Decision Making and Healthcare Management for Frontline Staff Russell Gurbutt, Sarah Charlesworth, 2018-04-19 Do you want to be a part of a service that puts service users needs first Do you want to understand the complexity of workplaces that can seem to stand in the way of achieving this Do you want to develop your decision making skills to help you make realistic relevant decisions that put the service user first Do you want to develop a strategic perspective whilst still being able to attend to the detail of service delivery If the answer to these questions is yes read this book To be actively involved in decisions and to avoid becoming passive spectators to decisions imposed from outside service delivery staff need strong decision making skills and strategic awareness Decision Making and Healthcare Management for Frontline Staff helps provide the thinking space needed by service providers to ensure that the service user's experience remains the core focus and purpose It leads readers through a series of reference points to help them reflect upon and understand their own clinical situation the factors that shape decisions made within it and how they can actively engage with that process The book will be essential reading for frontline healthcare staff and managers in all specialties who wish to understand factors in health service delivery beyond their own immediate professional interests and engage actively with them to shape decisions It also provides educators with a practical framework of six learning units around which healthcare management teaching and learning modules can be designed and discussions and reflection can be held This is not just another book Russell Gurbutt has managed in this short book to look at health service management from a multitude of perspectives in an original and creative way This is not a stuffy text book but is written in a very personal style to the reader I recommend this book to all health professionals whether at the beginning of their career or those who need a fresh insight into their own managerial position as well as educators who may want to use the coffee break exercises with their students From the Foreword by Pat Donovan

Strategic Management in Public Services Organizations Ewan Ferlie, Edoardo Ongaro, 2015-02-20 Strategic Management in Public Services Organizations sets out to connect the two traditionally disparate academic literatures of public management and strategic management The authors argue that some models of strategic management are now of enhanced relevance for contemporary public services organizations especially when considering successive New Public Management reforms This observation has important consequences for the requisite work practices skills and knowledge bases of current public managers as they are increasingly being asked to act as strategic as well as operational managers Strategic Management in Public Services Organizations takes a strongly comparative and international perspective in addressing the fundamental issue of strategic management within diverse public administrative traditions The impact of strategic management on the performance of public agencies is examined and it is argued that the appropriate use of strategic management models depends on the politico administrative and cultural contexts of the public services organization in question concluding that there is no single best way to strategically lead public organisations This is an advanced textbook aimed at the postgraduate level particularly students on MPAs and MBAs with a public sector option or MScs in Public Policy and Public Management

Developing Public Service Leaders Mike Wallace, Michael Reed, Dermot O'Reilly, Michael Tomlinson, Jonathan Morris, Rosemary Deem, 2022-10-17 Developing Public Service Leaders examines why and how governments and representative bodies in public service organizations have mounted major interventions over the last two decades to develop senior staff as leaders A critical explanation is developed of the foundational contribution made by national leadership development interventions in the 2000s to the emergence proliferation and normalization of leadership development provision Through carrying out qualitative research in England the authors investigate the national leadership development interventions for school education healthcare and higher education Whilst also looking at the contemporary legacy of these interventions within a global scale examining the growing international movement and comparing interventions across the world The book looks at new ways to approach leadership development adopting a novel perspective on leadership as a metaphorical concept and coining the concept of leaderism and exploring how although senior staff may be widely acculturated as leaders they may not necessarily be committed to acting as government change agents Leadership development makes a diffuse contribution towards the ongoing neoliberalization of public services Developing Public Service Leaders is a comprehensive and essential read for a researcher or policymaker striving for an in depth understanding of the field and its ramifications
