Manhattan Primitive Robert A. Carter, 1971 International Book Publishing: An Encyclopedia Philip G. Altbach, Edith S. Hoshino, 2015-05-08 First Published in 1996 This encyclopedia is unique in several ways As the first international reference source on publishing it is a pioneering venture Our aim is to provide comprehensive discussion and analysis of key subjects relating to books and publishing worldwide The sixty four essays included here feature not only factual and statistical information about the topic but also analysis and evaluation of those facts and figures The chapters are significantly more comprehensive than those typically found in an encyclopedia Nobody yet Knows Who I Am Robert Ayres Carter, 2007-08-30 Nobody Yet Knows Who I Am A Personal History 1943 1953 is the second volume in Robert Ayres Carters memoir The first volume Sundays Child was published in 2005 by Xlibris This volume opens with the authors military service as an enlisted man in the United States Army in World War II highlighted by a tour of duty in the China Burma Theater Returning to the States in 1946 Mr Carters story then resumes with his career as a book salesman a student in New York City a Fulbright Scholar at the Sorbonne in Paris and as an Instructor of French at Stephens College in Columbia Missouri The book closes in 1953 with Mr Carter once again back in New York City this time determined on a career as a professional writer Flying to Calcutta Robert Ayres Carter, 2005-03-28 Tell Me the Truth About Love Robert Ayres Carter, 2008-10-31 Praise for Sundays Child Carter has written a memoir that captures the quintessential America that now seems to be slipping away from us A real treat John Tebbel author and Journalist Deeply moving the book is a delight and of course you write like a dream Congratulations on what I believe we used to call a great read and more than that a deeply affecting record Ellen Feldman author of Lucy and The Scottsboro Boys Praise for Nobody Yet Knows Who I Am In volume two of Robert Carters memoirs the reader is again treated to the authors ruthlessly stark self appraisal Through the extraordinarily clarity of prose the reader seems to share his experiences immediately rather than through the medium of words His descriptions of his lovers friends and passing acquaintances drive the reader along James Scanlon Professor Emeritus of History Randolph Macon College Club; Novel Earl Conrad, 1974 September Song Robert Ayres Carter, 2007-08-27 September Song is a collection of stories and a full length play written over a span of fifteen years in the authors long writing career The settings of the stories range from China to California and Vermont the play Guests of Summer is set in Nebraska Orville Prescott in the New York Times called one of the stories OHaras Creation a provocative study of an artist lost in alcoholism given an extra push downward by the monotony of his soldier life in China and the fantastic mural he painted on the walls of a recreation hall The Post-9/11 City in Novels Karolina Golimowska, 2016-03-01 Post 9 11 fiction reflects how the September 11 2001 attacks have influenced our concept of public space from urban behavior patterns to architecture and urban movement It also suggests a need for remapping the real and imagined spaces where we live and work Through close readings of novels from both sides of the Atlantic this analysis of the
