O the Chimneys; Selected Poems, Including the Verse Play, Eli. Translated From the German by Michael

Hamburger And Others Nelly Sachs, 1967 Translation as Transhumance Mireille Gansel, 2017-11-20 Mireille Gansel grew up in the traumatic aftermath of her family losing everything including their native languages to Nazi Germany In the 1960s and 70s she translated poets from East Berlin and Vietnam Gansel s debut conveys the estrangement every translator experiences by moving between tongues and muses on how translation becomes an exercise of empathy between those in exile The Power of Witnessing Nancy R. Goodman, Marilyn B. Meyers, 2012-08-21 Witnessing comes in as many forms as the trauma that gives birth to it The Holocaust undeniably one of the greatest traumatic events in recent human history still resonates into the twenty first century The echoes that haunt those who survived continue to reach their children and others who did not share the experience directly In what ways is this massive trauma processed and understood both for survivors and future generations The answer as deftly illustrated by Nancy Goodman and Marilyn Meyers lies in the power of witnessing the act of acknowledging that trauma took place coupled with the desire to share that knowledge with others to build a space in which to reveal confront and symbolize it As the contributors to this book demonstrate testimonial writing and memoir artwork poetry documentary theater and even the simple recollection of a memory are ways that honor and serve as forms of witnessing Each chapter is a fusion of narrative and metaphor that exists as evidence of the living mind that emerges amid the dead spaces produced by mass trauma creating a revelatory transformational space for the terror of knowing and the possibility for affirmation of hope courage and endurance in the face of almost unspeakable evil Additionally the power of witnessing is extended from the Holocaust to contemporary instances of mass trauma and to psychoanalytic treatments proving its efficacy in the dyadic relationship of everyday practice for both patient and analyst The Holocaust is not an easy subject to approach but the intimate and personal stories included here add up to an act of witnessing in and of itself combining the past and the present and placing the trauma in the realm of knowing sharing and understanding Contributors Harriet Basseches Elsa Blum Bridget Conley Zilkic Paula Ellman Susan Elmendorf George Halasz Geoffrey Hartman Renee Hartman Elaine Neumann Kulp Shabad Dori Laub Clemens Loew Gail Humphries Mardirosian Margit Meissner Henri Parens Arlene Kramer Richards Arnold Richards Sophia Richman Katalin Roth Nina Shapiro Perl Myra Sklarew Ervin Staub The Jewish Holocaust Marty Bloomberg, Buckley Barry Barrett, 1995-01-01 This expanded edition of the guide to major books in English on the Holocaust is organized into ten subject areas reference materials European antisemitism background materials the Holocaust years Jewish resistance The Sister from Below Naomi Ruth Lowinsky, 2009 Who is She this Sister from Below She s certainly not about the ordinary business of life work shopping making dinner She speaks from other realms If you ll allow She ll whisper in your ear lead your thoughts astray fill you with

Examines the responses of German Jewish writers to the geographical and cultural displacement that is one of the lasting consequences of the Holocaust When Paul Celan was charged with plagiarism in 1960 the ensuing public debate in West Germany threw the poet into a major personal crisis even though most German critics immediately came to his defense This crisis coincided with a transformative moment in the history of Holocaust remembrance its first generational reimagining in the wake of a number of highly publicized criminal trials Words from Abroad takes its lead from this disjunction between public ritual and private crisis to chart the emergence of a new literary diaspora examining German Jewish writers who were dislocated in the course of World War II and began rewriting their own displacement more than a decade after the war The idea of diaspora had ceased to be a constructive element of Jewish culture in Germany during the nineteenth century process of emancipation and assimilation though this book argues that it becomes crucial in articulating the possibility of German Jewish identity after the Holocaust Along with the works of Paul Celan Words from Abroad examines selected German Jewish writers such as Peter Weiss and Nelly Sachs The study of these authors is framed by theoretical reflections on the play of distance and proximity in German Jewish intellectuals after the Holocaust including Theodor W Adorno Jean Améry and Günther Anders Drawing on postcolonial theory diaspora studies trauma theory and psychoanalytical theory author Katja Garloff offers an original and nuanced reading of the way in which these writers in the wake of the Holocaust experienced and variously created a vision of dispersion as both traumatic and productive Words from Abroad is an important tool in investigating the works of these German Jewish writers and thinkers but it is also a contribution to the interdisciplinary scholarship on trauma and displacement itself

Literature of the Holocaust Alan Rosen, 2013-11-14 During and in the aftermath of the dark period of the Holocaust writers across Europe and America sought to express their feelings and experiences through their writings This book provides a comprehensive account of these writings through essays from expert scholars covering a wide geographic linguistic thematic and generic range of materials Such an overview is particularly appropriate at a time when the corpus of Holocaust literature has grown to immense proportions and when guidance is needed in determining a canon of essential readings a context to interpret them and a paradigm for the evolution of writing on the Holocaust The expert contributors to this volume who negotiate the literature in the original languages provide insight into the influence of national traditions and the importance of language especially but not exclusively Yiddish and Hebrew to the literary response arising from the Holocaust

"The Space of Words" Jennifer Miller Hoyer, 2014

Nelly Sachs 1891 1970 has long been regarded as one of the most significant Holocaust poets Her conception of language and words as a landscape has been understood by scholars and critics as an exilic ersatz Heimat for the lost German homeland of a displaced poet This reading however is based entirely on her postwar poems Such an isolated approach to her complex body of work is increasingly historically problematic it is also at odds with Sachs s generally cyclical poetic process In The Space of Words Jennifer Hoyer offers the first sustained critical analysis of Sachs s largely unanalyzed prewar poetry and prose as well as the first analysis that examines structural and thematic ties between the prewar works and the Nobel Prize winning postwar poetry Through close readings of both Sachs s prewar and postwar works Hoyer reveals a diasporic rather than exilic conception of the landscape of language a position of constant wandering rather than static longing for return This diasporic poetics promotes the intellectual and linguistic power of the wanderer and opens new insights into Sachs s essential significance as a Holocaust poet and a twentieth century German Jewish writer wary of the link of literary language to geopolitics and the narrative of nations Jennifer M Hoyer is Assistant Professor of German at the University of Arkansas

The Jewish Diaspora in Latin America and the Caribbean Kristin Ruggiero, 2010-04-07 Provides a view of Jewish experiences through history literature painting anthropology poetry sociology and politics This title explores and celebrates what it means to have and live memories of an individual and a collective Jewishness and reveals the historical fragments of the Jewish experience in Latin America and the Caribbean

Encyclopedia of the Literature of Empire Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2010 Examines the world s greatest literature about empires and imperialism including more than 200 entries on writers classic works themes and concepts

Facing Fascism and Confronting the Past Elke P. Frederiksen, Martha Kaarsberg Wallach, 2000-06-01 Examines German women s literary and cultural representations of the Nazi era

The Holocaust and the Nonrepresentable David Patterson, 2018-05-22 Many books focus on issues of Holocaust representation but few address why the Holocaust in particular poses such a representational problem David Patterson draws from Emmanuel Levinas s contention that the Good cannot be represented He argues that the assault on the Good is equally nonrepresentable and this nonrepresentable aspect of the Holocaust is its distinguishing feature Utilizing Jewish religious thought Patterson examines how the literary word expresses the ineffable and how the photographic image

manifests the invisible Where the Holocaust is concerned representation is a matter not of imagination but of ethical implication not of what it was like but of what must be done Ultimately Patterson provides a deeper understanding of why the Holocaust itself is indefinable not only as an evil but also as a fundamental assault on the very categories of good and evil affirmed over centuries of Jewish teaching and testimony
