Open Church:

The Open Church Michael Novak, 2017-07-05 Michael Novak's eyewitness report on the second and pivotal session of Vatican II in 1964 vividly interweaves pageantry politics and theology. An unusually well-informed lay intellectual who had earned a theological degree just before the Council, Novak applauded the purposes of Pope John XXIII and his successor Paul VI to throw open the windows of the church. In this report he coined the classic description of the foes of the reforms at Vatican II as the party of nonhistorical orthodoxy emphasizing the eternal and unchanging, neglecting history and contingency. The author recounts many moments of high drama: Pope Paul VI's opening speech, the vote on the collegiality of bishops, the plea of Cardinal Bea on behalf of the chapter on Jews, and Bishop De Smedt's defense of religious freedom. His colorful chapter on the American bishops in 1964 serves as a fascinating benchmark, as do his many insights into the new role of the laity. His final chapter is a moving tribute to the Open Church engaging the contemporary world, and his new introduction brings this report up to date. This work will be of compelling interest to those interested in the post-conciliar fall of Communism under the great John Paul II, who took his name from his two predecessors at Vatican II. The winner of the million-dollar Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion, 1994, Michael Novak is a theologian, author, and former U.S. ambassador. He currently holds the George Frederick Jewett Chair in Religion and Public Policy at the American Enterprise Institute in Washington, D.C., where he is director of social and political studies. His writings have appeared in every major Western language and in Chinese, Bengali, Korean, and Japanese. Despite its long history in China and its significant indigenization or intertwinement with Chinese society and culture, Christianity continues to generate suspicion among political elites and intense debates among broader communities within China. This unique book applies socio-cultural methods in the study of contemporary Christianity. Through a wide range of empirical analyses of the complex and highly diverse experience of Christianity in contemporary China, it examines the fraught processes by which various forms and practices of Christianity interact with the Chinese social, political, and cultural spheres. Contributions by top scholars in the field are structured in the following sections: Enchantment, Nation and History; Civil Society and Negotiating Boundaries. This book offers a major contribution to the field and provides a timely, wide-ranging assessment of Christianity in Contemporary China. The Religious Lives of Older Laywomen Abby Day, 2017

The Religious Lives of Older Laywomen draws on ethnographic fieldwork cross cultural comparisons and relevant theories exploring the beliefs identities and practices of Generation A Anglican laywomen born in the 1920s and 1930s Now in their 70s 80s and 90s they are often described as the backbone of the Church and likely its final active generation The prevalence of laywomen in mainstream Christian congregations is a widely accepted phenomenon that will cause little surprise amongst the research community or Christian adherents What is surprising is that we know so little about them Generation A laywomen have remained largely invisible in previous work on institutional religion in Euro American countries particularly as the focus on religion and gender has turned to youth sexuality and priesthood Female Christian Generation A is on the cusp of a catastrophic decline in mainstream Christianity that accelerated during the post war post 1945 age The age profile of mainstream Christianity represents an increasingly aging pattern with Generation A not being replaced by their children or grandchildren the Baby Boomers and generations X Y and Z Generation A is irreplaceable and unique Generation shares specific values beliefs behaviors and orientations therefore when this generation finally disappears within the next five to 10 years their knowledge insights and experiences will be lost forever Abby Day both documents and interprets their religious lives and what we can learn about them and more widely about contemporary Christianity and its future Trends ,1988

Maya Christians and Their Churches in Sixteenth-Century Belize Elizabeth Graham,2020-03-17 It is widely held that Christianity came to Belize as an extension of the conquest of Yucatan and that adherence to Christian belief and practice was abandoned in the absence of enduring Spanish authority An alternative view comes from the excavations of Maya churches at Tipu and Lamanai which show that the dead were buried in Christian churchyards long after the churches themselves fell into disuse and pre Columbian ritual objects were cached in Christian sacred spaces both during and after Spanish occupation Excavations also reveal that the architectural style of these early churches is Franciscan in inspiration but nonetheless the product of continuing community efforts at construction and repair A conclusion difficult to ignore is that the Maya of Tipu and Lamanai considered themselves Christians with or without Spanish presence Viewing historical and archaeological data through the lens of her personal experience of Roman Catholicism and informed by feminist approaches Elizabeth Graham assesses the concept of religion the significance of doctrine the empowerment of the individual and the process of conversion by examining the meanings attributed to ideas objects and images by the Maya by Iberian Christians and by archaeologists Graham s provocative study also makes the case that the impact of Christianity in Belize was a phenomenon that uniquely shaped the development of the modern nation A volume in the series Maya Studies edited by Diane Z Chase and Arlen F Chase Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 ,2004 A Master Class on Being Human Anthony Pinn,Brad Braxton,2023-07-25 A conversation between 2 eminent Black thinkers on how to work together to make the world a better place despite deep religious differences Brad Braxton and Anthony Pinn represent two traditions Christianity and Secular Humanism respectively that have for centuries existed in bitter opposition For too long people with different worldviews have disparaged and harmed one another Instead of fighting each other Braxton and Pinn talk with listen to and learn from one another Their wide ranging conversation demonstrates the possibility of fruitful exchange that accounts for rather than masks their differences Written amid the Covid 19 pandemic threats to our democracy and national protests for racial justice A Master Class on Being Human shows us that constructive dialogue can help us pursue the common good without sacrificing our distinctive identities In conversations that are frank personal and deeply informed by scholarship Braxton and Pinn discuss topics that are urgent and immediate such as the ongoing violence against Black communities the rise of religiously unaffiliated communities the Black Lives Matter movement They also ponder those broader philosophical and theological questions that inform our politics and sense of what it means to be human the meaning of religion the stubborn dilemma of moral evil the power and problems of hope Braxton and Pinn invite us to join them in a master class as they strive to create a world where differences are not tolerated but instead celebrated In that kind of courageous classroom all can learn how to be better people who in turn transform the world into a better place

Catholicism Opening to the World and Other Confessions Vladimir Latinovic, Gerard Mannion, Jason Welle, O.F.M., 2019-01-08 This volume explores how Catholicism began and continues to open its doors to the wider world and to other confessions in embracing ecumenism thanks to the vision and legacy of the Second Vatican Council It explores such themes as the twentieth century context preceding the council parallels between Vatican II and previous councils its distinctively pastoral character the legacy of the council in relation to issues such as church world dynamics as well as to ethics social justice economic activity Several chapters discuss the role of women in the church before during and since the council Others discern inculturation in relation to Vatican II The book also contains a wide and original range of ecumenical considerations of the council including by and in relation to Free Church Reformed Orthodox and Anglican perspectives Finally it considers the Council s ongoing promise and remaining challenges with regard to ecumenical issues including a groundbreaking essay on the future of ecumenical dialogue by Cardinal Walter Kasper

The Primitive Church Magazine ,1847 The Outlook Lyman Abbott, Hamilton Wright Mabie, Ernest Hamlin Abbott, Francis Rufus Bellamy, 1908 Developing Faithful Ministers Tim Ling, 2013-01-25 Developing Faithful Ministers aims to support the work of all those involved in supervision and training relationships within the Church The Church recognising its call to serve God and the nation seeks to equip and develop its ministers to face the challenge of ministry in a society at the threshold of Christendom that is in a mission context It is a context where both the general public and the institutional church have significant expectations of those in ministry Indeed there is now an expectation of demonstrable capability prior to being licensed to any form of permanent tenure The demand for more professional demonstrably capable mission able and collaborative licensed ministers places particular weight on the efficacy of the initial training relationship Developing Faithful Ministers seeks to support those who find themselves in these relationships by offering both models of
