Man's Best Friends - True Stories of the World's Most Heroic Dogs John McShane, 2012-07-27 For thousands of years, men and women have known who to turn to in times of trouble: a dog. All over the world, dogs have risked and often lost their lives to look after the human beings they care for. Their intelligence, devotion and astonishing courage to help humans in distress on countless occasions almost defies belief. Their stories range from Roselle the Labrador who led her blind owner to safety from the carnage of the World Trade Centre to the legends of Balto and Togo, two of the huskies who traversed over 1 000 kilometres of snow and ice to bring life-saving medicine to an isolated town and Swansea. Jack the black Labrador who rescued almost 30 people from drowning and who had a statue erected in his honour. Many of the dogs featured in this book have been specially trained to help humans, a task they eagerly set about regardless of the physical risk they face as a result. Then there are the family pets who, when danger threatens, react with total disregard for their own wellbeing, caring only about one thing: protecting the humans they love. Jean, Our Little Australian Cousin Mary F. Peaceful Personalities and Warriors Bold Frederic Villiers, 1907 Mousy Cats and Sheepish

Coyotes John A. Shivik, 2017-11-07 A wildlife expert explores what science tells us about animals as unique individuals and why animal personality matters for the human animal bond and for adaptation in nature Why are some cats cuddly and others standoffish Why are some dogs adventuresome others homebodies As any pet owner can attest we feel that the animals we've formed bonds with are unique as particular and peculiar as any human friend or loved one Recent years have brought an increased understanding of animal intelligence and emotion But is there a scientific basis for animal personality and individuality or is this notion purely sentimental It turns out that science has been reluctant to even broach the subject of individuality until recently But now a fundamental shift in scientific understanding is underway as mainstream scientists begin to accept the idea that animals of all kinds from beloved beasts like apes and birds to decidedly less cuddly creatures like crabs and spiders do indeed have individual personalities In Mousy Cats and Sheepish Coyotes veteran wildlife expert Dr John A Shivik brings us stories from the front lines of this exciting new discipline Drawing on his scientific training as well as his storytelling gifts Shivik serves as an accessible humorous guide to the emerging body of research on animal personalities Shivik accompanies researchers who are discovering that each wolf bear and coyote has an inherent tendency to favor either its aggressive nature or to shyly avoid conflicts Some bluebirds are lovers others are fighters And some spiders prefer to be loners while others are sociable Unique personalities can be discovered in every corner of the animal kingdom even among microscopic organisms The array of personality types among all species is only beginning to be described and understood As Shivik argues animals unique personalities are important not only because they determine which animals we bond with Individual animal traits are also fundamental but still inadequately understood drivers of evolution adaptation and species diversity Ultimately Mousy Cats and Sheepish Coyotes offers insight into the similarities humans share with animals and presents evidence of an unbroken biological connection from the smallest organisms to Homo sapiens
