evidenced by Colorado and Washington legalizing marijuana with the 2012 elections Encountering China Michael J. Sandel, Paul J. D'Ambrosio, 2018-01-08 In Michael Sandel the Chinese have found a guide through the ethical dilemmas created by their swift embrace of a market economy one whose communitarian ideas resonate with China's own rich ancient philosophical traditions This volume explores the connections and tensions revealed in this unlikely episode of Chinese engagement with the West Creating the Opium War Hao Gao, 2019-12-20 Creating the Opium War examines British imperial attitudes towards China during their early encounters from the Macartney embassy to the outbreak of the Opium War a deeply consequential event which arguably reshaped relations between China and the West in the next century It makes the first attempt to bring together the political history of Sino western relations and the cultural studies of British representations of China as a new way of explaining the origins of the conflict The book focuses on a crucial period 1792 1840 which scholars such as Kitson and Markley have recently compared in importance to that of American and French Revolutions By examining a wealth of primary materials some in more detail than ever before this study reveals how the idea of war against China was created out of changing British perceptions of the country Faces of Communities Sabrina Feickert, Anna Haut, Kathrin Sharaf, 2014-09-17 What are the constitutive elements of different forms of social relationships This volume includes contributions from a range of academic disciplines and case studies drawn from different cultures time periods and geographical spaces It does not only focus on practices and semantics of belonging but also takes a closer look at how communities and individual bonds are constantly re negotiated and disrupted The chapters discuss how communities come into being what gives them coherence how they deal with conflicts and challenges to their underlying structures and modes of self representation Institutions and Chinese Economic Development Li Tan, 2021-11-10 China's rise as an economic power has posed some challenging questions how did China achieve GDP growth that was even faster than the Four Asian Tigers Is the Chinese model superior Why hasn't the rapid economic growth led to democracy in the country as many observers expected And can China sustain its rapid economic growth with its existing social system Institutions and Chinese Economic Development A Comparative Historical Approach explores these questions by studying the historical relationship between institutions and economic development in China drawing comparisons with England Japan and other Asian economies as appropriate The investigation focuses on several junctures in China's economic development the starting point of the divergence between China and the West the externally provoked industrial development in the late 19th century and the contemporary Chinese Miracle The analysis foregrounds the role played by Chinese institutions and examines their effects on both the country's failure to industrialize in the past and its economic achievements in recent time The book also asks whether without reform to the existing state institutions China might still be subject to the historical dynastic cycles today despite its recent economic success This work is of great interest to students and scholars of the Chinese economy economic history and institutional economics as well as comparative history and Chinese studies more broadly Britain and the Narration of Travel in the Nineteenth Century Kate Hill, 2017-05-15 Interrogating the multiple ways in which travel was narrated and mediated by and in response to nineteenth century British travelers this interdisciplinary collection examines to what extent these accounts drew on and developed existing tropes of travel The three sections take up personal and intimate narratives that were not necessarily designed for public consumption tales intended for a popular audience and accounts that were more clearly linked with discourses and institutions of power such as imperial processes of conquest and governance Some narratives focus on the things the travelers carried such as souvenirs from the battlefields of Britain's imperial wars while others show the complexity of Victorian dreams of the exotic Still others offer a disapproving glimpse of Victorian mores through the eyes of indigenous peoples in contrast to the imperialist vision of British explorers Swiss hotel registers guest books and guidebooks offer insights into the history of tourism while new photographic technologies the development of the telegraph system and train travel transformed the visual aural and even the conjugal experience of travel The contributors attend to issues of gender and ethnicity in essays on women travelers South African travel narratives and accounts of China during the Opium Wars and analyze the influence of fictional travel narratives Taken together these essays show how these multiple narratives circulated cross fertilised and reacted to one another to produce new narratives new objects and new modes of travel
