"Must We All Die?" Robert Fortune,2005-01-01 Robert Fortune is Clinical Professor of Family Medicine at the University of Washington School of Medicine Nursing History Review, Volume 15, 2007 Patricia D'Antonio, RN, PhD, FAAN,2006-09-18 Nursing History Review an annual peer reviewed publication of the American Association for the History of Nursing is a showcase for the most significant current research on nursing history Regular sections include scholarly articles over a dozen book reviews of the best publications on nursing and health care history that have appeared in the past year and a section abstracting new doctoral dissertations on nursing history Historians researchers and individuals interested with the rich field of nursing will find this an important resource Tuberculosis in the Americas, 1870-1945 Vera Blinn Reber,2018-09-27 This book focuses on the era during which the cause of tuberculosis had been identified and public health officials were seeking to prevent it but scientists had not yet found a cure By examining tuberculosis comparatively in two Atlantic port cities Buenos Aires and Philadelphia it explores the medical political and economic settings in which patients physicians and urban officials lived and worked Reber discusses the causes of tuberculosis treatments and public health efforts to stop contagion and how factors such as gender age class nationality beliefs and previous experiences shaped patient responses and often defined the type of treatment Mission of Change in Southwest Alaska Ann Fienup-Riordan,2012-05-15 Mission of Change is an oral history describing various types of change political social cultural and religious as seen through the eyes of Father Astruc and Paul Dixon non Natives who dedicated their lives to working with the Yup ik people Their stories are framed by the an analytic history of regional changes together with current anthropological theory on the nature of cultural change and the formation of cultural identity The book presents a subtle and emotionally moving account of the region and the roles of two men both of whom view issues from a Catholic perspective yet are closely attuned to and involved with changes in the Yup ik community Health Transitions in Arctic Populations Peter Bjerregaard,T. Kue Young,2008-06-28 The Arctic regions are inhabited by diverse populations both indigenous and non indigenous Health Transitions in Arctic Populations describes and explains changing health patterns in these areas how particular patterns came about and what can be done to improve the health of Arctic peoples This study correlates changes in health status with major environmental social economic and political changes in the Arctic T Kue Young and Peter Bjerregaard seek commonalities in the experiences of different peoples while recognizing their considerable diversity They focus on five Arctic regions Greenland Northern Canada Alaska Arctic Russia and Northern Fennoscandia offering a general overview of the geography history economy population characteristics health status and health services of each The discussion moves on to specific indigenous populations Inuit Dene and Sami major health determinants and outcomes and finally an integrative examination of what can be done to improve the health of circumpolar peoples Health Transitions in Arctic Populations offers both an examination of key health issues in the north and a vision for the future of Arctic inhabitants

When Disease Came to this Country Liza Piper, 2023-08-10 A revisionist history of epidemic disease as experienced by northern Indigenous peoples in present day Canada's Yukon and Northwest Territories between 1860 and 1940 Liza Piper connects the history of epidemics in northern North America to persistent health disparities arising from settler colonialism

Alaska Native Art Susan W. Fair, 2006 The rich artistic traditions of Alaska Natives are the subject of this landmark volume which examines the work of the premier Alaska artists of the twentieth century Ranging across the state from the islands of the Bering Sea to the interior forests Alaska Native Art provides a living context for beadwork and ivory carving basketry and skin sewing Examples of work from Tlingit Aleutian Islanders Pacific Eskimo Athabaskan Yupik and Inupiaq artists make this volume the most comprehensive study of Alaskan art ever published Alaska Native Art examines the concept of tradition in the modern world Alaska Native Art is a volume to treasure a tribute to the incredible vision of Alaska's artists and to the enduring traditions of all of Alaska's Native peoples

A Dangerous Idea Peter Metcalfe, 2014-11-15 One of America's oldest civil rights organizations the Alaska Native Brotherhood set out to win citizenship for all Alaska Natives After securing the basic rights of voting and education in the 1920s they continued the campaign for full civil rights and at the 1929 Grand Camp Convention in Haines took up the banner of aboriginal claims The fight for a fair settlement to those claims from 1929 to 1971 proved to be the organization's longest and most complex battle They had to first establish the basis for aboriginal claims then win an equitable settlement Since enacted in 1971 the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act has played a dominant role in the emergence of Alaska Natives as fully vested citizens of the 49th State Of national significance a section of ANCSA made possible the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act of 1980 which assigned wilderness protection to over 80 million acres of Alaska at the same time doubling the acreage within the national park system But without the Alaska Native Brotherhood it is unlikely there would ever have been a significant Native claims settlement During the Alaska Statehood Movement only the ANB and its allies stood in the way of government attempts to extinguish or prematurely settle aboriginal claims This book tells the story of the men and many women who found a way to win recognition of their indigenous rights using the government's own court system Their strategies and tactics led to rare successes for Native Americans their nearly two hundred year effort to define and protect their rights under US constitutional law

Global Indigenous Health Robert Henry, Amanda LaVallee, Nancy Van Styvendale, Robert Alexander Innes, 2018-10-30 Indigenous peoples globally have a keen understanding of their health and wellness through traditional knowledge systems In the past traditional understandings of health often intersected with individual community and environmental relationships of well being creating an equilibrium of living well However colonization and the imposition of colonial policies regarding health justice and the environment have dramatically impacted Indigenous peoples health Building on Indigenous knowledge systems of health and critical decolonial theories the volume's contributors who are academic and community researchers from Canada the United States Sweden and New Zealand weave a narrative to explore issues of Indigenous health within four broad themes ethics and history environmental and ecological health impacts of colonial violence on kinship and Indigenous knowledge and health activism Chapters also explore how Indigenous peoples are responding to both the health crises in their communities and the ways for non Indigenous people to engage in building positive health outcomes with Indigenous communities Global Indigenous Health is unique and timely as it deals with the historical and ongoing traumas associated with colonization and colonialism understanding Indigenous concepts of health and healing and ways of moving forward for health equity Contributors Sharon Leslie Acoose Seth Adema Peter Butt John E Charlton Colleen Anne Dell Debra Dell Paul DePasquale Judy A Dow C Randy Duncan Carina Fiedeldey Van Dijk Barbara Fornssler Chelsea Gabel Eleanor Louise Hadden Laura Hall Robert Henry Carol Hopkins Robert Alexander Innes Simon Lambert Amanda LaVallee Josh Levy Rachel Loewen Walker David B MacDonald Peter Menzies Christopher Mushquash David Mykota Nancy Poole Alicia Powell Ioana Radu Margo Rowan Mark F Ruml Caroline L Tait Lisa Tatonetti Margaretha Uttjek Nancy Van Styvendale The Oxford Handbook of Environmental History Andrew C.
