Open Marxism Volume 1:

Open Marxism: Dialectics and history Werner Bonefeld, Richard Gunn, Kosmas Psychopedis, 1992 Through a series of interconnected articles this book makes available a range of international authors for an English readership Topics covered include Marxism and political economy historical materialism dialectics state theory class crisis fetishism and the periodization of capitalist development Open Marxism, Volume 1 Werner Bonefeld, Richard Gunn, Kosmas

Psychopedis, 1992-09-28 In this study distinguished international contributors project an open Marxism a rejection of the determinism and positivism which characterise so much of contemporary left wing thought Open Marxism, Volume 3

Werner Bonefeld, Richard Gunn, John Holloway, Kosmas Psychopedis, 1995-06-01 Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory Mike Cole, Dave Hill, Peter McLaren, 2002-12-11 Postmodernism has become the orthodoxy in educational theory It heralds the end of grand theories like Marxism and liberalism scorning any notion of a united feminist challenge to patriarchy of united anti racist struggle and of united working class movements against capitalist exploitation and oppression For postmodernists the world is fragmented history is ended and all struggles are local and particularistic Written by internationally renowned British and American educational theorists Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory a substantially revised edition of the original 1999 work Postmodernism in Educational Theory critically examines the infusion of postmodernism and theories of postmodernity into educational theory policy and research The writers argue that postmodernism provides neither a viable educational politics nor the foundation for effective radical educational practice and offer an alternative politics of human resistance which puts the challenge to capitalism firmly on the agenda of educational theory politics and practice Marx's Concept of the Alternative to Capitalism Peter Hudis, 2012-07-25 This is the first book length study of Marx's concept of the alternative to capitalism It shows that his critique of capital flowed from a commitment to a specific vision of the kind of human relations that define a new society The Ethics of Neoliberalism Peter Bloom, 2017-06-26 The 21st century is the age of neo liberalism a time when the free market is spreading to all areas of economic political and social life Yet how is this changing our individual and collective ethics Is capitalism also becoming our new morality From the growing popular demand for corporate social responsibility to personal desire for work life balance it would appear that non market ideals are not only surviving but also thriving Why then does it seem that capitalism remains as strong as ever The Ethics of Neoliberalism boldly proposes that neoliberalism strategically co opts traditional ethics to ideologically and structurally strengthen capitalism It produces the ethical capitalist subject who is personally responsible for making their society workplace and even their lives more ethical in the face of an immoral but seemingly permanent free market Rather than altering our morality neoliberalism individualizes ethics making us personally responsible for dealing with and resolving its moral failings In doing so individuals end up perpetuating the very market system that they morally oppose and feel powerless to ultimately change This analysis reveals the complex and paradoxical way capitalism is currently shaping us as ethical subjects People are increasingly asked to ethically save capitalism both collectively and personally This can range from the moral responsibility to politically accept austerity following the financial crisis to the willingness of employees to sacrifice their time and energy to make their neoliberal organizations more humane to the efforts by individuals to contribute to their family and communities despite the pressures of a frantic global business environment Neoliberalism thus uses our ethics against us relying on our good nature and sense of personal responsibility to reduce its human cost in practice Ironically

Against Value in the Arts and Education Sam Ladkin, Robert McKay, Emile Bojesen, 2016-05-18 Against Value in the Arts and Education proposes that it is often the staunchest defenders of art who do it the most harm by suppressing or mollifying its dissenting voice by neutralizing its painful truths and by instrumentalizing its ambivalence The result is that rather than expanding the autonomy of thought and feeling of the artist and the audience art's defenders make art self-satisfied or otherwise an echo chamber for the limited and limiting self-description of people's lives lived in an audit culture a culture pervaded by the direct and indirect excrescence of practices of accountability This book diagnoses the counter-intuitive effects of the rhetoric of value It posits that the auditing of values pervades the fabric of people's work lives their education and increasingly their everyday experience The book uncovers figures of resentment disenchantment and alienation fostered by the dogma of value It argues instead that value judgments can behave insidiously and incorporate aesthetic ethical or ideological values fundamentally opposed to the value they purportedly name and describe The collection contains contributions from leading scholars in the UK and US with contributions from anthropology the history of art literature education musicology political science and philosophy

The Romanian Mass Media and Cultural Development David

Berry,2017-07-05 This compelling book assesses the development of the mass media since the Romanian Revolution in December 1989 and the media's impact on cultural development the public sphere civil society and democracy It controversially claims that Romania's failure to experience a thoroughgoing enlightenment project in its entire history remains a major obstacle for producing democratic ownership of the media and democratic development of society Analyzing both the print and broadcast media and their respective effects on development the book also discusses the effects of Romanian law on media and societal development ethics and media responsibilities It concludes however that far from having an absolutely negative impact on Romanian post communism the media has helped produce a contradictory empirical form that equally contains positive moments in terms of subjective cultural development The Spectre of Capital: Idea and Reality Christopher J. Arthur,2022-07-18 What is money What is capital The Spectre of Capital tackles such fundamental questions at a deep philosophical level It argues that the modern world is ruled by a spectre the spectre of capital This insight is rooted in an original combination of the ideas of Marx and Hegel It presents the most sophisticated argument to date for the homology thesis namely that the order of Hegel's logical categories and that of the social forms addressed by Marx's Capital share the same architectonic The systematic dialectical presentation shows how capital becomes a self sustaining power Struggling for a Social Europe Andy Mathers,2016-04-01 Protests at summit meetings have inspired intense debate over the nature and significance of the anti globalization or anti capitalist movement However the European dimension of this movement is still largely unknown In this insightful book Andy Mathers addresses this deficit by focusing on events that have marked the birth of a European social movement He relates the development of the movement to key matters such as economic employment and welfare state restructuring along neoliberal lines He also challenges ideas about the nature of contemporary collective action and the character of present day social movements Mathers discusses the significance of the movement and its future development through a critical engagement with the work of major writers in European sociology and of academics influential in the wider global movement such as Pierre Bourdieu A postscript brings readers fully up to date with developments in the type of social Europe propagated by the institutions of the EU as well as in the maturation of a social movement to oppose it Global Economic Crisis as Social Hieroglyphic Christos Memos,2021-04-14 This book examines the 2008 global economic crisis as a complex social phenomenon or social hieroglyphic arguing that the crisis is not fundamentally economic despite presenting itself as such Instead it is considered to be a symptom of a long standing multifaceted and endemic crisis of capitalism which has effectively become permanent leading contemporary capitalist societies into a state of social regression manifest in new forms of barbarism The author offers a qualitative understanding of the economic crisis as the perversion or inversion of the capitalistically organized social relations The genesis of the current crisis is traced back to the unresolved world crisis surrounding the Great Depression in order to map the course and different inverted forms of the continuous global crisis of capitalism and to reveal their inner connections as derivative of the same social constitution From a historical and interdisciplinary perspective the book expounds critical social theory elaborating on the intersection between the early critical theory of the Frankfurt School mainly Adorno Horkheimer and Marcuse and the social form analysis of the Open Marxism school Global Economic Crisis as Social Hieroglyphic critically addresses the permanent character of the 1920s 1930s crisis and the crisis theory debates the political crisis in Eastern Europe 1953 1968 the crisis of Keynesianism the crisis of subversive reason the crisis negative anthropology and transformations of the bourgeois individual the state of social regression and the destructive tendencies after the rise of neoliberalism and finally the 2008 financial crisis and its ongoing aftermath

The Alienated Academic Richard Hall, 2018-08-25 Higher education is increasingly unable to engage usefully with global emergencies as its functions are repurposed for value Discourses of entrepreneurship impact and excellence realised through competition and the market mean that academics and students are increasingly alienated from themselves and their work This book applies Marx's concept of alienation to the realities of academic life in the Global North in order to explore how the idea of public education is subsumed under the law of value In a landscape of increased commodification of higher education the book explores the relationship between alienation and crisis before analysing how academic knowledge work identity and life are themselves alienated Finally it argues that through indignant struggle another world is possible grounded in alternative forms of organising life and producing socially useful knowledge ultimately requiring the abolition of academic labour This pioneering work will be of interest and value to all those working in the higher education sector as well as those concerned with the rise of neoliberalism and marketization within universities

Turkey Reframed İsmet Akça, Ahmet Bekmen, Barış Alp Özden, 2013-12-06 The first decade of the 2000s was a period of radical change in Turkish society and politics marked by the major economic crisis of 2001 and the coming to power of ex Islamist cadres organised under the Justice and Development Party AKP As the Turkish model gains traction across the Middle East this chronicle of Turkey's recent history dispels some important myths This period of radical change with its continuities and breaks pays close attention to the AKP the main actor in the creation of a neoliberal hegemony in post 1980 Turkey The contributors map relations between the AKP and the Kurdish people the evolution of Turkish nationalism under the AKP and look at how everyday politics from social welfare to housing have been effected by the AKP's stabilisation strategy What is revealed is modern Turkey's conflictual turbulent and painful recent histories which vary wildly from the national myths that sustain neoliberal hegemony in the country

Global Restructuring, State, Capital and Labour A. Bieler, W. Bonefeld, P. Burnham, A. Morton, 2006-04-26 This book provides a critical engagement between contending historical materialist approaches that have played a crucial role in shaping post positivist International Relations theory It analyzes globalization as a process of state formation and argues that its fate depends on the neo liberal recomposition of labour relations

Critiquing Capitalism Today Frederick Harry Pitts, 2017-10-17 This book critically introduces two compelling contemporary schools of Marxian thought the New Reading of Marx of Michael Heinrich and Werner Bonefeld and the postoperaismo of Antonio Negri Each stake novel claims on Marx's value theory the first revisiting key categories of the critique of political economy through Frankfurt School critical theory the second calling the law of value into crisis with reference to Marx's rediscovered Fragment on Machines Today postcapitalist conceptualisations of a changing workplace excite interest in postoperaist projections of a crisis of measurability sparked by so called immaterial labour Using the New Reading of Marx to question this prospectus Critiquing Capitalism Today clarifies complex debates for newcomers to these cutting edge currents of critical thought looking anew at value money labour class and crisis

The Bad Faith in the Free Market Peter Bloom, 2018-04-10 Innovatively combining existentialist philosophy with cutting edge post structuralist and psychoanalytic perspectives this book boldly reconsiders market freedom Bloom argues that present day capitalism has robbed us of our individual and collective ability to imagine and implement alternative and more progressive economic and social systems it has deprived us of our radical freedom to choose how we live and what we can become Since the Great Recession capitalism has been increasingly blamed for rising inequality and feelings of mass social and political alienation In place of a deeper liberty the free market offers subjects the opportunity to continually reinvest their personal and shared hopes within its dogmatic ideology and policies This embrace helps to temporarily alleviate growing feelings of anxiety and insecurity at the expense of our fundamental human agency What has become abundantly clear is that the free market is anything but free Here Bloom exposes our present day bad faith in the free market and how we can break free from it

Cyber-Marx Nick Dyer-Witheford, 1999 In this highly readable and thought provoking work Nick Dyer Witheford assesses the relevance of Marxism in our time and demonstrates how the information age far from transcending the historic conflict between capital and its laboring subjects constitutes the latest battleground in their encounter Dyer Witheford maps the dynamics of modern capitalism showing how capital depends for its operations not just on exploitation in the immediate workplace but on the continuous integration of a whole series of social sites and activities from public health and maternity to natural resource allocation and the geographical reorganization of labor power He also shows how these sites and activities may become focal points of subversion and insurgency as new means of communication vital for the smooth flow of capital also permit otherwise isolated and dispersed points of resistance to connect and combine with one another Cutting through the smokescreen of high tech propaganda Dyer Witheford predicts the advent of a reinvented autonomist Marxism that will rediscover the possibility of a collective communist transformation of society Refuting the utopian promises of the information revolution he discloses the real potentialities for a new social order in the form of a twenty first century communism based on the common sharing of wealth

Power, Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World Athina Karatzogianni, Andrew Robinson, 2009-10-16 This book examines issues of organisation in resistance movements discussing topics including the integration of the world system the intersection of networks with discourses of identity and the possibility of social transformation Drawing on a number of theorists including Deleuze and Guattari authors Athina Karatzogianni and Andrew Robinson seek to reinterpret World Systems Theory in order to engage with issues of power resistance and conflict in the contemporary world. Discussing contemporary scholarship in global politics, the authors consider new and developing concepts including global cities, bifurcations, hegemonic transitions, the relationship between capitalism and the state, the position of East Asia, and active and reactive network movements. Their analysis includes a very rich pool of empirical examples covering more than fifty countries and thirty resistance groups. Power Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World will be of interest to students and scholars looking for a comprehensive new theorization of the forces at work in global politics. The book provides a framework which crosses the boundaries between international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, conflict studies, social movement studies, and critical theory, producing a study of a highly interdisciplinary scope.
