Politicians, Poets & Con Men Burton Raffel, 1986 Elizabeth Bacon Custer and the Making of a Myth, 1998-09-01
Georger Armstrong Custer's death in 1876 at the Battle of the Little Big Horn left Elizabeth Bacon Custer a thirty four year old widow who was deeply in debt By the time she died fifty seven years later she had achieved economic security recognition as an author and lecturer and the respect of numerous public figures She had built the Custer legend an idealized image of her husband as a brilliant military commander and a family man without personal failings In Elizabeth Bacon Custer and the Making of a Myth Shirley A Leckie explores the life of Libbie a frontier army wife who willingly adhered to the social and religious restrictions of her day yet used her authority as model wife and widow to influence events and ideology far beyond the private sphere Eugene Field and His Age Lewis O. Saum, 2001-01-01 Eugene Field 1850-95 is perhaps best remembered for his children's verse especially Little Boy Blue and Wynken Blynken and Nod During his journalistic career however his column Sharps and Flats in the Chicago Daily News illuminated the shenanigans of local and national politics captured the excitement of baseball and praised the cultural scene of Chicago and the West over that of the East Coast and Europe Field used whimsy satire and at times unadorned admiration to depict and encapsulate the energy of a young nation reinventing itself and its political ambitions in the closing decades of the nineteenth century Foremost Field was a political observer During his lifetime politics saw more public awareness and involvement than at any other time in American history and Field's great popularity derived mainly from his near ceaseless commentary arch outlandish comic serious on that arena of affairs Field also devoted many columns to entertainment and diversions discussing the baseball idiocy that stormed Chicago and championing and criticizing authors and actors The Poker Bride Christopher Corbett, 2011-02-08 This true story of a concubine and the Gold Rush years delves deep into the soul of the real old west Erik Larson Once the discovery of gold at Sutter's Mill launched our national madness the population of California exploded Tens of thousands of Chinese lured by tales of a golden mountain took passage across the Pacific Among this massive influx were many young concubines who were expected to serve in the brothels sprouting up near the goldfields One of them adopted the name of Polly Bemis after an Idaho saloonkeeper Charlie Bemis won her in a poker game and married her For decades the couple lived on an isolated self sufficient farm near the Salmon River in central Idaho After her husband's death Polly came down to a nearby town and gradually spoke of her experiences Journalist Christopher Corbett movingly recounts Polly's story integrating Polly's personal history into the broader picture of the history of the mass immigration of Chinese As both a personal and social history this is an admirable book Booklist A gorgeously written and brilliantly researched saga of America during the mad flush of its biggest Gold Rush Christopher Corbett's genius is to anchor his larger story of Chinese immigration around a poor concubine named Polly A tremendous achievement Douglas Brinkley Uses Bemis's story as a platform for a larger discussion about the hardships of the Chinese experience in the American West The Washington Post
