No Grazing For Sacred Cows:

Sacred Cow Diana Rodgers, Robb Wolf, 2020-07-14 PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER We're told that if we care about our health or our planet eliminating red meat from our diets is crucial. That beef is bad for us and cattle farming is horrible for the environment. But science says otherwise. Beef is framed as the most environmentally destructive and least healthy of meats. We're often told that the only solution is to reduce or quit red meat entirely. But despite what anti-meat groups, vegan celebrities, and some health experts say, plant-based agriculture is far from a perfect solution. In Sacred Cow, registered dietitian Diana Rodgers and former research biochemist and New York Times bestselling author Robb Wolf explore the quandaries we face in raising and eating animals, focusing on the largest and most maligned of farmed animals: the cow. Taking a critical look at the assumptions and misinformation about meat, Sacred Cow points out the flaws in our current food system and in the proposed solutions. Inside, Rodgers and Wolf reveal contrarian but science-based findings such as meat and animal fat are essential for our bodies. A sustainable food system cannot exist without animals. A vegan diet may destroy more life than sustainable cattle farming. Regenerative cattle ranching is one of our best tools at mitigating climate change. You'll also find practical guidance on how to support sustainable farms and a 30-day challenge to help you transition to a healthful and conscientious diet. With scientific rigor, deep compassion, and wit, Rodgers and Wolf argue unequivocally that meat, done right, should have a place on the table. It's not the cow; it's the how.

No Grazing for Sacred Cows Noel Francisco, 1999

The provocative ponderings and questions of a modern-day prophet will arouse the reader/listener from an easy acceptance of ready-made explanations of what may be called the good life. Each of these vignettes, presented as questions and ponderings, is a launching pad for a sermon, a group discussion, or personal reflection and growth. Through a lifelong commitment to the classroom and a careful examination of the institutions of our times, Dr. Francisco reaches through the disillusionment spread across American culture for the past forty years to consider values and restore a reasoned foundation upon which we can build anew. Dr. Francisco's style is easy, almost casual, but the questions he poses will keep you on the edge of your chair. This book is a must-read. Clyde O. Rogers, Executive Director, retired, Duluth Bethel Society. Dr. Francisco is a distinguished teacher who combines dispassionate scholarly discipline with passion for human culture. Look, and you will find the incisive critique, the prophetic bit, on nearly every page. Watch out, Paul Nicely, Emeritus Professor, Methodist Theological School in Ohio. If you are questioning the values that are pushed at us today and wondering if you are alone, this book is for you. Dr. Francisco addresses social and spiritual issues that plague us and reduces them to manageable dimensions. This book will make you think. Bonnie C. McNurlen, Ed.D., Des Moines, Iowa. Noel Francisco earned the A.B., M.A., and B.D. degrees from Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, and his Ph.D. from Duke University, Durham, North Carolina. He has taught sociology at Albion College, Albion, Michigan; Millikin University, Decatur, Illinois; Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pennsylvania; and the University of Wisconsin-Superior, Superior, Wisconsin. He has directed the Lycoming Center for the Study of Democratic
