Berry, 2018-04-04 This book offers a comparative analysis of value and identity changes in several post Soviet countries In light of the tremendous economic social and political changes in former communist states the authors compare the values attitudes and identities of different generations and cultural groups Based on extensive empirical data using quantitative and qualitative methods to study complex social identities this book examines how intergenerational value and identity changes are linked to socio economic and political development Topics include the rise of nationalist sentiments identity formation of ethnic and religious groups and minorities youth identity formation and intergenerational value conflicts Agricultural Standards Jim Bingen, Lawrence Busch, 2006-03-08 Food and agricultural standards have recently risen to the top of both national and international agendas Popular concerns about the power of the World Trade Organization focus on the intertwined relationships between environmental protection labor and human rights and the standards used to produce and supply our food and fiber globally

In the developing world agricultural grades and standards are an important part of the reconfiguration of roles and responsibilities between various public and private actors in market reform. This original and informative collection of studies of agri food standards in the modern economy addresses these and helps to define the scope of the emerging study of the politics of standards setting. Following an overview essay dealing with the multiple ways of thinking about approaching and defining food and agricultural standards, eleven case studies offer a rich body of evidence that assesses the processes, dynamics and potential consequences of global agri food standards. For all interested in the strategic use of food and agricultural standards, from those in national and international governmental agencies, researchers and others in the academic and private sector to those in the private business sector, this volume offers a broader perspective on and will serve as an important resource.

Reproducing Chinese Culture in Diaspora Shu-min Huang, 2010-01-01. Reproducing Chinese Culture in Diaspora describes how a group of anti communist Chinese nationals managed to establish a farming community in Thailand's northern hills after voluntary exile from communist China in 1949. Though successful from an agricultural sustainability standpoint, this community of Chinese exiles has rigidly maintained its cultural ideals, driving away younger generations and ultimately threatening to derail the community's continued existence.

Placing the Border in Everyday Life Reece Jones, Corey Johnson, 2016-04-22. Bordering no longer happens only at the borderline separating two sovereign states but rather through a wide range of practices and decisions that occur in multiple locations within and beyond the state's territory. Nevertheless, it is too simplistic to suggest that borders are everywhere since this view fails to acknowledge that particular sites are significant nodes where border work is done. Similarly, border work is more likely to be done by particular people than others. This book investigates the diffusion of bordering narratives and practices by asking who borders and how. Placing the Border in Everyday Life complicates the connection between borders and sovereign states by identifying the individuals and organizations that engage in border work at a range of scales and places. This edited volume includes contributions from major international scholars in the field of border studies and allied disciplines who analyze where and why border work is done. By combining a new theorization of border work beyond the state with rich empirical case studies, this book makes a ground breaking contribution to the study of borders and the state in the era of globalization.

The State of Algeria Malika Rebai Maamri, 2015-10-12. Algeria's current politics are influenced by its colonial period under the French to an extent not seen in other North African and Middle Eastern states. Indeed, Malika Rebai Maamri argues that Algeria's postcolonial history and politics are in fact a series of attempts to come to terms with the dire consequences of this colonial past. With over half a century having passed since independence, the country is still struggling to create a unified Algerian identity, and any discussion on the concept highlights how all too frequently the concept of identity can serve as a form of exclusion. Exploring a wide range of issues in Algerian society such as the political, cultural, social, economic and gender relations, Rebai Maamri shows how belonging and citizenship are produced and perceived. In doing so, she offers in depth analysis of a country which is often side lined in the study of the Middle East and North Africa and yet is a vital component in the search for a post colonial identity and state in the region The Undeserving Polish Migrants Magdalena Brzeska,2025-09-15 The Undeserving Polish Migrants Homeless in a Place Called Home offers insights into aiding the Polish community s path out of homelessness while also shedding light on inadequacies in current policies addressing non British born homeless groups and the need for clearer regulations Transnational Social Policy Luann Good Gingrich,Stefan Köngeter,2017-04-28 Transnational Social Policy highlights the changing face of social policy and social work against the background of accelerating transnationalization of economies labour markets education social services and care The contributions of this book provide unique case examples on the interplay of social policies mobile populations and travelling knowledge about welfare within an increasingly asymmetrical global context This innovative volume also includes historical studies on the transformations of social policies during the last century and reflects the developments of social welfare across the Global North and the Global South With its emphasis on theoretical assumptions of policy translation the case studies show the importance of adjustments negotiations and participation of various actors in the transnational social field of welfare production Thus within ever shifting contexts of new political agendas promoting the free play of the market and a neoliberal agenda of competition and austerity this insightful book reveals new transnational forms of social exclusion that function within across and in between nation states Presenting a major and much needed addition to current discussions on globalization and the increasing complexity of worldwide social relations this volume will be of interest to scholars and graduate students interested in fields such as Social Policy Social Work Public Administration Development Studies Political Science and Sociology as well as many interdisciplinary fields including Global Studies International Development Studies and Immigration and Settlement Studies Mobilities, Mobility Justice and Social Justice Nancy Cook,David Butz,2018-10-03 This book offers a cutting edge overview of mobility mobility justice and social justice with contributions from a broad range of leading scholars Mobility justice is understood as a way to frame the entanglements of power and social exclusion in the mobilities of humans things and ideas as well as to differential and unequal access to movement and the ability to move The introductory chapters firmly ground the concept of mobility justice and social justice with the proceeding chapters covering a range of topics from race sexuality ferry justice and aeromobility justice animal mobilities design and food mobilities Mixed Methods Social Networks Research Silvia Domínguez,Betina Hollstein,2014-06-30 This edited volume demonstrates the potential of mixed methods designs for the research of social networks and the utilization of social networks for other research Mixing methods applies to the combination and integration of qualitative and quantitative methods In social network research mixing methods also applies to the combination of structural and actor oriented approaches The volume provides readers with methodological concepts to guide mixed method network studies with precise research designs and methods to investigate social networks of various sorts Each chapter describes the research design used and discusses the strengths of the methods for that particular field and for specific outcomes Governing the Poor Suzan Ilcan, Anita Lacey, 2011-03-14 Every day we are barraged by statistics images and emotional messages that present poverty as a problem to be quantified managed and solved Global generations present the poor as a heterogeneous group and stress globalized solutions to the problem of poverty Governing the Poor exposes the ways in which such generalized descriptions and quantifications marginalize the poor and their experiences The Prison Boundary Jennifer Turner, 2016-07-13 This book explores the idea of the prison boundary identifying where it is located which processes and performances help construct and animate it and who takes part in them Although the relationship between prison and non prison has garnered academic interest from various disciplines in the last decade the cultural performance of the boundary has been largely ignored This book adds to the field by exploring the complexity of the material and symbolic connections that exist between society and carceral space Drawing on a range of cultural examples including governmental legislation penal tourism prisoner work programmes and art by offenders Jennifer Turner attends to the everyday practised manifestations and negotiations of the prison boundary The book reveals how prisoners actively engage with life outside of prison and how members of the public may cross the boundary to the inside In doing so it shows the prison boundary to be a complex patchwork of processes people and parts The book will be of great interest to scholars and upper level students of criminology carceral geography and cultural studies The Shape of Belonging for Unaccompanied Young Migrants Özlem Ögtem-Young, 2024-05-28 Unaccompanied children and adolescents seeking protection in the UK are among the most vulnerable migrant groups and often find themselves in a hostile policy environment after enduring traumatic journeys This book offers an in depth analysis of the lived experiences of belonging and the politics and policies of migration Focusing on unaccompanied young migrants it investigates the conditions and nature of belonging in the face of the uncertainty ambiguity and violence of the UK asylum system Drawing on interviews and the Deleuzo Guattarian concepts of assemblage the book provides an empirical and theoretical examination of the belonging of unaccompanied young migrants seeking protection in the UK Through compelling accounts the author portrays the complex and paradoxical nature of belonging under precarious conditions shedding light on the tenacity and fragility of belonging for unaccompanied young migrants Postmodernism and the Ethical Subject Barbara Gabriel, Suzan Ilcan, 2004 This interdisciplinary study situates the recent interest in ethics within radical post modern shifts about knowledge and value Migration, Settlement, and the Concepts of House and Home Iris Levin, 2015-11-19 How do migrants feel at home in their houses Literature on the migrant house and its role in the migrant experience of home building is inadequate This book offers a theoretical framework based on the notion of home building and the concepts of home and house embedded within it It presents innovative research on four groups of migrants who have settled in two metropolitan cities in two periods migrants from Italy migrated in the 1950s and 1960s and from mainland China migrated in the 1990s and 2000s in Melbourne Australia and migrants from Morocco migrated in the 1950s and 1960s and from the former Soviet Union migrated in the 1990s and 2000s in Tel Aviv Israel The analysis draws on qualitative data gathered from forty six in depth interviews with migrants in their home environments including extensive visual data Levin argues that the physical form of the house is meaningful in a range of diverse ways during the process of home building and that each migrant group constructs a distinct form of home building in their homes houses according to their specific circumstances of migration namely the origin country country of destination and period of migration as well as the historical economic and social contexts around migration Transgressions Ingereth Macfarlane,Mark Hannah,2007-12-01 This volume brings together an innovative set of readings of complex interactions between Australian Aboriginal people and colonisers It has its origins in 2003 when Mark Hannah then a doctoral student in the Centre for Cross Cultural Research at The Australian National University invited a group of early career scholars to meet in Canberra They brought their diverse social science and humanities backgrounds to the uncovering of creative Indigenous responses to the colonial encounter in Australia and fresh ways of writing about these Their studies were focused in diverse parts of Australia and on different time periods but shared a common interest in developing critical re assessments of Australian colonial and anti colonial histories Their meeting encouraged face to face exchanges that could short circuit the isolation often experienced by cross disciplinary original scholars It also emphasised writerly aspects of creative thinking promoting the portrayal of character alternative prose styles and inventive narrative forms The authors responses to these invitations have flavoured the commissioned papers presented here The critical and creative drives which inform them shines out in their writing They are exciting and sometimes surprising in the angles they take and the cross overs of genre or subject that they offer Provided by publisher
