Openings

Tell them why they should listen.

Closings

Don't just quit! The closing must have a clear cut call to action that prods listeners to do what you want.

Conclude with a call to action:

“Now that you know how dire the situation is and how little time we have, what are you going to do to help us make a difference in children's lives?”

Discourse and Language Education Evelyn Hatch, 1992-01-31 Discourse and Language Education offers a practical accessible discussion of discourse analysis Discourse analysis describes how such communication is structured so that it is socially appropriate and linguistically accurate This book gives practical experience in analyzing discourse and the study of written language The analyses show the ways we use linguistic signals to carry out our discourse goals and the differences between written and spoken language as well as across languages This text can be used as a manual in teacher education courses and linguistics and communications courses It will be of great interest to second language teachers foreign language teachers and special education teachers especially those involved with the hearing impaired A Sociolinguistic Study of Addressing, Openings and Closings in Contemporary Chinese Personal Letters 陈琳, 2008 259 Email Discourse Among Chinese Using English as a Lingua Franca Yuan-shan Chen, Der-Hwa Victoria Rau, Gerald Rau, 2015-10-24 This edited volume makes a valuable contribution to the burgeoning research field of English as a lingua franca In a pioneering step the collection is exclusively devoted to the English email discourse of Chinese speakers The studies address innovative topics related to various contexts and relationships using several different approaches and theories which taken together shed light on how English serves as a lingua franca in multiple types of global written communication The research topics presented are organized into four thematic sections including emails from students to professors emails from students to the international academic community emails from peer to peer and emails at the workplace This collection of empirical research invites readers to consider the special features of apologies requests terms of address politeness and discourse organization and how cultural differences may affect the use or interpretation of each Throughout the book readers will also discover how Chinese speakers use special features and strategies to construct their identity establish relationships and achieve successful communication in English This highly informative thought provoking book also provides insights on methods for teaching email discourse using English as a lingua franca and suggests directions for future research Mathematical Morphology and Its Applications to Image and Signal Processing Petros Maragos, Ronald W. Schafer, Muhammad Akmal Butt, 2012-12-06 Mathematical morphology MM is a powerful methodology for the quantitative analysis of geometrical structures It consists of a broad and coherent collection of theoretical concepts nonlinear signal operators and algorithms aiming at extracting from images or other geometrical objects information related to their shape and size Its mathematical origins stem from set theory lattice algebra and integral and stochastic geometry MM was initiated in the late 1960s by G Matheron and J Serra at the Fontainebleau School of Mines in France Originally it was applied to analyzing images from geological or biological specimens However its rich theoretical framework algorithmic efficiency easy implementability on special hardware and suitability for many shape oriented problems have propelled its widespread diffusion and adoption by many academic and industry groups in many countries as one among the dominant image analysis methodologies The purpose of Mathematical Morphology and its Applications to Image and Signal Processing is to provide the image analysis community with a sampling from the current developments in the theoretical deterministic and stochastic and computational aspects of MM and its applications to image and signal processing The book consists of the papers presented at the ISMM 96 grouped into the following themes Theory Connectivity Filtering Nonlinear System Related to Morphology Algorithms Architectures Granulometries Texture Segmentation Image Sequence Analysis Learning Document Analysis Applications

Roerdink, 2009-08-19 The 9th ISMM conference covered a very diverse collection of papers bound together by the central themes of mathematical morphology namely the treatment of images in terms of set and lattice theory Notwithstanding this central theme this ISMM showed increasing interaction with other elds of image and signal processing and several hybrid methods were presented which combine the strengths of traditional morphological methods with those of for example linear ltering This trend is particularly strong in the emerging eld of adaptive morphological ltering where the local shape of structuring elements is determined by non morphological techniques This builds on previous developments of PDE based methods in morphology and amoebas In segmentation we see similar advancements in the development of morphological active contours Even within morphology itself diversification is great and many new areas of research are being opened up In particular morphology of graph based and complex based image representations are being explored Likewise in the well established area of connected ltering we find new theory and new algorithms but also expansion into the direction of hyperconnected lters New advances in morphological machine learning multi valued and fuzzy morphology are also presented Notwithstanding the often highly theoretical reputation of mathematical morphology practitioners in this eld have always had an eye for the practical     Semi-Closed Openings in Action (Intermediate) Anatoly Karpov,Gary Karpov,1990-06-20 An ideal read for chess players looking to improve their understanding of the semi closed openings this book provides a unique insight into the way a top Grandmaster approaches opening theory In this fourth and concluding volume of Anatoly Karpov s semi closed openings series the most important developments in the Grunfeld Queen s Indian King s Indian and Nimzo Indian Defenses are explained and examined Each variation is analyzed in depth using complete games from recent Grandmaster play to illustrate how opening ideas are put into action in the middlegame and endgame
