Mangan Inheritance:

The Mangan Inheritance Brian Moore, 2011-08-09 Not so long ago James Mangan was a brilliant young poet These days however he toils as a journalist and shivers in the shadow of his glamorous movie star wife And now she has left him for her lover Adrift and depressed Jamie takes refuge with his father in whose house he turns up a 19th century daguerreotype bearing the initials J M and depicting a man who as it happens is Jamie s spitting image Could this be the only existing photograph of his purported ancestor the legendarily dissolute Irish poet James Clarence Mangan Obsessed by this strange resemblance and aided by an unexpected financial windfall Jamie heads to Ireland thinking at last to discover that elusive entity himself Instead in the dreary coastal village of Drishane he meets the Mangans derelict Eileen sullen Dinny drunken and shrunken Conor and the sexy and very available Kathleen They know something for sure something to do with Jamie and something they don t want him to find out The Mangan Inheritance is melodrama at its most inventive and suggestive an inquiry into the problem of identity and the nature of ancestry that beguiles the reader with dark deeds wild humor and weird goings on on its way towards a shocking and terrifying and utterly satisfying conclusion New York Magazine

, 1979-12-31 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Irish

Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 Arranged chronologically by decade from the 1890s to the 1990s each decade is divided into two different types of writing critical documentary and imaginative writing and is accompanied by a headnote which situates it thematically and chronologically The Reader is also structured for thematic study by listing all the pieces included under a series of topic headings The wide range of material encompasses writings of well known figures in the Irish canon and neglected writers alike This will appeal to the general reader but also makes Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century ideal as a core text providing a unique focus for detailed study in a single volume BOOK JACKET

Landscapes of Encounter Liam Gearon, 2002 Brian Moore 1921 1999 is one of the few novelists whose literary portrayal of Catholicism effectively spans the period prior to and following the Second Vatican Council Many critics have discussed how Moore s life is reflected in his works while others have dismissed his fictions as simple narratives in the mould of classical realism In this timely book Gearon contends that Moore s fictions are far more complex as he was one of the great observers of Catholicism in all its modern and historical controversy Four Contemporary Novels Kerry

McSweeney, 1983-01-01 Four Contemporary Novelists offer accounts of the fiction of Angus Wilson Brian Moore John Fowles and V S Naipaul The author has charted the development of each writer identified dominant themes controlling techniques and informing sensibility explained what each has tried to accomplish and compare theory to practice provided an appropriate context for appreciation and evaluation of all parts of each canon and made qualitative discriminations

Religion and Sexuality Michael A. Hayes, Wendy Porter, David Tombs, 2016-10-06 This volume on a provocative set of topics presents papers from the 1997 conference on Religion and Sexuality at Roehampton Institute London The papers do not confine themselves to contemporary discussion of the topics concerned but range widely in their discourse and discuss this relationship in social theological and political contexts      The Ogham Stone Gerald Dawe, Michael Mulreany, 2001

Brian Moore Jo O'Donoghue, 1991-01-01 Moore grew up in Northern Ireland and as a young man spent a number of years travelling throughout Europe while working for the British Ministry of War Transport In 1948 he left for Montreal where he began his literary career While living in Canada he supported his writing by working as a proof reader reporter and pseudonymous thriller writer He wrote his first serious novel Judith Hearne during a stay of several months in a log cabin in Quebec's Laurentian Mountains After eleven years in Canada he was awarded a Guggenheim fellowship and moved to New York He eventually moved to Hollywood to write a film for Alfred Hitchcock and now lives in Malibu California Jo O'Donoghue identifies Moore as a writer particularly interested both in questions of religion and in a world he believes to have largely abandoned traditional spiritual values Moore's Irish Catholic upbringing she demonstrates has located him in an enclosed self-sufficient community with a strong sense of the spiritual O'Donoghue regards Moore as remarkable among modern male novelists for the depth of his interest in women and the sensitivity and acuteness of his insights into women's psychology Although Moore in a literary career spanning more than thirty years has published sixteen novels and one work of reportage and has won numerous literary prizes he has only recently attracted the sort of consistent critical acclaim which is his due The Colour of Blood finally secured recognition for him as one of the truly important novelists of the late twentieth century O'Donoghue's study is the first major critical analysis of the work of this gifted and accomplished writer      Dublin Christopher Morash, 2023-03-09 The words of its writers are part of the texture of Dublin an invisible counterpart to the bricks and pavement we see around us Beyond the ever-present footsteps of James Joyce's characters Leopold Bloom or Stephen Dedalus around the city centre an ordinary looking residential street overlooking Dublin Bay for instance presents the house where Nobel Laureate Seamus Heaney lived for many years a few blocks away is the house where another Nobel Laureate W.B. Yeats was born Just down the coast is the pier linked to yet another Samuel Beckett from which we can see the Martello Tower that is the setting for the opening chapter of Ulysses But these are only a few Step by step Dublin A Writer's City unfolds a book lover's map of this unique city inviting us to experience what it means to live in a great city of literature The book is heavily illustrated and features custom maps      English Literature, Theology and the Curriculum Liam Francis Gearon, 1999-01-10 The Theology in Dialogue Series explores the relationship between theology and different secular academic disciplines which appear within the degree programs of colleges and universities Each volume begins with a chapter and a reply providing a thoughtful justification for the interaction of theology and the particular subject This is followed by a theoretical analysis of this interaction and a range of case studies illustrating the situation in the classroom

English Literature Theology and the Curriculum explores the nature and authority of religious writings and their influence on secular literature What makes it distinctive is the manner in which it investigates the textual dynamic between the two disciplines by combining both theory and case study in a single collection of writings It discusses interdisciplinary dialogue offers case studies on literature and theology from Anglo Saxon verse to the twentieth century novel and looks at curriculum considerations The eminence and breadth of the contributors is outstanding Praise for English Literature Theology and the Curriculum A superbly rich collection as valuable to those involved in literary studies as to theologians It breathes life and real engagement Times Educational Supplement Fascinating and scholarly collection This is an excellent book Though some of the chapters are better than others none is a dud Its contributors and editor are to be congratulated Journal of Beliefs and Values These substantial essays deserve more extensive comment than a brief review permits Liam Gearon s chapter prompted this reviewer to embark on a reading of Brian Moore s work a rewarding undertaking for which his chapter proved an invaluable guide International Journal of Children s Spirituality Perhaps what is most noteworthy about Liam Gearon s edited volume is that it combines theory with practical applications and concludes with reflections on the implications for teaching ample food for thought for instructors designing courses in literature theology or interdisciplinary subjects mocking eye on the mating rituals and money grubbing habits of the middle classes the pretensions of aspiring artists and writers bureaucratic corruption drunken clowning provincial ignorance petty cruelty on Russian life in short Chekhov was already developing his distinctive ear for spoken language its opacities and evasions the clichés we shelter behind and the clichés that betray us The lively stories in The Prank feature both the themes and the characteristic tone that make Chekhov among the most influential and beloved of modern writers The Little Town Where Time Stood Still Bohumil

Hrabal, 2015-06-30 The Little Town Where Time Stood Still contains two linked narratives by the incomparable Bohumil Hrabal whom Milan Kundera has described as Czechoslovakia's greatest writer Cutting It Short is set before World War II in a small country town and it relates the scandalizing escapades of Maryka the flamboyant wife of Francin who manages the local brewery Maryka drinks She rides a bicycle letting her long hair fly She butchers pigs frolics in blood and leads on the local butcher She's a Madame Bovary without apologies driven to keep up with the new fast paced mechanized modern world that is obliterating whatever sleepy pieties are left over from the defunct Austro-Hungarian Empire The Little Town Where Time Stood Still is told by Maryka and Francin's son and concerns the exploits of his Uncle Pepin who holds his own against the occupying Nazis but succumbs to silence as the new post World War II Communist order cements its colorless control over daily life Together Hrabal's rousing and outrageous yarns stand as a hilarious and heartbreaking tribute to the always imperiled sweetness of lust love and life Family Lexicon Natalia Ginzburg, 2017-04-25 A masterpiece of European literature that blends family memoir and fiction An Italian family sizable with its routines and rituals crazes pet phrases and stories doubtful comical indispensable comes to life in the pages of Natalia Ginzburg's Family Lexicon Giuseppe Levi the father is a scientist consumed by his work and a mania for hiking when he isn't provoked into angry remonstrance by someone misspeaking or misbehaving or wearing the wrong thing Giuseppe is Jewish married to Lidia a Catholic though neither is religious they live in the industrial city of Turin where as the years pass their children find ways of their own to medicine marriage literature politics It is all very ordinary except that the background to the story is Mussolini's Italy in its steady downward descent to race law and world war The Levis are among other things unshakeable anti fascists That will complicate their lives Family Lexicon is about a family and language and about storytelling not only as a form of survival but also as an instrument of deception and domination The book takes the shape of a novel yet everything is true Every time that I have found myself inventing something in accordance with my old habits as a novelist I have felt impelled at once to destroy it Ginzburg tells us at the start The places events and people are all real The Dead Girls' Class Trip Anna

Seghers, 2021-06-15 A new translation of the best and most provocative short stories by the author of Transit and The Seventh Cross Best known for the anti fascist novel The Seventh Cross and the existential thriller Transit Anna Seghers was also a gifted writer of short fiction The stories she wrote throughout her life reflect her political activism as well as her deep engagement with myth they are also some of her most formally experimental work This selection of Seghers's best stories written between 1925 and 1965 displays the range of her creativity over the years. It includes her most famous short fiction such as the autobiographical The Dead, Girls in Class, Trip and others like Jans Is Going to Die that have been translated into English here for the first time. There are psychologically penetrating stories about young men corrupted by desperation and women bound by circumstance as well as enigmatic tales of bewilderment and enchantment based on myths and legends like The Best Tales of Woynek, the Thief, The Three Trees and Tales of Artemis. In her stories Seghers used the German language in especially unconventional and challenging ways and Margot Bettauer Dembo's sensitive and skilled translation preserves this distinction.

English Renaissance Poetry John Williams, 2016-02-23 AN ANTHOLOGY FROM THE AUTHOR OF STONER Poetry in English as we know it was largely invented in England between the early 1500s and 1630 and yet for many years the poetry of the era was considered little more than a run up to Shakespeare. The twentieth century brought a reevaluation and the English Renaissance has since come to be recognized as the period of extraordinary poetic experimentation that it was. Never since have the possibilities of poetic form and especially poetic voice from the sublime to the scandalous and slangy been so various and inviting. This is poetry that speaks directly across the centuries to the renaissance of poetic exploration in our own time. John Williams's celebrated anthology includes not only some of the most famous poems by some of the most famous poets of the English language Sir Thomas Wyatt, John Donne and of course Shakespeare but also and this is what makes Williams's book such a rare and rich resource the strikingly original work of little known masters like George Gascoigne and Fulke Greville.

Memory Ireland Oona Frawley, 2012-03-29 In the second volume of a series that will ultimately include four, the authors consider Irish diasporic memory and memory practices. While the Irish diaspora has become the subject of a wide range of scholarship, there has been little work focused on its relationship to memory. The first half of the volume asks how diasporic memory functions in different places and times and what forms it takes on. As an island nation with a history of emigration, Ireland has developed a rich diasporic cultural memory, one that draws on multiple traditions and historiographies of both home and away. Native traditions are not imported wholesale but instead develop their own curious hybridity reflecting the nature of emigrant memory that absorbs new ways of thinking about home. How do immigrants remember their homeland? How do descendants of immigrants remember a land they rarely visit? How does diasporic memory pass through families and how is it represented in cultural forms such as literature, festivals and souvenirs? In its second half, this volume shifts its attention to the concept of memory practices, ways of cultural remembering that result from and are shaped by particular cultural forms. Many of these cultural forms embody memory materially through language, music and photography and because of their distinctive expressions of culture give rise to distinctive memory practices. Gathering the leading voices in Irish studies, this volume opens new pathways into the body of Irish cultural memory, demonstrating time and again the ways in which memory is supported by the negotiations of individuals within wider cultural contexts. Contributors include Aidan Arrowsmith, Hasia Diner, Joep Leerssen, Paul Muldoon.

Nuala N Dhomhnaill     In Love Alfred Hayes, 2013-07-23 This heart stoppingly good masterpiece about a crumbling love affair in 1950s New York perfectly captures the desperate desire for love and the recognition that it is slipping away Slate One of the greatest bleakest breakup stories ever told The New York Observer New York in the 1950s A man on a barstool is telling a story about a woman he met in a bar early married and soon divorced her child farmed out to her parents good looking if a little past her prime They d gone out they d grown close but as far as he was concerned it didn t add up to much He was a busy man Then one day out dancing she runs into a rich awkward lovelorn businessman He ll pay for her to be his pay her a lot And now the narrator discovers that he is as much in love with her as she is with him perhaps more though it will take him a while to realize just how utterly lost he is Executed with the cool smoky brilliance of a classic Miles Davis track In Love is an unequaled exploration of the tethered and untethered heart
