Federal Communications Commission,1973 Holding Their Own III: Pedestals of Ash Joe Nobody,2012-09-18 Book three in Joe Nobody s popular series continues the saga of Bishop and Terri as their post apocalyptic world attempts to recover Caught up in a power struggle to lead the recovery the young couple are drawn away from their West Texas retreat and must use all of their skills to survive In the near future the government of the United States has all but ceased to exist The military controls some of the larger cities but its loyalties are divided between the President of the United States and a new growing organization called The Independents The Holding Their Own series by bestselling author Joe Nobody follows the adventures of a young couple as they survive in a world where anarchy prevails and society struggles to establish rule of law Holding Their Own VI: Bishop's Song Joe Nobody,2013-11-18 Book six of bestselling author Joe Nobody's saga continues the adventures of Bishop and Terri as the communities of the Alliance strive to improve the quality of life for all But the obstacles are many War looms on the horizon as treachery threatens to destroy everything they've worked so hard to build Bishop must survive the most challenging mission of his life navigating a post apocalyptic world that threatens danger at every step testing his will beyond anything he's ever imagined Maritime Security Operations Within the Department of Homeland Security United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Homeland Security. Subcommittee on Infrastructure and Border Security,2005 FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission,2017 Holding Their Own II Joe Nobody,2012-04-11 Combat Operations George L. MacGarrigle,1998 Combat Operations Taking the Offensive chronicles the onset of offensive operations by the U S Army after eighteen months of building up a credible force on the ground in South Vietnam and taking the first steps toward bringing the war to the enemy The compelling story by George L MacGarrigle begins in October 1966 when General William C Westmoreland believed that he had the arms and men to take the initiative from the enemy and that significant progress would be made on all fronts over the next twelve months Aware of American intentions North Vietnam undertook a prolonged war of attrition and stepped up the infiltration of its own troops into the South While the insurgency in the South remained the cornerstone of Communist strategy it was increasingly overshadowed by main force military operations These circumstances according to MacGarrigle set the stage for intensified combat The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units retained the advantage fighting only when it suited their purposes and retreating with impunity into inviolate sanctuaries in Laos and Cambodia With Westmoreland feeling hamstrung by political constraints on his ability to wage war in the vast hostile areas along the border 1967 ended with a growing uncertainty in the struggle to secure the countryside Relying on official American and enemy primary sources MacGarrigle has crafted a well balanced account of this year of intense combat His volume is a tribute to those who sacrificed so much in a long and irresolute conflict and Soldiers engaged in military operations that place great demands on their initiative skill and devotion will find its thought provoking lessons worthy of reflection
