Muslim Brotherhoods And Politics In Senegal:

Muslim Brotherhoods and Politics in Senegal Lucy C. Behrman, 1970 Muslim Families in Global Senegal Beth Buggenhagen, 2012-02-06 A first rate ethnography of Muslim women in Dakar an extremely fine grained analysis of women s exchange networks Robert Launay Northwestern University Senegalese Murid migrants have circulated cargo and currency through official and unofficial networks in Africa and the world Muslim Families in Global Senegal focuses on trade and the transmission of enduring social value though cloth videos of life cycle rituals and religious offerings Highlighting women s participation in these networks and the financial strategies they rely on Beth Buggenhagen reveals the deep connections between economic profits and ritual and social authority Buggenhagen discovers that these strategies are not responses to a dispersed community in crisis but rather produce new roles wealth and worth for Senegalese women in all parts of the globe A lively insightful and important study of exchange practices between Senegal and a circuit of global trade The innovative focus is on the meanings not the social and economic functions of exchange Karen Tranberg Hansen Northwestern University While the author s focus is on the transformation in the role of women both within the family network and in the marketplace the book allows readers to better understand the impact of globalism on the citizens of Senegal Recommended Choice

New Perspectives on Islam in Senegal M. Diouf, M. Leichtman, 2009-01-05 This book brings together scholars for their fresh perspectives on religious conversion transnational migration economic globalization and the politics of education power and femininity in African Islam in Senegal Political Participation and Identities of Muslims in Non-Muslim States W. A. R. Shadid, P. S. van Koningsveld, 1996 The involvement of minorities in politics has been the subject of a considerable number of studies However these studies are rarely concerned with the views of Muslims on their participation in the political processes of non Muslim societies Several Western scholars have thought and still think that the world from the perspective of Muslims can be divided in accordance with the dichotomy of the classical Islamic Law that distinguishes between the Territory of Islam and the Territory of War however during the last decennia various Muslim scholars have tried to reinterpret the position of Muslims in non Muslim societies in new religious terms by which this classification has been emended and corrected In this book four different views are distinguished the pragmatic idealistic or utopian re interpretative and traditionalist views It goes without saying that the practical implementaion of these views to a large degree depends upon the types of Muslim organizations and representative bodies in those societies as well as their denominational and ethnical backgrounds From an international comparative perspective it appears that contrary to the situation in Australia Muslims of most Western European states have been thus far unsuccessful in creating representative organizations at national levels This is also illustrated by studies of Muslim organizations in Germany Italy and the united Kingdom Another important factor consists of the views of the younger generations of Muslim immigrants about the compatibility of their Islamic identiity and full participation in the non Muslim secular societies in which they are living

Paden, 2023-11-15 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1973 Islam and Politics in East Africa August H. Nimtz, Jr., 1980-12-22 Islam and Politics in East Africa was first published in 1980 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Focusing on the interplay of religion society and politics August Nimtz examines the role of sufi tariqas brotherhoods in Tanzania where he observed an African Muslim society at first hand Nimtz opens this book with a historical account of Islam in East Africa and in subsequent chapters analyzes the role of tariqas in Tanzania and more specifically in the coastal city of Bagamoyo Using a conceptual framework derived from contemporary political theories on social cleavages and individual interests Nimtz explains why the tariqa is important in the process of political change The fundamental cleavage in Muslim East Africa he notes is that of whites versus blacks Nimtz contends that the tariqas in serving the interest of blacks that is Africans became in turn vehicles for the mass mobilization of African Muslims during the anti colonial struggle In Bagamoyo he finds a similar process and in addition reveals that the tariqas have served African interests in opposition to those of whites because of the individual benefits they provide At the same time Nimtz concludes the social structure of East African Muslim society has ensured that Africans would be particularly attracted to these benefits This work will interest both observers of African political development and specialists in the Islamic studies

Muslim Interpreters in Colonial Senegal, 1850-1920 Tamba M'bayo, 2016-07-01 This book investigates the lives and careers of Muslim African interpreters employed by the French colonial administration in Saint Louis Senegal from the 1850s to the early 1920s It focuses on the lower and middle Senegal River valley in northern Senegal where the French concentrated most of their activities in West Africa during the nineteenth century The Muslim interpreters performed multiple roles as mediators military and expeditionary guides emissaries diplomatic hosts and treaty negotiators As cultural and political powerbrokers that straddled the colonial divide they were indispensable for French officials in their relations with African rulers and the local population As such a central concern of this book is the paradoxical and often contradictory roles the interpreters played in mediating between the French and Africans This book argues that the Muslim interpreters exemplified a paradox while serving the French administration they pursued their own interests and defended those of their local communities In doing so the interpreters strove to maintain some degree of autonomy Moreover this book contends that the interpreters occupied a vantage position as mediators to influence the construction of colonial discourse and knowledge because they channeled the flow of information between the French and the African population Thus Muslim interpreters had
